Pet Gibbon Goes Ape, Deters Postman's Appointed Rounds

Gibbon apes should now be added to the old adage about neither sleet nor snow deterring the mail man in his appointed rounds.

David Southard, regular mail carrier for the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office learned this the hard way Tuesday. While stopped at Greenwood beach, he turned around in his delivery car to face the beady eyes of Melvin, a Gibbon ape belonging to Marie Beltz, 404 Tiburon Boulevard. Melvin had escaped from his cage.

Southard reports he wrestled Melvin to a draw but not before the neatly-organized mail had been reduced to utter chaos. When Melvin was returned home, Southard picked himself up, resorted the mail and finished his rounds almost on time.

Melvin came to live with Mrs. Beltz three years ago when he was one year old. He was a Christmas present from her husband.

He is about two feet tall and weighs 14 pounds.. Mrs. Beltz says he sits in a high chair to eat, wears clothes on occasion and likes to play on the interior beams of the house. His best friends are a dog and two Siamese cats.

Gibbons are a small ape with long arms and no tail. They are the smallest and least manlike of the anthropoids.

Mrs. Beltz is a first grade teacher at the John MacPhail School in Santa Venetia.

Heavy Storm Socks Great Lakes Area, Heads Toward Seaboard

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

A wintry storm today dumped deep, traffic-snarling snows from Lake Michigan to the Appalachians, sent an icy blast spearing into Dixie and threatened to slug the heavily populated North Atlantic seaboard.

Snow piled 12 inches deep in the West Virginia and Kentucky Mountains, and eight inches deep in Southwestern Virginia.

Drifts blocked many secondary roads in the Kentucky Mountains, where a foot of snow fell in the Upper Cumberland Valley and six inches in other areas.

Northern Indiana got five inches of snow, sections of Ohio six to seven inches, Western Pennsylvania five inches, Western Maryland seven inches.

A four-inch snowfall glazed roads in North Georgia. Flurries hit as far south as Alabama, South Carolina and Atlanta, Ga.

The Weather Bureau issued heavy snow warnings from the Lower Great Lakes southward to Virginia. The warnings covered Lower Michigan, Eastern Ohio, Western New York and Pennsylvania, all of West Virginia and parts of Virginia and Maryland.

The storm claimed at least 11 lives. Ohio counted three deaths attributed to the weather—two in traffic and one in a fire blamed on an overheated coal stove. Two children and a man who tried to rescue them burned to death at Nashville, Tenn., when a heater exploded in a home. Accidents on icy highways caused three deaths in Illinois, one in Michigan and one in Indiana.

Forecasters said the storm, concentrating its fury on the Central Appalachians, was expected to move north. Freeze and frost warnings were raised in Florida fruit and vegetable growing areas.

2 Kidnaping Suspects May Be Facing Death

Two men accused of a series of bank robberies involving the kidnaping of a Greenbrae family and a San Rafael man may face the death penalty.

A federal grand jury in San Francisco yesterday indicated James Bee Workman, 26, and Robert E. Leeps, 25, for six bank robberies in which $151,000 was taken.

In four of the robberies, according to the indictment, bank officials were technically kidnaped, which could lead to death sentences if a jury so decided. Asst. U. S. Atty. Frederick Woelflen refused to say whether the government would seek the death penalty.

Among the crimes with which Workman and Leeps are charged was the robbery of the Union-Webster branch of Bank of America on Nov. 10, 1961. Three gunmen held bank manager Joseph A. Finocchio and his family prisoners overnight at their home, 3 Via La Cumbre, Greenbrae. They also brought the assistant manager Henry Lupori and his family from Millbrae and held them at the Finocchio home. Next morning they took Lupori to the bank and took $62,693 from the vault.

On Aug. 28, 1961, it is charged that the pair robbed the San Francisco International Airport branch of Bank of America of $9,766.

During this robbery William N. Hartauer, 26, of 45 Martens Boulevard, San Rafael, was abducted and held captive in the trunk of a car. Hartauer, assistant controller of a restaurant chain at the airport, went to his car parked behind the bank, where he was seized by the bandits, forced into the trunk and driven to Burlingame Plaza Shopping Center, where the car was abandoned. Hartauer pried his way out and called police.

SUBJECT OF CLOSED SESSION?

Policeman Resigns In Novato

Novato police officer James Grassley, who joined the force on Oct. 23, 1961, six months after it was formed, has resigned.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget confirmed today that Grassley submitted his resignation last Friday. Baget would not say if this was the main subject of closed meeting of the Novato council Tuesday night.

Baget said the resignation was for "personal reasons." Grassley could not be reached for comment.

Grassley was the officer who demolished a police car in September when he overturned it on Ridge Road while on routine patrol.

"It was strictly police matters," Councilman Lucile Cannon said of the closed session today. She predicted that things will run smoothly in the police department now.

But Mayor M. E. Silva declared that the council took no action in the three-hour session. Baget and Police Chief Roy McLaren were both called before the council during the executive session.

Neither would say today what or who had been discussed.

Mrs. Cannon would not say if officer Donald A. Merkley, who reportedly went through personal bankruptcy, was discussed. Merkley could not be reached for comment today.

"We definitely did not discuss anything forbidden by the (Ralph) Brown Act," Mrs. Cannon said.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. said that the council meeting fell within section 54957 of the California government code which says the only legal purpose of a closed meeting by a local governing board, is to discuss hiring, firing or charges against an employee.

MUIR BEACH DIRECTORS QUIT POSTS

3 Claim Town Not Ready To Improve Water

Muir Beach Community Services District directors last night paid their bills, approved minutes, discussed Monday's water failure and then three of the director calmly resigned.

W. R. Brown, president, Oliver McMillan, vice president, and Gordon Mosteller gave as their reason recent developments in the small sea town which leave them to believe Muir Beach residents are not ready to improve their water system.

RECALL DEMAND

Specifically, this refers to the demand for recall of Brown on Oct. 9. Twenty-four petitioners charged Brown with working toward development of an assessment district over protests of many property owners. They also said Brown was not diligent in directing the present water system efficiently.

McMillan's letter additionally said work on the board was interfering with his job as executive secretary of the State Housing Appeals Board in San Francisco.

'WITH REGRET'

Resignations were accepted "with regret" by the two remaining board members, Leslie M. Anderson and Jack S. Harris.

The resignations, according to Secretary William Hunt, "kill" the proposal for an $80,000 improvement to the water system through an assessment district with which the three directors were identified.

"I felt that any director who didn't try to improve the water system should be recalled," said Brown on resigning, "but I don't see why someone should be recalled for trying to improve it."

McCarthy Charges On Bridge Branded 'False'

Grand Jury Probe Set Tonight

Sen. John F. McCarthy's "purported facts" about mismanagement of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District are "false, inaccurate and malicious, or distorted deliberately to discredit and reflect against the board of directors, managers and employees of the district."

That was the report of San Francisco director Dan London, chairman of the bridge publicity and advertising committee, today. His committee agreed unanimously with him.

VIOLENT ATTACKS

"Even more reprehensible," London reported to his committee and all but one of the bridge directors meeting to consider McCarthy's charges, "are his calculated efforts to attribute questionable motives to bridge financial affairs and to continue to use intemperate and violent attacks to undermine confidence in board and management actions."

Marin grand jury will take up the same charges at a meeting tonight, to which former bridge administrative assistant William Hendricks of Ross and bridge auditor Lee Lynch have been subpoenaed. District Atty. Roger Garety and grand jury chairman Irving Chapman were present at today's bridge committee meeting.

REPORT READ

London asked the bridge secretary Helen Jack to read a 15-page point by point reply to eight allegations made by McCarthy and Hendricks at a Nov. 27 press conference.

The committee voted unanimously to submit London's report to the full board at its meeting on Dec. 14. Marin directors Thomas D. Hardcastle and Leland S. Murphy both were present, but did not vote, because they are not members of the committee.

London and bridge officials then submitted themselves to questions by newsmen, in which they reemphasized the points in the report.

2 ARMED ATTACKS CLAIMED BY CUBA

HAVANA (AP) —Armed counter-revolutionaries struck twice this week in central Cuba and the Havana press charged the United States was behind both atacks—one a seaborne raid, the other an ambush.

A militiaman was reported killed and a minor political official riding with him in a jeep was wounded in an attack close to Jaguey Grande in Matanzas Province, less than 90 miles southeast of Havana. No date was given.

The seaborne raiders shot up a group of fishermen near Caibarien in Las Villas Province Tuesday night. No casualties were reported.

Havana radio said the attack was at San Francisco Beach, 18 miles from Caibarien. It described the attackers as pirates and said they had a refuge in the United States.

Cuba formally denounced the Las Villas raid in a note to the United Nations and declared it provided further proof Prime Minister Fidel Castro's proposed five points were necessary as the only means of settling the Caribbean crisis.

Castro's five demands call for guarantees from the United States that counterrevolutionaries based overseas would be checked in their attempts to overthrow his regime. Other demands include the removal of the U.S. Guantanamo naval base, an end to all reconnaissance flights over Cuba, and resumption of normal trade relations with Cuba.

The government paper Revolucion reported the Las Villas raiders fled after pumping shots at a group of fishermen at 9:30 Tuesday night.

The reports said they "violated our sovereignty in partnership with North American imperialists."

Revolucion also blamed "a group of bandits "at the service of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency for the fatal shooting of Lazaro Gonzales, 26, a militiamen, in the Jaguey Grande ambush. A political official traveling with him in the jeep was wounded. Two companions escaped unhurt.

Go Slow On Net Depot, U.S. Urged

The chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors has urged the Navy Department to go slow on any reassignment of Tiburon Naval Net Depot and suggested that a proposed Aerojet research center might be incorporated into plans for a marine science center there.

Chairman Walter Castro sent this telegram to Secretary of the Navy Fred J. Korth.

"Understand Navy through Bureau Weapons on verge assigning Net Depot at Tiburon to Aerojet for water missile research and development base.

"Meager information here character of activity and compatibility with prime residential area. Urge postponement decision on Aerojet Tiburon pending better information what intended.

"May I urgently renew consideration Science Center proposal of International Science Foundation. Or perhaps advantageous joint International Science Foundation-Aerojet usage Net Depot in a research complex devoted both broad and specific research in marine sciences."

Yesterday Navy officials in Washington said no decision had been reached on the net depot's future and that it is unlikely it would be reached this week. However, they anticipated it would be reached "soon."

Rumors about disposition of the depot on the southeast shore of Tiburon Peninsula have been circulating since Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall first scheduled and then canceled a meeting with Marin supervisors at the net depot for "an important announcement."

Shortly afterwards several Aerojet Corp officials inspected the site reportedly for use as a research and testing facility for the rocket and missile firm.

Proclaiming Holiday Blasted By M'Carthy

Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy of San Rafael today summed up Gov. Edmund G. Brown's action in proclaiming Dec. 31 a state holiday as "improper, distasteful and illegal."

Brown, acting with the attorney general's approval, ordered state offices closed on the last day of the year as part of the "California—No. 1" celebration.

McCarthy, in a statement issued in Sacramento, said he was all for commemorating California's attainment of first rank in population, but said it has always been left to the legislature to proclaim holidays.

"There is due time in early January when the legislature convenes to give consideration in declaring a legal holiday for the purpose of a celebration," the Republican senator said.

"Let's not have Governor Brown try to take over all phases of government."

Brown has emphasized his proclamation effects only state employees. He has urged cities, counties and private industry to join in observing Dec. 31 as a holiday.

President Declares Fullest Confidence In Adlai's Work

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) —President John F. Kennedy hopes his public declaration of "fullest confidence" in Adlai Stevenson will put an end to speculation that the U. N. ambassador may be on his way out.

A "Dear Adlai" letter from Kennedy to Stevenson was made public by the White House last night. Officials said the decision to give it out was prompted by the president's determination to try to remove any uncertainty about Stevenson's future.

The speculation stemmed from publication of a Saturday Evening Post article written by two Washington reporters, Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, a close friend of the president.

The article quoted anonymous officials as saying that at the outset of the Cuban crisis Stevenson dissented from Kennedy's decision to throw a naval blockade around Cuba and advocated a softer approach.

Denials by the White House and by Stevenson, coupled with statements that Stevenson had in fact supported the blockade decision, failed to quiet the speculation. Officials decided the tempest could be stilled only by personal action by Kennedy.

The letter, read to newsmen by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, made two major points:

1. That Kennedy has the "fullest confidence" in Stevenson and has valued his advice "very highly."

2. That Stevenson will continue as ambassador at the United Nations.

The letter also showed that Kennedy is satisfied the Soviet Union's withdrawing of missiles and bombers from Cuba has effectively ended the nuclear threat to U. S. security. The president said without qualification "We have eliminated the nuclear menace from Cuba."

The White House said Kennedy's letter reached Stevenson at the United Nations about noon yesterday. But there were indications Stevenson had been satisfied after a Monday conference with Kennedy that he had the president's backing in spite of the implication in the article that someone in the administration might be trying to put an end to his U. N. career.

Associates said Tuesday that if Stevenson had not been satisfied about the president's position he would have resigned already.

Kennedy wrote Stevenson that "this is just a note to tell you again how deeply I regret the unfortunate stir which has arisen over the statements contained in the Saturday Evening Post article."

"I think you know how greatly we have all admired your performance at the United Nations in general and during the Security Council discussions and private negotiations connected with the Cuban crisis in particular," he continued.

Most cheers indicate approval or acclaim, but at least one is derogatory—the famous Bronx cheer.

More than 100 million passenger car tires were produced in the United States last year.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

James Petrillo Is Defeated

CHICAGO (AP)—A dance band leader who has never held union office took over today as president of Chicago's musicians, ending James C. Petrillo's stormy 40-year reign as a labor boss.

Richards

Bernard (Barney) Richards, 57, led a rebel ticket which defeated Petrillo and most of his aides Wednesday in an election they had expected to win. Petrillo lost by 95 votes.

Petrillo, 70, apparently played his own swan song by taking the challenge too lightly. He had had no competition for the office of president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians since 1933.

Depositor Wrestles, Routs Gunmen

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — Robert Dischler was not about to let two bank robbers get away with $1,600 the 24-year-old Air Force veteran had just deposited.

Dischler

When two armed robbers entered the Bayway branch of the National State Bank of Elizabeth yesterday, six customers and 12 bank employees looked on stunned and unmoving as one of the gunmen passed from teller to teller, stuffing $52,000 into a satchel.

Dischler swung into action.

He jumped the bandit with the loot and wrestled the gun from him. At close range, Dischler fired a shot and the robber doubled up clutching at his stomach.

The second gunman advanced, spraying bullets. Dischler returned the fire until both robbers fled.

The fleeing bandits dropped the satchel, spilling hundreds of bills on the floor.

UAR Algeria Loan

CAIRO (UPI) — The United Arab Republic will lend Algeria 25.7 million dollars interest-free to help it "overcome economic difficulties," according to an announcement here.

The loan would be paid back in 12 years, starting two years after it is advanced. The UAR will attach no conditions to the loan, it said.

$100,000 Painting

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the major works of French impressionist painter Renoir was auctioned last night for $100,000 at the Parke-Bernet Galleries. The sum will go to three charities.

Expense Accounts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin says his agency does not want to interfere with legitimate expense account deductions in setting up new tax rules.

Caplin promised yesterday that the regulations enacted by the Internal Revenue Service "will achieve a basically fair and sound approach consistent with the intent of Congress" under the law that authorized them.

Chinese Along Road

TEZPUR, India (AP) — An estimated 300 Chinese troops were reported today scattered along the mountain road from this Indian army headquarters to Bomdila, 100 air miles to Bomdila, 100 air miles to the north.

The estimate was given to newsmen by ambulance drivers who returned from Bomdila before dawn with 64 sick or wounded Indian prisoners released by the Red Chinese yesterday, and the body of one man who died three days ago.

The Chinese "were in holes in the forest and mountains," one driver said.

London Smog Cracks

LONDON (AP)—Dawn brought the first cracks in London's huge smog curtain today but the weatherman warned that conditions may get worse again.

Visibility extended up to 100 yards along some of the capital's main streets, but dense pockets of fume-laden smog still clung to the banks of the River Thames.

Of the fog, an air ministry spokesman said, "Don't count your chickens. It might well come back tonight."

Stanford Editor Dies

STANFORD (UPI) — William Hawley Davis, 82, English professor and first editor of the Stanford University Press, died yesterday at Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital of a heart ailment.

Lawford Settlement

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — A woman involved in a traffic accident with President John F. Kennedy's sister, Mrs. Pat Lawford, has received a $1,500 settlement check from Mrs. Lawford's insurance company, it was learned yesterday.

Mrs. Nancy Jane Foster, 38 of Sun Valley, suffered a slight concussion, shock and whiplash injuries to her neck in the accident.

Blast In Amsterdam

AMSTERDAM (UPI)—A bomb exploded in front of the Spanish Consulate here yesterday, damaging the building and shattering windows in the immediate vicinity.

U.S., SOVIET AGREE ON COOPERATION IN SPACE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. delegates took heart today from two U.S.-Soviet agreements on scientific cooperation in a series of space experiments and on the general economic benefits of disarmament.

Delegates expressed guarded hope that the two agreements, together with the easing of the Cuban crisis, signaled a period of comparative harmony in East-West relations.

At Geneva, however, disarmament negotiators were deadlocked as tight as ever on the key issue of controls.

In short, the Soviets and the West were agreed on the great bring, but they were no nearer agreement on disarmament itself.

Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U. S. delegate at the United Nations, hailed the limited agreement on cooperation in space as a "practical demonstration that our nations can, despite political differences, cooperate in a highly important field of human endeavor."

The fruit of a broad agreement between President John F. Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev early in the year, it provides for scientists of the two nations to work together in the use of earth satellites in communications, weather forecasting and mapping of the earth's magnetic field.

The agreement was worked out in summary at Geneva last June by Hugh L. Dryden, deputy director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), and Soviet academician Anatoly A. Blagonravov.

Secretary General Thant and the 110-nation political committee were given the details yesterday.

In 1964-65 the two nations will coordinate the launching of weather satellites after working out methods of exchanging information from experiments this year and next.

In 1964-65, called the international year of the quiet sun, each nation will launch a satellite to map the magnetic field.

Next year, they also will cooperate in experiments with the U.S. communications satellite Echo A-12.

The agreement omitted any tests with Telstar, the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. communications satellite. The Soviet Union holds that use of space should be limited to governments.

In the second agreement announced yesterday, a joint U.S.-Soviet declaration said world disarmament would be to lesser developed nations and would not hurt the economy of any nation. It said the world is spending 120 billion of multi-billion-dollar benefit dollars a year for weapons.

The declaration was approved unanimously by the General Assembly's economic committee which is considering a report by a group of international experts that a shutdown of arms factories would not set off an economic recession.

The declaration is less binding than a resolution.

Personal Libraries Advised For Children

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Parents should collect a personal library for their children, suggests Miss Lillian Skeele, head of the children's division of the Columbus Public Library.

"Reading is a skill like music," she says. "Unless you practice it, you don't accomplish much . . . Starting with nursery rhymes which you can read to the 1 or 2 year old, every home should have a few well-chosen books."

President Declares Fullest Confidence In Adlai's Work

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) —President John F. Kennedy hopes his public declaration of "fullest confidence" in Adlai Stevenson will put an end to speculation that the U. N. ambassador may be on his way out.

A "Dear Adlai" letter from Kennedy to Stevenson was made public by the White House last night. Officials said the decision to give it out was prompted by the president's determination to try to remove any uncertainty about Stevenson's future.

The speculation stemmed from publication of a Saturday Evening Post article written by two Washington reporters, Stewart Alsop and Charles Bartlett, a close friend of the president.

The article quoted anonymous officials as saying that at the outset of the Cuban crisis Stevenson dissented from Kennedy's decision to throw a naval blockade around Cuba and advocated a softer approach.

Denials by the White House and by Stevenson, coupled with statements that Stevenson had in fact supported the blockade decision, failed to quiet the speculation. Officials decided the tempest could be stilled only by personal action by Kennedy.

The letter, read to newsmen by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, made two major points:

1. That Kennedy has the "fullest confidence" in Stevenson and has valued his advice "very highly."

2. That Stevenson will continue as ambassador at the United Nations.

The letter also showed that Kennedy is satisfied the Soviet Union's withdrawing of missiles and bombers from Cuba has effectively ended the nuclear threat to U. S. security. The president said without qualification "We have eliminated the nuclear menace from Cuba."

The White House said Kennedy's letter reached Stevenson at the United Nations about noon yesterday. But there were indications Stevenson had been satisfied after a Monday conference with Kennedy that he had the president's backing in spite of the implication in the article that someone in the administration might be trying to put an end to his U. N. career.

Associates said Tuesday that it Stevenson had not been satisfied about the president's position he would have resigned already.

Kennedy wrote Stevenson that "this is just a note to tell you again how deeply I regret the unfortunate stir which has arisen over the statements contained in the Saturday Evening Post article."

"I think you know how greatly we have all admired your performance at the United Nations in general and during the Security Council discussions and private negotiations connected with the Cuban crisis in particular," he continued.

Most cheers indicate approval or acclaim, but at least one is derogatory—the famous Bronx cheer.

More than 100 million passenger car tires were produced in the United States last year.

Better Conflict Of Interest Law Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly Committee on Government Organization has asked for stronger California conflict of interest laws.

But it warned against making the laws so strict that qualified people will be reluctant to accept government jobs.

The committee, in its report yesterday to the 1963 legislature, said guide lines must be established to prevent government workers from making private profit from their public jobs.

"In drawing these lines, however, caution must be exercised so that honest men are not unduly burdened or penalized or put in a position that subjects them to harrassment by the opposition party," the report said.

One of the main targets of the report was a law which says a public officer has no illegal interest in a contract if he owns less than 3 per cent in the private company involved.

It was called "one of the most ludicrous statutes on the books." The committee said a public official could own less than 3 per cent of the stock in American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and still negotiate contracts with it even though his holdings amount to some 660 million dollars and earn him 21.6 million dollars a year in dividends.

Instead, the committee said, the law should prohibit public workers from participating in a firm from which they earn more than 5 per cent of their income or own more than 3 per cent, whichever is less.

Other recommendations:

Revision of the law which prohibits government contracts with firms in which public officials have an interest even if the company offers the lowest price. If the public official discloses his interest and does not vote on the contract and there is competitive bidding by two or more firms, the contract should be allowed.

Passage of a law which would prohibit such cases as that of a State Department of Water Resources official quitting his state job, accepting work with a local water agency and then appearing for his new employer in a matter before a state agency.

Crusade Fund Drive Reaches 92% Of Total

Total in Marin's 1962 United Crusade drive stands at $134,230, or 92 per cent of quota, campaign leaders learned at a meeting yesterday at Villa Rafael Motel in San Rafael.

County chairman Burton R. Kirchner was assured by the volunteers present that they will continue campaigning on an intensified basis during the next two weeks to reach the $145,893 goal. He set Dec. 21 as the deadline for completion of the pre-holiday drive throughout Marin.

The public schools division has gone over its goal with $7,632 collected, or 103 per cent of quota, it was announced. Commerce and industry, public employees, and colleges and seminaries previously reached or exceeded their goals.

Among the other divisions, the professions are closest to goal with $16,424 reported, or 98.9 per cent of quota. Standings of the other divisions are: residential, total $44,081, or 91.7 per cent of quota; advance gifts, $20,115, or 81.5 per cent; business, $10,732, or 64.5 per cent.

Corte Madera was announced as the first and to date the only community to go over its quota in the business division. B. A. Sill, chairman, reported a total of $566 collected, or 108 per cent of quota. Fairfax and Sausalito are close to their goals. In San Rafael, with the largest quota of the division, co-chairmen William Brannan and Paul Dunn announced that volunteers will continue solicitation until all small business firms in the area are contacted.

G. R. McConnell, chairman of the public schools division, cited the personnel of six districts for "greatly exceeding last year's gifts." They are Tomales Union High School District, San Jose, San Rafael, Mill Valley, Fairfax and Dixie.

Better Conflict Of Interest Law Asked

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly Committee on Government Organization has asked for stronger California conflict of interest laws.

But it warned against making the laws so strict that qualified people will be reluctant to accept government jobs.

The committee, in its report yesterday to the 1963 legislature, said guide lines must be established to prevent government workers from making private profit from their public jobs.

"In drawing these lines, however, caution must be exercised so that honest men are not unduly burdened or penalized or put in a position that subjects them to harrassment by the opposition party," the report said.

One of the main targets of the report was a law which says a public officer has no illegal interest in a contract if he owns less than 3 per cent in the private company involved.

It was called "one of the most ludicrous statutes on the books." The committee said a public official could own less than 3 per cent of the stock in American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and still negotiate contracts with it even though his holdings amount to some 660 million dollars and earn him 21.6 million dollars a year in dividends.

Instead, the committee said, the law should prohibit public workers from participating in a firm from which they earn more than 5 per cent of their income or own more than 3 per cent, whichever is less.

Other recommendations:

Revision of the law which prohibits government contracts with firms in which public officials have an interest even if the company offers the lowest price. If the public official discloses his interest and does not vote on the contract and there is competitive bidding by two or more firms, the contract should be allowed.

Passage of a law which would prohibit such cases as that of a State Department of Water Resources official quitting his state job, accepting work with a local water agency and then appearing for his new employer in a matter before a state agency.

BIGGEST CHRISTMAS STREET DISPLAY

Crusade Fund Drive Reaches 92% Of Total

Total in Marin's 1962 United Crusade drive stands at $134,230, or 92 per cent of quota, campaign leaders learned at a meeting yesterday at Villa Rafael Motel in San Rafael.

County chairman Burton R. Kirchner was assured by the volunteers present that they will continue campaigning on an intensified basis during the next two weeks to reach the $145,893 goal. He set Dec. 21 as the deadline for completion of the pre-holiday drive throughout Marin.

The public schools division has gone over its goal with $7,632 collected, or 103 per cent of quota, it was announced. Commerce and industry, public employees, and colleges and seminaries previously reached or exceeded their goals.

Among the other divisions, the professions are closest to goal with $16,424 reported, or 98.9 per cent of quota. Standings of the other divisions are: residential, total $44,081, or 91.7 per cent of quota; advance gifts, $20,115, or 81.5 per cent; business, $10,732, or 64.5 per cent.

Corte Madera was announced as the first and to date the only community to go over its quota in the business division. B. A. Sill, chairman, reported a total of $566 collected, or 108 per cent of quota. Fairfax and Sausalito are close to their goals. In San Rafael, with the largest quota of the division, co-chairmen William Brannan and Paul Dunn announced that volunteers will continue solicitation until all small business firms in the area are contacted.

G. R. McConnell, chairman of the public schools division, cited the personnel of six districts for "greatly exceeding last year's gifts." They are Tomales Union High School District, San Jose, San Rafael, Mill Valley, Fairfax and Dixie.

Civic Center In Fifth Day Of Moving

By ALTON S. BOCK

The formidable Marin County Civic Center today began to look like a busy office building as moving operations entered the fifth day of a 20-day moving schedule.

Despite big vans lined up ready to be unloaded, parades of men carrying books and furniture, telephone repairmen, maintenance men and a few sightseers here and there, nearly 100 county employees were already at work in the building.

The Superintendent of Schools office were moved today to offices on the fourth level — and lack of space was an immediate problem. Many extra books and documents were stored on the first level.

Other parts of the big building were lonely, however.

The board of supervisors chambers looked like an empty small-scale United Nations General Assembly—with its long walnut tables, rows of seats and a elaborate microphone and recording system in process of installation.

In the dome above the board room, hundreds of shelves awaited books in the darkened library.

Downstairs, in the cafeteria overlooking a terrace and unfinished fountain, blind operator Clarence Sewell said he expects to be serving breakfast, lunch and coffee to nearly 200 employees next Tuesday.

Nearly 500 telephones have been installed in the center. "This gradual move is a big help," said Violet Terzia, chief switchboard operator. "It makes it easier for us to learn where everybody is located."

Tomorrow the planning, public works and welfare departments will begin moving into the third level.

The move to the Civic Center should be completed Dec. 20 when the library is moved.

Decorations Get Praises In Fairfax

Fairfax's first extensive Christmas decorations on downtown city streets were receiving "a lot of favorable comments" today, according to Fred Ross, president of the Fairfax Lions Club.

The Lion's Club raised $300 from a barbecue this summer. Merchants chipped in another $350 and the city matched this sum with $650, bring the total collected to $1,300 to finance the trees.

The decorations consist of 15 artificial Christmas trees which were hung on poles yesterday along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Broadway. Also, about 14 streamers have been strunk across Broadway and Bolinas Road.

Councilman Cornelis Van Vliet, a member of the Lions Club, said that the city "had been open to a lot of criticism" in past years with the only display being a Christmas tree in the Parkade.

He said the Merchants Assn. had put up Christmas decoration in the past but had become discouraged when a storm blew them down a few years ago. "This is the first year it has been done on a fairly big scale," Van Vliet added.

Two Men Treated For Asphyxiation

Two Fairfax men were treated yesterday at San Rafael General Hospital for asphyxiation, the effects of fumes from a small portable oil heater at Shamrock Materials Inc., 665 Irwin Street, San Rafael.

Ray Davis, 48, of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and Mitchell Hauth, 68, of 33 Park Road, were overcome by fumes and given emergency treatment at the hospital.

They were released to go home, but a few hours later Hauth had to be returned to the hospital for further treatment. He was admitted and his condition today was reported satisfactory.

Marin Mother Has 2nd Baby Year Later

Yesterday was almost a repeat performance for Mrs. Richard Turner of 1314 Leafwood Drive, Novato, who gave birth to a daughter yesterday at Novato General Hospital.

Exactly one year ago, on Dec. 5, 1961, she went to the same hospital, to the same doctor, and had the same nurse attending, for her first baby, a boy.

ship carrying about 15 IL-28 bombers was reported outward bound from Cuba.

This brings to at least 18 the number of the nuclear-capable bombers the Russians have withdrawn from Cuba on the demand of the United States.

Russian diplomatic authorities were understood to have notified the United States that a total of more than 40 of the 750-mile range bombers would be coming out.

And informed sources said the removal is at a pace that could have all the bombers off the island within a few days.

Christmas Decor Contest Planned

The Glenwood Home Owners' Assn. will hold a Christmas home decoration contest and a party for children of the area, it was announced at a meeting last night.

Judging of home decorations by singers Roy and Lisa Johnston of Novato will be held on Dec. 19. First through third prize of $15, $10 and $5 will be given for best overall decorations, with an additional $10 prize for the best decorated door.

The children's party, with entertainment, presents and candy for all Glenwood children, will be held Dec. 15 at the Church of the Redeemer.

day. "Once filed, it must go ahead."

He said this is a protection since, should one person resign, three of the remaining four board members might appoint a replacement sympathetic to their beliefs.

Harris and Anderson may continue to conduct business, Godino said, and they may appoint members to fill out the board. However, if they appoint three, one would have to be only until the time of the recall election.

It was announced this week that Mrs. Aileen Graham is the sole candidate on the recall ballot to run for Brown's position.

Hunt said four people were present at the meeting at his home. He said part of the business of the board was discussion of a water failure Monday which cut water all almost all day from the 42 users.

"It was caused by a yet unfathomed electrical failure," said Hunt.

Blue Rock Hatchet Is Buried

Larkspur city fathers and businessman Hugh Wood buried the hatchet last night in their long-standing battle over a building violation at Blue Rock Apartment.

Councilmen accepted a compromise settlement worked out between City Manager Ronald E. Piper and Julius H. Selinger, attorney for Wood.

The clash started when Wood built a balcony at his Blue Rock Apartment, then walled in the area below to form a new room. Planning commissioners charged that this was done without city approval, and the building knocked out a parking space.

Here is the settlement reached last night: Wood may keep the new room he created on condition he give written assurance the room will not be used for living purposes. In return Wood will provide a new entrance at his parking lot next to the Lark Theater, thus providing three new parking spaces in the lot.

City fathers accepted the settlement by unanimous vote.

Decorations Going Up In Mill Valley

Redwood garlands, traditional Christmas decorations lining Mill Valley's streets, are being strung this week and St. Nick is due to make his first Mill Valley appearance on Monday.

All lighting on garlands, the nine Christmas trees on Miller Avenue between Willow Street and Camino Alto and the star on the big redwood in the square is expected to be turned on by Friday, Eddie R. Pedersen said today. Pedersen, chairman of decorations, said small redwoods in the center of Lytton Square will be lighted for the first time this year.

Santa Claus, provided by Keystone Building merchants, will make his appearance on foot and will make periodic visits at Santa's house in front of the chamber of commerce office at 85 Throckmorton Avenue. Santa's house will have a porch added to it this year on which Santa will have his throne.

Decorations are co-sponsored by the chamber of commerce and the City of Mill Valley.

Auto Stripping

John Garatti, owner of Garatti Motors at 7090 Redwood Highway, yesterday told Novato police that someone had been stripping parts from cars parked in the back of the garage lot. The value and number of parts taken were not known.

Firemen Raises

A raise in salary for Sausalito Fire Capt. Harold Cardwell, approved with two other top firemen by the city council Tuesday, is from the range of $481-$576 to $492-589. The Independent-Journal reported yesterday the new range would be $492-$689.

OBITUARIES

Eugene Marker Dies At 59

Lt. Cmdr. Eugene F. Marker, USN (Ret.), who left his Mill Valley home with several members of his family three weeks ago to start a tour of the world, died unexpectedly in Bethesda Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md., Monday. He was 59.

News of his death was reported today by a daughter, Margo Marker of Mill Valley. She said her father died of leukemia.

Marker, a native of Marion, Iowa, served 33 years in the Navy, enlisting in December, 1918. During World War II he served as a chief gunner's mate in the South Pacific.

He received his commission in 1945 and was serving at the China Lake Naval Installation at the time of his retirement 10 years ago.

He and his family settled at their home at 301 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley, eight years ago. For several years he ran the Mill Valley Tennis Club.

After deciding to travel, he sold the home here and left for New York, the first stop in the trip. Here Marker was stricken.

With him were his wife, Wilhelmina; another daughter, Pamela Anne Marker, and a grandson, Roark William Brader. They are staying temporarily at Perryville, Md. Marker is also survived by two sons, Eugene F. Marker Jr. of San Francisco and James D. Marker, a Naval hospital corpsman stationed at Bainbridge, Md.

Funeral services with full military honors will be conducted at Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, Va., tomorrow.

Ray Davis, 48, of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and Mitchell Hauth, 68, of 33 Park Road, were overcome by fumes and given emergency treatment at the hospital.

They were released to go home, but a few hours later Hauth had to be returned to the hospital for further treatment. He was admitted and his condition today was reported satisfactory.

Marin Mother Has 2nd Baby Year Later

Yesterday was almost a repeat performance for Mrs. Richard Turner of 1314 Leafwood Drive, Novato, who gave birth to a daughter yesterday at Novato General Hospital.

Exactly one year ago, on Dec. 5, 1961, she went to the same hospital, to the same doctor, and had the same nurse attending, for her first baby, a boy.

ship carrying about 15 IL-28 bombers was reported outward bound from Cuba.

This brings to at least 18 the number of the nuclear-capable bombers the Russians have withdrawn from Cuba on the demand of the United States.

Russian diplomatic authorities were understood to have notified the United States that a total of more than 40 of the 750-mile range bombers would be coming out.

And informed sources said the removal is at a pace that could have all the bombers off the island within a few days.

Christmas Decor Contest Planned

The Glenwood Home Owners' Assn. will hold a Christmas home decoration contest and a party for children of the area, it was announced at a meeting last night.

Judging of home decorations by singers Roy and Lisa Johnston of Novato will be held on Dec. 19. First through third prize of $15, $10 and $5 will be given for best overall decorations, with an additional $10 prize for the best decorated door.

The children's party, with entertainment, presents and candy for all Glenwood children, will be held Dec. 15 at the Church of the Redeemer.

day. "Once filed, it must go ahead."

He said this is a protection since, should one person resign, three of the remaining four board members might appoint a replacement sympathetic to their beliefs.

Harris and Anderson may continue to conduct business, Godino said, and they may appoint members to fill out the board. However, if they appoint three, one would have to be only until the time of the recall election.

It was announced this week that Mrs. Aileen Graham is the sole candidate on the recall ballot to run for Brown's position.

Hunt said four people were present at the meeting at his home. He said part of the business of the board was discussion of a water failure Monday which cut water all almost all day from the 42 users.

"It was caused by a yet unfathomed electrical failure," said Hunt.

Blue Rock Hatchet Is Buried

Larkspur city fathers and businessman Hugh Wood buried the hatchet last night in their long-standing battle over a building violation at Blue Rock Apartment.

Councilmen accepted a compromise settlement worked out between City Manager Ronald E. Piper and Julius H. Selinger, attorney for Wood.

The clash started when Wood built a balcony at his Blue Rock Apartment, then walled in the area below to form a new room. Planning commissioners charged that this was done without city approval, and the building knocked out a parking space.

Here is the settlement reached last night: Wood may keep the new room he created on condition he give written assurance the room will not be used for living purposes. In return Wood will provide a new entrance at his parking lot next to the Lark Theater, thus providing three new parking spaces in the lot.

City fathers accepted the settlement by unanimous vote.

Decorations Going Up In Mill Valley

Redwood garlands, traditional Christmas decorations lining Mill Valley's streets, are being strung this week and St. Nick is due to make his first Mill Valley appearance on Monday.

All lighting on garlands, the nine Christmas trees on Miller Avenue between Willow Street and Camino Alto and the star on the big redwood in the square is expected to be turned on by Friday, Eddie R. Pedersen said today. Pedersen, chairman of decorations, said small redwoods in the center of Lytton Square will be lighted for the first time this year.

Santa Claus, provided by Keystone Building merchants, will make his appearance on foot and will make periodic visits at Santa's house in front of the chamber of commerce office at 85 Throckmorton Avenue. Santa's house will have a porch added to it this year on which Santa will have his throne.

Decorations are co-sponsored by the chamber of commerce and the City of Mill Valley.

Auto Stripping

John Garatti, owner of Garatti Motors at 7090 Redwood Highway, yesterday told Novato police that someone had been stripping parts from cars parked in the back of the garage lot. The value and number of parts taken were not known.

Firemen Raises

A raise in salary for Sausalilto Fire Capt. Harold Cardwell, approved with two other top firemen by the city council Tuesday, is from the range of $481-$576 to $492-589. The Independent-Journal reported yesterday the new range would be $492-$689.

OBITUARIES

Eugene Marker Dies At 59

Lt. Cmdr. Eugene F. Marker, USN (Ret.), who left his Mill Valley home with several members of his family three weeks ago to start a tour of the world, died unexpectedly in Bethesda Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md., Monday. He was 59.

News of his death was reported today by a daughter, Margo Marker of Mill Valley. She said her father died of leukemia.

Marker, a native of Marion, Iowa, served 33 years in the Navy, enlisting in December, 1918. During World War II he served as a chief gunner's mate in the South Pacific.

He received his commission in 1945 and was serving at the China Lake Naval Installation at the time of his retirement 10 years ago.

He and his family settled at their home at 301 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley, eight years ago. For several years he ran the Mill Valley Tennis Club.

After deciding to travel, he sold the home here and left for New York, the first stop in the trip. Here Marker was stricken.

With him were his wife, Wilhelmina; another daughter, Pamela Anne Marker, and a grandson, Roark William Brader. They are staying temporarily at Perryville, Md. Marker is also survived by two sons, Eugene F. Marker Jr. of San Francisco and James D. Marker, a Naval hospital corpsman stationed at Bainbridge, Md.

Funeral services with full military honors will be conducted at Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, Va., tomorrow.

ITALO LANCI

Funeral services for Italo Lanci, 63, of 20 Humboldt Avenue, San Anselmo, who died at a meeting in San Rafael Tuesday night, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

Lanci, a retired typesetter, was a native of Italy. He was a member of many civic clubs and organizations in Marin County.

Services will be conducted by San Rafael Aerie 256 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. Memorial contributions to the Heart Fund are preferred.

ELEANOR GOERTZ

Eleanor Goertz, 64, of 1103 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, died at Ross General Hospital yesterday evening after a brief illness.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Roller and Hapgood in Palo Alto.

She leaves her husband, George R. Goertz, who works as inspector at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Officials at Roller and Hapgood mortuary said they expect the husband to make arrangements today. Until then, they have no information on survivors.

HUNDRED-DOLLAR WINNER

Tom Jensen of Purity Stores, San Rafael, hands a check to Mrs. George Gester, one of three San Rafael housewives who this week received $100 awards in Purity's "Instant Bucks" contest. Other winners were Mrs. Louise Evers and Mrs. Ann Anitel. The contest, which runs through Dec. 29, involves matching up Purity emblems on cards received at checkout stands.

LIONS CLUB TO BUILD LION'S HOME

The Lions will build a home for Seba, the lion.

The San Rafael Lions Club voted yesterday to build a pen at the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum for Seba, pet mountain lion of Al Bottleson, the museum's director.

Seba will then become a permanent resident of the natural science museum on Albert Park Lane in San Rafael.

The pen will be a permanent structure, with chain link fence around the sides and overhead, concrete floor, and a shed for Seba.

Leonard A. Phillips, Lions Club president, and David N. Plant, president of the museum board, said plans for the lion's den will be started immediately. It is expected to be built next month.

Congress has grown from an original membership of 65 in 1789 to its present 437.

Mrs. Klahn Won't Sign A Complaint

No formal complaint will be lodged against Bert Klahn, 50, Marin County Housing Authority executive, who was jailed Saturday night on his wife's complaint.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety said Klahn's wife, Eleanor, appeared at his office yesterday and refused to sign a criminal complaint.

"She feels they can handle the situation at home and she thinks steps can be taken so there will be no recurrence of the Saturday night incident," the district attorney explained.

Saturday night, Mrs. Klahn had called police to their home at 180 Beach Road, Belvedere, to report that Klahn had hit her with fists. Mrs. Klahn told Belvedere police she struck back with a fireplace shovel and then fled to a neighbor's home.

Fireman Campaign For Resuscitator

Throckmorton Ridge Fire Station needs a resuscitator, and Harry H. Kramer, volunteer fireman, is conducting a one-man drive to collect money to buy it.

Kramer, of 125 Bayview Avenue, Mill Valley, is a member of the Throckmorton Ridge Volunteer Brigade, and he is seeking $370 from Mill Valley merchants and residents along Panoramic Highway so that the volunteers may buy a resuscitator.

"We don't have a resuscitator to serve our own area in case of heart attacks, electric shock or suffocation," said Kramer, a retired salesmen. "If we get one, the county will supply oxygen and extra tanks."

The Throckmorton Ridge county fire station is on Panoramic Highway near the Mountain Home Inn. The three truck station is operated by two full-time men and the volunteer brigade.

Candlelight Concerts Set

The third annual candlelight concert series sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club will be Dec. 28, Jan. 25, and Feb. 22 at Brown's Hall in Mill Valley.

Tickets for the concerts, which are presented by Raymond Duste's Bach to Mozart chamber players, are now on sale, announced Mrs. Martin Goldschmidt, chairman. They are available from Mrs. Robert Weil and Mrs. Lowell C. Hawk of Mill Valley.

Refreshments are available before and after the performance and during intermission.

Nimitz: Pearl Harbor Could Have Been Worse

By PETER J. HAYES

BERKELEY (UPI)—Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said today the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor 21 years ago tomorrow was a terrible blow to this country, "but it could have been devastatingly worse."

The war in the Pacific would have lasted much longer, Nimitz said, if:

1. The fleet had been at sea instead of tied up at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

2. The Japanese had destroyed our huge, above-ground fuel tanks in Hawaii.

3. The Japanese had followed up their initial successes with raids during the next several days.

Nimitz, erect and snowy-thatched at 77, discussed the workings of fate that began at 7:55 that Sunday morning when carrier-based Japanese bombers roared over Pearl Harbor.

In the next two hours, 18 warships were sunk and 2,403 men were killed. Eighteen days later, on Christmas Day, Admiral Nimitz arrived to take command of the shattered fleet and rebuild it into the mightiest naval force ever assembled by one nation.

"The good Lord was in some way looking out for us," Nimitz said as he sat in the memento-filled study of his home high in the Berkeley Hills overlooking San Francisco Bay.

If Adm. Husband E. Kimmel had had ample warning of the approach of the Japanese task force he surely would have sent his fleet to intercept it, Nimitz said.

"Japan had six carriers, while Kimmel had only one that had gone to Wake Island. Our ships would have been picked off one by one, sunk in deep water rather than the shoals at Pearl Harbor.

"We would have lost practically all the personnel of the Pacific Fleet. We would have had to start from scratch."

The Navy's fuel storage tanks contained 4.5 million barrels of oil, the admiral said. The Japanese fighter pilots, firing .50-caliber incendiary bullets, might have wiped out this supply.

"It would have been very difficult to replenish our fuel because in 1942 most of our oil was earmarked for the Atlantic and Europe. Tankers were scarce."

Of 394 American warplanes on Oahu Dec. 7, 1941, only 38 got into the air against the Japanese raiders. The rest were destroyed on the ground.

"The Japanese could have come back a second, third or fourth day and leisurely destroyed everything of value," the five-star admiral said. "But they apparently had a rigid plan to advance into southeast Asia seeking fuel and food."

Nimitz said the Japanese navy was "a most potent enemy" containing highly skilled fighting men on the surface and in the air, if less skilled in submarine warfare.

"I for one am glad the Japanese and Americans are on friendly terms now. We assisted them to get back on their feet with a modest naval defense force, and we have a mutuality of interest vis a vis Red China and Russia that is such that if we have trouble in the Western Pacific we can expect Japan to be a powerful ally."

Industrial Spending Runs High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial spending for new plants and equipment ran well ahead of the amount predicted for the third quarter of 1962 and probably will push the year's total to a record high, two government agencies report.

But spending estimates indicate a leveling off of capital outlays in this quarter and perhaps a slight decline in the first part of 1963.

The joint announcement yesterday by the Commerce Department and the Securities and exchange Commission said the survey showed industrial spending reached a record yearly rate of 38.35 billion dollars during the July-September quarter. This brings the all-year rate of such spending to 37.4 billion dollars and if continued to the end of the year would eclipse the previous high of 37 billion dollars in 1957.

Government and private economists rely heavily on the survey because it shows, in addition to the amount of job-creating investment being done, what business executives think about future sales and earnings. If they are confident, they expand.

The survey of future spending plans indicates a decline in the first quarter of 1963 to a 37.7 billion dollar annual rate.

Contract Awarded For $95,000 Post Office At Corte Madera

A contract to build a $95,000 new Corte Madera post office in the Corte Madera Center has been awarded to the Madera Gardens Development Co. headed by Frank Rusalem, owner of the center, the Post Office Department announced today.

The new post office will provide more than two and one-half times the present building space of about 1,850 square feet at 11 First Street.

Word of the contract was announced by Postmaster Gen. J. Edward Day in a release mailed by Corte Madera Postmaster Edward J. Victor.

The 5,011-square-foot new structure will be built on a site of 20,000 square feet with 13,465 square feet for parking and movement of special vehicles, Day said.

The "General location" for the post office on Tamalpais Drive east of the Standard Oil Station and south of the Littleman Market was approved Tuesday night by the Corte Madera Board of Design.

If the town planning commission gives approval Monday night, the architectural firm of John S. Bolles will immediately begin detailed drawings, said developers Carlos and Caesar Arredondo of San Francisco.

Completion will be in nine months, said Carlos Arredondo, who gave the estimate of the building's cost.

When the new post office is occupied, the old structure will revert back to its owner, Mrs. Alexandrina Kahn of Fairfax, the Post Office Department said.

ATTACK ON HOFFA HELD TRIAL BLIGHT

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Air pistol pellets fired at James R. Hoffa in court by an ex-mental patient have injected a new and unexpected element into the labor leader's conspiracy trial.

His attorneys quickly claimed the attack — in which the pellets bounced harmlessly off his body—proved the teamsters union president couldn't get a fair trial.

The shots were fired at Hoffa yesterday by a man identified as Warren Swanson, 28, of Washington, D.C. Hoffa ducked, then lunged at the man, knocking him to the floor.

Swanson required 14 stitches to repair head wounds. A deputy U.S. marshal struck him on the back of the head with a pistol and a Hoffa bodyguard got in a few kicks before the bleeding man was led from court in handcuffs.

U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller ordered Swanson committed to the medical center for federal prisoners at Springfield, Mo., for observation.

Miller ordered six additional armed marshals for courtroom duty and directed that henceforth everyone entering the court be searched.

Hoffa, 49, is accused of conspiring to violate the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting undercover payments from a transport firm in return for labor peace. The trial is in its seventh week.

The jury was out of the courtroom when the incident occurred. Miller ordered the jurors locked up overnight for the first time during the trial to prevent their hearing about it.

While Swanson underwent emergency treatment at a hospital, he told newsmen he came here to kill Hoffa — a man he never had met—because of a vision he had last month.

"It sounds crazy, but I just got a message from a higher power," he said. He said the "message" came as he read the Bible in a Cincinnati, Ohio, hotel room in August.

Bottum Concedes U.S. Senate Seat

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Sen. Joe Bottum (R-S.D.) yesterday conceded the election of Democrat George McGovern to Bottum's U.S. Senate seat.

Until Bottum's surprise concession, it had been expected his backers might carry the fight to the State Supreme Court after a complete canvass of the Nov. 6 general election showed McGovern winning by an unofficial margin of 504 votes.

"I do not intend further action now that the recount is completed," said Bottum, who was a Republican appointee earlier this year to succeed the late Republican Sen. Francis Case.

Labor Department Says Teens Throw Job Picture Out Of Focus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Labor said today it is investigating why 150,000 extra teen-agers suddenly turned up as unemployed in November to throw the nation's job picture out of kilter.

The increase among job-hunting teens aggravated an expected increase in unemployment to boost the national idle rate from 5.5 per cent in October to 5.8 per cent in November, the 1962 high.

One explanation may be that the November count came toward the end of the month and perhaps caught some of the seasonal unemployment rise usual in December when many youngsters, as well as adults, look for holiday jobs.

The over-all figures showed unemployment increased by 507,000 to 3.8 million. Employment declined by about 912,000 but showed a record for the month at nearly 68 million.

The unemployment increase was somewhat higher than expected because of the teen-agers. Most of the other additional unemployment has been anticipated because of reduced outdoor activity due to colder weather, principally in farming. Nearly 400,000 withdrew from the labor force.

Weymour Wolfbein, labor department manpower director, said the new job figures do not reflect worsening economic conditions. He conceded that employment is not rising fast enough to absorb unemployment.

Compared with a year earlier employment in November was up by 630,000 and unemployment was down by less than 200,000.

Larkspur Recreation Commissioners, already cut to a mere three members, may resign en masse next Wednesday night or decide on a long holiday, at least until next spring.

Commission Chairman Peter Krug Jr., visibly ired by the failure of the city fathers to allocate $1,500 for park planning, so informed the councilmen last night.

"Well, gentlemen," he bristled, "I think you can kiss your recreation commission goodbye!"

He said Dr. Ted F. Pett and Paul Otis, the remaining members of the recreation commission have also indicated they would quit if the $1,500 is not allocated.

The other two members, William Schnell and Dorothy Meyer, had resigned previously.

The city council was trying to name successors for the vacant posts last night when Krug spoke up: "We can't recommend anyone unless a decision is made on the $1,500."

Councilmen Lesly A. Daveler and Robert J. Smith and Mayor James Lienkaemper explained they don't want to release the $1,500 at this time because they are working on a general plan and want to know just what would be done with the 43-acre "park" area.

"We just want to see where our general plan studies would go before we start precise planning for a park," said Mayor Lienkaemper. "We are concerned with getting everything in the right sequence."

Councilmen asked Krug to wait until February or March next year because by then, the city ought to have a better idea of what it wants to do with the park area.

Councilman Smith said he would attend the recreation commission meeting next Wednesday to try to induce the group to continue in operation.

Krug declared the commission is at a standstill because of lack of council backing. "We can't even get a quorum to talk about trees." He said he "will probably resign next Wednesday." He said his two remaining colleagues are also all set to quit.

New Larkspur Zoning Ordinance Introduced

Larkspur's new zoning ordinance, updating and clarifying the various regulations, was introduced last night for adoption.

Final adoption is expected at the next meeting of the Larkspur City Council on Dec. 19.

Councilmen waded through the ordinance for about an hour last night, changing a word here and clarifying an intent there at the suggestion of Councilman Lesly A. Daveler.

In other actions last night, the city fathers:

1. Decided that the pros and cons of merging the Larkspur and Kentfield Fire Districts be discussed at the Dec. 19 meeting.

2. Re-appointed John Barry to another term on the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District board of trustees.

3. Set Dec. 19 as the time to discuss in detail an administrative manual prepared by City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

Mill Valley City Council Joins In Urging Jury Probe Of Span

The Mill Valley City Council last night joined Sen. John F. McCarthy in urging an exhaustive inquiry by the Grand Jury into charges of mismanagement of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

The motion, made by Councilman Michael Wornum and passed unanimously, stated:

"That this council is vitally concerned with the efficient management and financial integrity of the Golden Gate Bridge on which the welfare of many of Mill Valley citizens depends.

"That we are deeply disturbed by the current charges of mismanagement and financial irregularities made by our state senator. That we join Senator McCarthy in urging the grand jury in an exhaustive inquiry into the validity of these charges and, if proven, expedite measures to correct them."

Wornum, a commuter as are the rest of the councilmen except for Councilman George Blackwell, said he feels strongly about the bridge. "I don't think we have been getting a particularly good service — the rapid transit delay, the business of arches, the 25 years to get four lanes going . . .and this latest series of charges seems to me to reflect very seriously upon ability of the bridge to function . . . if we behaved as the bridge directors behaved, we would be out on our ear shortly."

Teen-Age Center For Mill Valley Is Platform Of Club's Candidates

A teen center for Mill Valley is the unanimous platform of 16 candidates who seek six seats on the Mill Valley Teen Club Council in elections to be held tomorrow at a club dance at the American Legion Hall.

The platform was set by the present council, who ask, according to President Greg Corey, a teen center be made from the abandoned "pink houses" at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto or a complete new building.

Corey, an incumbent, and incumbents Steve Novacek and Steve Long will retain their seats. The three are seniors. One freshman, two sophomores and three juniors are to be elected from the following contestants:

Patty Creighton, Terri Varney and Debby Danford, freshmen; Ken Clark, Ted Carrillo, Bruce Crawford, Shelley Smith, Patty Burke, Debby Nelson, sophomores; Linda Allroggen, Ronni Gelardi, John Hammond, Gail Harrington, Jill Rutledge, Chris Schuepbach and Stephanie Wickham, juniors.

A report is to be given the Mill Valley city council next month on a study of the "pink houses" being made by the youth activities committee. The report is to find feasibility of the two former motels for conversion to a center.

Corey, also a member of the committee, states the urgent need for a teen center and adds: "I feel that work on such a center should be started by next summer."

African Language In Search Of Alphabet Finds Its ABCs

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Bambara, an African language in search of an alphabet, has found its ABCs thousands of miles from home—on the campus of Syracuse University.

As a result, nationals of the new republic of Mali, where Bambara is the major tongue, soon may be able to write ma ma as well as talk to ma ma in their native language.

Ma ma is one expression that loses nothing in translation. It means mother.

French has been the official language in Mali, a former French colony in West Africa.

Until the adaption here of the Roman alphabet to Bambara sounds, there was no written version of the language in general use. Some missionaries, however, had devised a form of written Bambara in translating the Bible into the native language.

The ba ba (father) of the first officially sponsored version of written Bambara is Robert S. Laubach, a linguistic expert at the Syracuse University School of Journalism.

Laubach, with the aid of five educators from Mali, devised a 28-letter system, including an accented "E" and "O", a primer and illustrated charts to aid in teaching the written language.

The charts, similar to those used in American elementary schools to teach children to read, are designed according to the formula that one picture is worth one word.

Each picture, Laubach, said, is intended to give the learner "a visual association between the sound, which he knows, and the unfamiliar letters."

The learner is introduced to the letter "M", for instance, by a picture of a mother holding an infant. A subsequent illustration superimposes the letter "M" over a silhouette of the mother image. This is followed by the word ma ma.

The objects used in the illustrations, in many cases, resemble the letters they introduce. The letter "d" in lower case, for example, resembles a native hoe called ada ba.

A second lesson book is being developed to build upon the "kalang folo" (first lesson).

Although Mali is rich in folklore and poetry, Laubach said, the second reader would contain simple sentences that emphasize the practical and factual rather than literature. The stress will be on such things as the history of the new republic and child care and nutrition.

"A written language," Laubach said, "is an indispensable tool for a newly developing country."

Mali, a nation of four million inhabitants, gained full independence on June 20, 1960. Formerly the French Sudan, Mali occupies a strategic position among emerging nations of Africa, where words have become weapons as well as tools. Among its neighbors are Algeria, on the north, and Guinea and Senegal, on the west.

The process Laubach used in devising a written Bambara is called linguistic analysis.

"First, you identify the sounds, or phonemes, of the language and then you adapt Roman letters to the sounds," he said.

Laubach is discussing with the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) a plan to send a team to Mali where the material could be field-tested.

The first phase of the project, which included development of the primer, was carried out under an agreement between AID and the university. The government of Mali and the Laubach Literacy Fund, a private agency with headquarters in Washington, D.C., participated.

Laubach's father, Dr. Frank C. Laubach, is the founder and executive secretary of the fund, which is dedicated to the reduction of illiteracy in the world. The son is the fund's director of publishing.

San Rafael Man Injured In Fall

Clyde Clark Crawford, 79, of 708 Mission Avenue, San Rafael suffered a broken shoulder and cuts on his head Tuesday evening in a fall on cement steps at his home, San Rafael police reported today.

He was in satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today. Crawford was found by a neighbor, John Allen Byrd, 704 Mission Avenue, who heard Crawford moaning. Byrd called police at 6 p.m.

Teen-Age Center For Mill Valley Is Platform Of Club's Candidates

A teen center for Mill Valley is the unanimous platform of 16 candidates who seek six seats on the Mill Valley Teen Club Council in elections to be held tomorrow at a club dance at the American Legion Hall.

The platform was set by the present council, who ask, according to President Greg Corey, a teen center be made from the abandoned "pink houses" at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto or a complete new building.

Corey, an incumbent, and incumbents Steve Novacek and Steve Long will retain their seats. The three are seniors. One freshman, two sophomores and three juniors are to be elected from the following contestants:

Patty Creighton, Terri Varney and Debby Danford, freshmen; Ken Clark, Ted Carrillo, Bruce Crawford, Shelley Smith, Patty Burke, Debby Nelson, sophomores; Linda Allroggen, Ronni Gelardi, John Hammond, Gail Harrington, Jill Rutledge, Chris Schuepbach and Stephanie Wickham, juniors.

A report is to be given the Mill Valley city council next month on a study of the "pink houses" being made by the youth activities committee. The report is to find feasibility of the two former motels for conversion to a center.

Corey, also a member of the committee, states the urgent need for a teen center and adds: "I feel that work on such a center should be started by next summer."

Richardson Bay Recreational Uses Reassurance Given Parks Group

Reassurance that recreational uses of Richardson Bay aren't being abandoned because of impending master plan changes was given to the county Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday by county Planning Director B. D. Dobbs.

"We still want to stick to the open water concept," said Dobbs, "but we're eliminating the pierhead and bulkhead lines, which just didn't work, and telling property owners that we are not wedded to a particular line.

"There should be less stringent restriction on the individual owner under the revised master plan."

Chairman Helen Newman stressed the need for public access to the water. "We had hoped that a promenade would be considered," she said. "The next generation should enjoy our waterways."

"Perhaps 'promenade' is not the proper term," suggested Commissioner Gibbs H. Lawson, "but access for the people is more important than the expediency of highest commercial development."

Lawson said that provision of some form of public walkway or other identification of the people with the shoreline area will be better than allowing commercial extensions onto the water which would shut off public access. But he said also that he recognized that problems of ownership are involved.

Dobbs said that present plans don't provide for a walkway so master plan changes involves no loss in that respect. As work goes on, he said, the commission and others interested will be given opportunity to review. Dobbs felt it was not necessary that the commission restate its attitude.

Continued work toward establishing a caretaker's quarters at Paradise Beach County Park is in progress, Dobbs said, promising an early report.

Ross Talley of the planning commission staff, speaking as a resident of the Northbridge area, explained plans originated by the Gallinas Boat Club and other Northbridge-Santa Venetia groups for dredging Gallinas Creek to the Civic Center where it is hoped that some turn-around or tie-up boat facility may be provided.

If the creek can be brought to proper standards it is hoped that later maintenance may be cared for by the Corps of Army Engineers, Talley said.

Discussion of the Corte Madera Creek preliminary recreation plan brought out possibilities of conferences with the State Division of Highways for possible recreational use of land connected with the Greenbrae interchange of Highway 101 and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Lawson advised discussion with the cities concerned in the Corte Madera Flood Control Project, as well as the College of Marin, concerning cooperation on recreational development.

Meeting Postponed

The Point Reyes School District board meeting was postponed last night due to lack of a quorum. The next meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the home of J. H. Mendoza.

Answers To M'Carthy

Following are the answers from the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors to charges by Sen. John F. McCarthy.

1. It is "not true" that "irregular bidding procedures" were followed in awarding commute ticket contracts in 1961 and 1962. A. Kimball and Co. had been the only bidder for furnishing commute tickets since they were first prepared in April of 1959. In 1961 and 1962 I.B.M. submitted an alternate and less expensive proposal which bridge directors "found unacceptable" and the attorney ruled "did not conform to specifications."

2. It is "not true" that general manager James Adam awarded a soil engineering contract to the firm of Dames and Moore, freezing out other engineering firms. All contracts are awarded by the directors, not by the general manager, London's report said. In the engineering profession it is "considered unethical to bid for professional services" and "our experience is that no responsible and ethical engineering firm" would do so. The general manager "invited a proposal" from Dames and Moore.

When this was submitted to the directors they asked if others could be obtained. None was, so the directors awarded the contract.

3. It is "not true" that $10,000 allocated for expenses of the rapid transit engineering review committee has been lost, and "insinuations are reprehensible, deliberately misleading, and not based on fact."

The $10,000 was appropriated for "travel and preliminary expenses." Of this sum, $5,971.35 was used and unexpended balance is still on the district's books at $4,028.65. Of the $30,000 allocated for fees for the review board, $28,068.63 have been spent. Accounting and auditing controls of the district make it "not possible for any moneys to become lost and made available to anyone," the statement declared.

4. It is "not true" that traffic engineer Arthur Jenkins is paid exorbitant sums above his $5,250 annual retainer, or that $150,000 worth of reports "are now obsolete or unusable."

"Regardless of the amount of any single invoice, no payment is made without approval of the auditing committee and authorization of the board of directors." Fees charged by Jenkins for specialized studies "have been at a lower rate than the regular scale of fees paid for other consulting engineers."

All reports have not been implemented but this is "not an unusual occurrence in public agency administrations. To say unequivocally that reports relating to toll plaza organization, etc., are now 'obsolete or unusable' is not true."

5. It is "not true" that secret meetings were held to "interrogate, screen and brief" the engineering review committee, or that closed meetings are held in advance or after regularly scheduled board meetings.

The engineers did discuss the scope of their employment with members of the board at an informal luncheon held Jan. 2, two days before they were employed, but "no action or decisions were made on any rapid transit or bridge matters." As to closed meetings before or after board meetings, "this is absolutely untrue." The directors "gather and engage in conversations but these cannot in any way be construed as closed meetings."

6. It is "true" that $10,000 life insurance is carried on all officers and directors of the bridge, with $50,000 travel insurance when they are on bridge business. Other employees receive $2,500 life insurance over and above insurance provided for them under the state compensation insurance fund.

This is entirely legal and a matter of prerogative of the board, not in conflict with standard practices in business. The cost to the district for the directors' and officers' insurance is $39.37½ per month for all 19 persons involved.

7. It is "not true as stated" that there is a gross misuse of public funds for lobbying, $17,000 during the 1961 legislative session.

Year after year, Senator McCarthy has "introduced bills in the state senate designed to abolish the bridge district. He has carried on a campaign of continuous public abuse and harrassment. Were it not for Senator McCarthy's continuous activities in misrepresenting the facts and broadcasting misinformation about the district, it would not be necessary to spend as much money at Sacramento for a legislative representative."

After the 1961 session the board invited Sen. Randolph J. Collier, chairman of Senate Transportation Committee, to a dinner to "explain the legislative sight which resulted in defeat of Senator McCarthy's bill to create a Golden Gate Transportation Commission. There should be no criticism attached to such a dinner at which Senator Collier presented his views to directors as a representative of the county of Del Norte, a part of the bridge district."

8. It is "not true" that Arthur Young and Co., the bridge auditors, have as their attorney Jerome B. White, who is also attorney for the bridge district. White is now and has not been since 1955 a member of the legal firm which in 1961 became the legal advisor for Arthur Young and Co.

London's report concluded with a denial of charges by Hendricks that the general manager "docks bridge employees at overtime rates when they are absent from work. The bridge has a regular program of sick leave credits on which the bridge employees may draw for necessary absences.

"It is only when an employee fails to report for work, and does not notify his superior in advance, that he is asked to reimburse the district for a replacement, if one is required, at the actual overtime cost paid to his substitute." The rule was put into effect on advice of the attorney and has only been invoked four times in over eight years, London said.

MAN OF THE MONTH — Harold Clements, 20, a Tamalpais High School graduate, was selected the 55th Munitions Maintenance Squadron "Maintenance Man of the Month" for November. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth F. Clements, formerly of Mill Valley, he is stationed at Clinton Sherman Air Force Base in Oklahoma.

Firemen Issue Warning On Christmas Tree Care

Volunteer firemen of Kentfield, Larkspur and Corte Madera today urged residents to take special precautions with Christmas trees if they buy them early.

"In two weeks the trees get very dry," said Kentfield fire prevention officer Ralph Stahlbaum. "We urge buyers to get the trees flameproofed."

Chiefs George Bartram of Larkspur and Frank Nelson of Corte Madera urged that in addition the trees be kept in water containers.

Bartram cited these measures urged by the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

1. Obtain a tree that has been stored outdoors and keep it outdoors until needed.
2. Cut off the end of the trunk diagonally at least one inch above the original cut end.
3. Stand the tree in a container of water and keep in a cool place.

California's Brussels sprout crop is confined to four central counties, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo and Santa Cruz.

Firemen Issue Warning On Christmas Tree Care

Volunteer firemen of Kentfield, Larkspur and Corte Madera today urged residents to take special precautions with Christmas trees if they buy them early.

"In two weeks the trees get very dry," said Kentfield fire prevention officer Ralph Stahlbaum. "We urge buyers to get the trees flameproofed."

Chiefs George Bartram of Larkspur and Frank Nelson of Corte Madera urged that in addition the trees be kept in water containers.

Bartram cited these measures urged by the National Board of Fire Underwriters:

1. Obtain a tree that has been stored outdoors and keep it outdoors until needed.
2. Cut off the end of the trunk diagonally at least one inch above the original cut end.
3. Stand the tree in a container of water and keep in a cool place.

'A' And 'B' Street Policy To Continue

The Mill Valley City Council last night voted unanimously to continue its present policy of keeping open rights-of-way of all city-dedicated streets—"A" and "B"—and to maintain them in a manner "commensurate with the improvements."

Councilman Michael Wornum recommended the continuance of policy pending his subcommittee's survey, which may take until spring to finish, of City Engineer Stanley M. Bala's "B" Streets Report."

Council decided, in related actions, to spend $1,250 on Ethel Avenue, one of its 37 "B" streets. It accepted the low bid of $650 from Russ Lauterwasser for repairing bridge No. one on Ethel. (The second bridge remains closed pending a study by Bala on how to reopen it.)

Councilmen also approved spending $600 for soil tests to be made by Harding and Associates of San Rafael. Soil will be tested at the "creeping slide" located between the two bridges just above Russell and Gooch Mortuary. Funds will come from the neighborhood street program, City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants stated.

Wornum, in a preliminary report on "B" streets, said his committee needs more statistics before it can reach conclusions.

He said streets could be brought up to standard either by a $438,578 bond issue or by asking residents of each street to form their own maintenance district.

H. H. Finzen of 16 Eugene Street said that, at a prior meeting, Ross Benson, public works director, stated it would cost $8,000 a year to maintain "B" streets. "That figure is not far from wrong," replied Almcrants.

The council adopted a resolution establishing the position of an administrative assistant with a starting salary of $515 per month. Harold E. Soule, a Fells Institute intern from the University of Pennsylvania, is employed by the city for six months, his term ending Jan. 3, at $150 per month. His position is equivalent of administrative assistant.

Council also learned that Almcrants has been interviewing planning consultants for the city's open part-time position.

The council voted 4-1, Wornum voting "No," to authorize Bala to study traffic patterns in the Camino Alto-East Blithedale-Ashford area as far as the Alto Interchange and present cost estimates. Bala was authorized to spend up to $3,000.

Council members asked City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to draft a resolution on extending interim zoning on the North Ridge. Council also voted 3-2, councilmen George D. Monardo and William E. Secor voting "No," to refer the matter to planning commission to proceed with zoning hearings on North Ridge.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Approved a planned unit development for Marin Capital Co.'s Scott Valley Unit 2 as recommended by planning commission.
2. Heard final reading of an ordinance adopting the municipal code.
3. Introduced an ordinance to increase new sewer connection fees $75 in and outside the city.
4. Adopted an ordinance requiring review by council of variances and use permits relating to substandard lots.
5. Heard that a clamshell dredge will start work on the small craft harbor in January.
6. Passed resolution accepting $14,595 in bonds for the Corte Madera Avenue sewer project.
7. Passed a resolution establishing Lakewood Avenue as one way, northward, and Parkwood Avenue one way, southward.
8. Told six residents of Hillside Avenue to advise the city immediately if there was any excavation or building on the Lunsford property without proper permits.
9. Authorized up to $300 for placing a service sign board at the Camino Alto-Miller Avenue city entrance and authorized $14.60 per month to be paid to Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for two lights to light the dividing area at the same city entrance.
10. Read a letter from police chief Dan Terzich commending reserve officer Joe Penders for catching two vandals on Hillside Avenue last week.
11. Paid $51,717 in warrants.

Mill Valley Housewife Booked On Petty Theft

A 40-year-old Mill Valley housewife was booked in Marin County Jail yesterday by San Rafael police on suspicion of petty theft after a store detective at Macy's Department Store, Fourth and Court streets, San Rafael, reportedly saw her take $43.43 worth of merchanise.

Detective Catherine M. Carpenter said she saw Mrs. Mary B. Good of 18 Morning Sun Avenue take two sweaters, a toy and a plastic horse yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Good, released on $262.50 bail, was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

The Abbey of Gethsemani near Bardstown, Ky., was the first Trappist monastery in the United States. It was founded in 1848.

Green Scarf Bandit Foiled In Attempt To Escape Folsom

FOLSOM (UPI) — James Monroe Rudolph, the so-called green scarf bandit of Los Angeles, was back in custody today after surrendering to shooting Folsom prison guards during an escape attempt.

Warden Robert Heinze said Rudolph, 45, serving a term for attempted first degree robbery, slipped off from a group of television viewers last night and escaped out a window after sawing through a steel bar.

Heinze said Rudolph apparently hoped to escape in dense fog covering the area but was spotted shortly after leaving the building and gave himself up as tower guards started shooting.

Rachel Carson Defends Pesticide View

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Arthur Rachel Carson claims that critics of her best-selling book, "Silent Spring," are refuting things she never said.

Miss Carson said she had never advocated complete elimination of insecticides. What she has called for, she said, is the development of new ways of controlling insects without endangering human beings and the balance of nature.

The author said the chemical industry and U.S. Agriculture Department pesticide scientists have been among her most vocal critics.

Opponents of the book have argued that it is one-sided and plays down the advantages of chemical controls in pesticide programs.

Speaking before the Women's National Press Club luncheon yesterday, Miss Carson contended that dangers from insecticides continue.

She cited recent cases in the northwest, the Boston area and in Canada and Turkey to document her point.

Miss Carson also noted that from 1959 through 1961, a total of 135 pilots were killed in 873 airplane crashes while cropdusting She raised the possibility that there was a connection between the spray the pilots used and the fact that they crashed.

She said the Federal Aviation Agency, in its study of the problem, was taking as a basic assumption that the chemicals from the sprays accumulate in body cells.

Kennedy To See A-Blasted Hole In Ground During Weekend Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy will view a nuclear-fashioned hole in the ground in Nevada on his weekend tour of military and scientific centers in the Midwest and Far West.

The White House, in announcing Kennedy's schedule, said he will fly over the U.S. nuclear weapons test ground in southern Nevada on Saturday. Among other things he will see the crater, 1,200 feet across and several hundred feet deep, that was dug by a nuclear detonation equivalent to 100,000 tons of TNT in a test explosion last July.

Kennedy will leave Washington tomorrow morning, landing first at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha, Neb., for a tour of the Strategic Air Command.

He will go from there to Santa Fe, N.M. ,arriving early in the afternoon, for a tour of the Los Alamos scientific laboratory where he'll get a briefing on the Rover nuclear-powered rocket project.

By helicopter he will travel to Kirtland Air Force Base, near Albuquerque, N. M., for tour of the Sandia Corp plant where many of the items used in nuclear bombs and warheads are made.

He will stay overnight at Albuquerque, and attend mass at the base chapel.

After Mass, Kennedy will fly to Indian Springs Air Force Base, Nev. He will fly by helicopter over the nuclear testing grounds.

After that Kennedy will fly to Palm Springs, for a day and a half of relaxation. He will stay at singer Bing Crosby's home, and leave Sunday night for an overnight flight to Washington.

Water District Lets Contract

A $3,718 contract for comprehensive and multiple liability insurance for three years for the North Marin County Water District was awarded to Marsh and McLennan—Cosgrove and Co. of San Francisco.

This was the lowest of two bids opened by the North Marin Water Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night.

The commissioners also approved extension agreements for the convalescent home on Tamalpais Avenue and for three houses off Marion Avenue. It approved a $170 work change order on the Sunset Reservoir.

'A' And 'B' Street Policy To Continue

The Mill Valley City Council last night voted unanimously to continue its present policy of keeping open rights-of-way of all city-dedicated streets—"A" and "B"—and to maintain them in a manner "commensurate with the improvements."

Councilman Michael Wornum recommended the continuance of policy pending his subcommittee's survey, which may take until spring to finish, of City Engineer Stanley M. Bala's "B" Streets Report."

Council decided, in related actions, to spend $1,250 on Ethel Avenue, one of its 37 "B" streets. It accepted the low bid of $650 from Russ Lauterwasser for repairing bridge No. one on Ethel. (The second bridge remains closed pending a study by Bala on how to reopen it.)

Councilmen also approved spending $600 for soil tests to be made by Harding and Associates of San Rafael. Soil will be tested at the "creeping slide" located between the two bridges just above Russell and Gooch Mortuary. Funds will come from the neighborhood street program, City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants stated.

Wornum, in a preliminary report on "B" streets, said his committee needs more statistics before it can reach conclusions.

He said streets could be brought up to standard either by a $438,578 bond issue or by asking residents of each street to form their own maintenance district.

H. H. Finzen of 16 Eugene Street said that, at a prior meeting, Ross Benson, public works director, stated it would cost $8,000 a year to maintain "B" streets. "That figure is not far from wrong," replied Almcrants.

The council adopted a resolution establishing the position of an administrative assistant with a starting salary of $515 per month. Harold E. Soule, a Fells Institute intern from the University of Pennsylvania, is employed by the city for six months, his term ending Jan. 3, at $150 per month. His position is equivalent of administrative assistant.

Council also learned that Almcrants has been interviewing planning consultants for the city's open part-time position.

The council voted 4-1, Wornum voting "No," to authorize Bala to study traffic patterns in the Camino Alto-East Blilthedale-Ashford area as far as the Alto Interchange and present cost estimates. Bala was authorized to spend up to $3,000.

Council members asked City Atty. Leland H. Jordan to draft a resolution on extending interim zoning on the North Ridge. Council also voted 3-2, councilmen George D. Monardo and William E. Secor voting "No," to refer the matter to planning commission to proceed with zoning hearings on North Ridge.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Approved a planned unit development for Marin Capital Co.'s Scott Valley Unit 2 as recommended by planning commission.
2. Heard final reading of an ordinance adopting the municipal code.
3. Introduced an ordinance to increase new sewer connection fees $75 in and outside the city.
4. Adopted an ordinance requiring review by council of variances and use permits relating to substandard lots.
5. Heard that a clamshell dredge will start work on the small craft harbor in January.
6. Passed resolution accepting $14,595 in bonds for the Corte Madera Avenue sewer project.
7. Passed a resolution establishing Lakewood Avenue as one way, northward, and Parkwood Avenue one way, southward.
8. Told six residents of Hillside Avenue to advise the city immediately if there was any excavation or building on the Lunsford property without proper permits.
9. Authorized up to $300 for placing a service sign board at the Camino Alto-Miller Avenue city entrance and authorized $14.60 per month to be paid to Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for two lights to light the dividing area at the same city entrance.
10. Read a letter from police chief Dan Terzich commending reserve officer Joe Penders for catching two vandals on Hillside Avenue last week.
11. Paid $51,717 in warrants.

Mill Valley Housewife Booked On Petty Theft

A 40-year-old Mill Valley housewife was booked in Marin County Jail yesterday by San Rafael police on suspicion of petty theft after a store detective at Macy's Department Store, Fourth and Court streets, San Rafael, reportedly saw her take $43.43 worth of merchanise.

Detective Catherine M. Carpenter said she saw Mrs. Mary B. Good of 18 Morning Sun Avenue take two sweaters, a toy and a plastic horse yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Good, released on $262.50 bail, was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

The Abbey of Gethsemani near Bardstown, Ky., was the first Trappist monastery in the United States. It was founded in 1848.

Green Scarf Bandit Foiled In Attempt To Escape Folsom

FOLSOM (UPI — James Monroe Rudolph, the so-called green scarf bandit of Los Angeles, was back in custody today after surrendering to shooting Folsom prison guards during an escape attempt.

Warden Robert Heinze said Rudolph, 45, serving a term for attempted first degree robbery, slipped off from a group of television viewers last night and escaped out a window after sawing through a steel bar.

Heinze said Rudolph apparently hoped to escape in dense fog covering the area but was spotted shortly after leaving the building and gave himself up as tower guards started shooting.

Rachel Carson Defends Pesticide View

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Arthur Rachel Carson claims that critics of her best-selling book, "Silent Spring," are refuting things she never said.

Miss Carson said she had never advocated complete elimination of insecticides. What she has called for, she said, is the development of new ways of controlling insects without endangering human beings and the balance of nature.

The author said the chemical industry and U.S. Agriculture Department pesticide scientists have been among her most vocal critics.

Opponents of the book have argued that it is one-sided and plays down the advantages of chemical controls in pesticide programs.

Speaking before the Women's National Press Club luncheon yesterday, Miss Carson contended that dangers from insecticides continue.

She cited recent cases in the northwest, the Boston area and in Canada and Turkey to document her point.

Miss Carson also noted that from 1959 through 1961, a total of 135 pilots were killed in 873 airplane crashes while cropdusting She raised the possibility that there was a connection between the spray the pilots used and the fact that they crashed.

She said the Federal Aviation Agency, in its study of the problem, was taking as a basic assumption that the chemicals from the sprays accumulate in body cells.

Kennedy To See A-Blasted Hole In Ground During Weekend Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy will view a nuclear-fashioned hole in the ground in Nevada on his weekend tour of military and scientific centers in the Midwest and Far West.

The White House, in announcing Kennedy's schedule, said he will fly over the U.S. nuclear weapons test ground in southern Nevada on Saturday. Among other things he will see the crater, 1,200 feet across and several hundred feet deep, that was dug by a nuclear detonation equivalent to 100,000 tons of TNT in a test explosion last July.

Kennedy will leave Washington tomorrow morning, landing first at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha, Neb., for a tour of the Strategic Air Command.

He will go from there to Santa Fe, N.M. ,arriving early in the afternoon, for a tour of the Los Alamos scientific laboratory where he'll get a briefing on the Rover nuclear-powered rocket project.

By helicopter he will travel to Kirtland Air Force Base, near Albuquerque, N. M., for tour of the Sandia Corp plant where many of the items used in nuclear bombs and warheads are made.

He will stay overnight at Albuquerque, and attend mass at the base chapel.

After Mass, Kennedy will fly to Indian Springs Air Force Base, Nev. He will fly by helicopter over the nuclear testing grounds.

After that Kennedy will fly to Palm Springs, for a day and a half of relaxation. He will stay at singer Bing Crosby's home, and leave Sunday night for an overnight flight to Washington.

Water District Lets Contract

A $3,718 contract for comprehensive and multiple liability insurance for three years for the North Marin County Water District was awarded to Marsh and McLennan—Cosgrove and Co. of San Francisco.

This was the lowest of two bids opened by the North Marin Water Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday night.

The commissioners also approved extension agreements for the convalescent home on Tamalpais Avenue and for three houses off Marion Avenue. It approved a $170 work change order on the Sunset Reservoir.

Shoreline Called In Works Long Enough

FARMLAND EFFIGY HUNG

A police officer lowers a hay-stuffed dummy from a Herreid, S.D., light pole where he was raised by unknown persons as a result of neighboring Mound City's fight with Herreid over location of a U.S. Agriculture Department office. (AP Wirephoto)

Shoreline Highway improvement in Marin County "has been in the mill for 30 years and that's long enough," one member of a panel of four declared on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today.

But though the other three concurred in Frank Meyer's wish for improvement, all felt there is need to give scenic rather than freeway status to the road and that a short wait for rules is justified.

"I can't but agree," said Supervisor George Ludy, like Meyer a West Marin resident, "that a freeway has no place in this. In all sincerity I believe that our traffic problems of West Marin can be handled nicely by a well-designed scenic highway not yet defined but promised at the next session of the legislature."

Ludy said this was why Marin supervisors voted for delay since otherwise they'd be "giving a green light to a freeway, an obscene word in Marin County."

The other two participants in a discussion moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer and to be rebroadcast from tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday were already avowed proponents of delay—Supervisor Peter Behr, whose motion carried the day in winning his board to a wait-a-while policy, and Dr. Joel F. Gustafson, president of the Point Reyes Seashore Foundation.

"We're constantly being cast in the role of being anacronistic opponents of improving the highway," said Behr. "We deny this.

"But the Division of Highways itself says it is going to do bulldozing for a four-lane freeway and we take them to be truthful. The question is whether we agree that massive cuts and fills are necessary, whether we want to give a 29-million-dollar blank check for this."

Gustafson termed the Shoreline "an awkward road requiring drastic improvement" but said that under present freeway design requirements practically a flat straight road would result.

"Limited access" by definition means no more than one entrance every quarter-mile, said Gustafson, pointing out that this means an access road on each side which turns a four-lane highway into one of six lanes in effect. Traffic needs now or in the future future don't require this, he said, so a short wait for new rules is justified.

Meyer declared that the present Shoreline is little above the wagon-road phase which succeeded an original Spanish pack trail.

Nature, he said, has already indicated the route required and Redwood Empire Assn. members feel there has already been to much Marin delay.

Meyer tried to convey the idea of 280 miles of Shoreline running north of the Golden Gate through several counties as the important concept, pointing out that Marin has the only section not given large and sustained improvement—"by far the poorest section."

Supervisors from Napa, Mendocino and Sonoma counties in appearing before last Thursday's State Highway Commission meeting did so, said Meyer, as part of a total Redwood Empire concept in which no valid reason for delay on the Marin part of the road could be seen.

"The northern part of the highway has had great improvement," he said. "There are high arched bridges across the canyons of the Mendocino coast. Sonoma County has done a lot of work."

Both Behr and Ludy felt that access to the Point Reyes National Seashore could best be handled by east-west roads connecting with Highway 101 which Behr termed more a "killer" than the present Shoreline.

"If anyone can solve the present Highway 101 traffic without a parallel road," said Meyer, "we'd like suggestions."

New Yell Leaders Told At College

The "Take Fives" were automatically elected as spring yell leaders at College of Marin this week after the opposition, Hugh Wallace and his teammates, were forced to withdraw when Wallace took ill with appendicitis.

The "Take Fives" are: Nels Larsen, Bill McGregor, Mike Brusati, Bob Melbern and Ken Bowerman.

The "Live Fives" were elected spring songleaders over the seven-member "Misteps." The "Live Fives" are: Bev Howard, Marlene Carlson, Carol Fousti, Sandi McKay and Barbara Woodhurst.

Mill Valley City Employees Planning Retirement System

Mill Valley city employees, thwarted in efforts to join the California State Retirement System, will probably become members of a city self-administered plan, it was announced at last night's meeting of the city council.

Action was put over until Dec. 19 pending a meeting Monday with City Atty. Leland H. Jordan and City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants to discuss the proposed plan with Arthur England, an actuary with Coates, Herfuth and England. It is proposed that the firm, which acts as actuaries for the state system, will set up Mill Valley's plan.

Decision to set up its own plan was made, according to Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, since the city was unable to get a return of $90,000 paid into its present plan with Occidental Life Insurance Co. Without these funds, the state cannot accept a policy with the city. Occidental states its contract does not call for release of the funds, that the only thing it must do is provide paid up annuities on employees retirement or on cancellation of the contract.

Thirty-nine employees have protested to council against continued payment of money to Occidental, Almcrants told council.

While the plan is being developed the city will deposit payroll deductions plus city money in a special pension trust account until the plan is in force. The city ceased its contract with Occidental Oct. 1 but has a grace period of coverage until Dec. 30.

Ceasing the contract does not cancel the employees policies but means no more money will be paid into Occidental.

Ben Hartwell, police sergeant and head of the Mill Valley City Employees Assn., told the council "we want no part of their paid up annuities. We want their money . . . I think council is going along in the right lines and we're with you."

Corinthian Yacht

A $100,000 to $120,000 remodeling program is being planned by the Corinthian Yacht Club, according to Robert Evans of Belvedere, commodore.

Plans call for the relocation of the bar and dining room and provisions for more storage space. Evans could not predict when the work will start as contracts have not been signed.

"But the Division of Highways itself says it is going to do bulldozing for a four-lane freeway and we take them to be truthful. The question is whether we agree that massive cuts and fills are necessary, whether we want to give a 29-million-dollar blank check for this."

Gustafson termed the Shoreline "an awkward road requiring drastic improvement" but said that under present freeway design requirements practically a flat straight road would result.

"Limited access" by definition means no more than one entrance every quarter-mile, said Gustafson, pointing out that this means an access road on each side which turns a four-lane highway into one of six lanes in effect. Traffic needs now or in the future future don't require this, he said, so a short wait for new rules is justified.

Meyer declared that the present Shoreline is little above the wagon-road phase which succeeded an original Spanish pack trail.

Nature, he said, has already indicated the route required and Redwood Empire Assn. members feel there has already been to much Marin delay.

Meyer tried to convey the idea of 280 miles of Shoreline running north of the Golden Gate through several counties as the important concept, pointing out that Marin has the only section not given large and sustained improvement—"by far the poorest section."

Supervisors from Napa, Mendocino and Sonoma counties in appearing before last Thursday's State Highway Commission meeting did so, said Meyer, as part of a total Redwood Empire concept in which no valid reason for delay on the Marin part of the road could be seen.

"The northern part of the highway has had great improvement," he said. "There are high arched bridges across the canyons of the Mendocino coast. Sonoma County has done a lot of work."

Both Behr and Ludy felt that access to the Point Reyes National Seashore could best be handled by east-west roads connecting with Highway 101 which Behr termed more a "killer" than the present Shoreline.

"If anyone can solve the present Highway 101 traffic without a parallel road," said Meyer, "we'd like suggestions."

New Yell Leaders Told At College

The "Take Fives" were automatically elected as spring yell leaders at College of Marin this week after the opposition, Hugh Wallace and his teammates, were forced to withdraw when Wallace took ill with appendicitis.

The "Take Fives" are: Nels Larsen, Bill McGregor, Mike Brusati, Bob Melbern and Ken Bowerman.

The "Live Fives" were elected spring songleaders over the seven-member "Misteps." The "Live Fives" are: Bev Howard, Marlene Carlson, Carol Fousti, Sandi McKay and Barbara Woodhurst.

Mill Valley City Employees Planning Retirement System

Mill Valley city employees, thwarted in efforts to join the California State Retirement System, will probably become members of a city self-administered plan, it was announced at last night's meeting of the city council.

Action was put over until Dec. 19 pending a meeting Monday with City Atty. Leland H. Jordan and City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants to discuss the proposed plan with Arthur England, an actuary with Coates, Herfuth and England. It is proposed that the firm, which acts as actuaries for the state system, will set up Mill Valley's plan.

Decision to set up its own plan was made, according to Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks, since the city was unable to get a return of $90,000 paid into its present plan with Occidental Life Insurance Co. Without these funds, the state cannot accept a policy with the city. Occidental states its contract does not call for release of the funds, that the only thing it must do is provide paid up annuities on employees retirement or on cancellation of the contract.

Thirty-nine employees have protested to council against continued payment of money to Occidental, Almcrants told council.

While the plan is being developed the city will deposit payroll deductions plus city money in a special pension trust account until the plan is in force. The city ceased its contract with Occidental Oct. 1 but has a grace period of coverage until Dec. 30.

Ceasing the contract does not cancel the employees policies but means no more money will be paid into Occidental.

Ben Hartwell, police sergeant and head of the Mill Valley City Employees Assn., told the council "we want no part of their paid up annuities. We want their money . . . I think council is going along in the right lines and we're with you."

Corinthian Yacht

A $100,000 to $120,000 remodeling program is being planned by the Corinthian Yacht Club, according to Robert Evans of Belvedere, commodore.

Plans call for the relocation of the bar and dining room and provisions for more storage space. Evans could not predict when the work will start as contracts have not been signed.

San Rafael High Senior Class Plans To Have Ball June 11

San Rafael High School's 1963 graduating class will have its senior ball on Tuesday, June 11.

The class was polled on its choice of a date after parents at the San Rafael Board of Education meeting last week protested decision by school administrators to have the dance in late May so it would precede the final examination period.

The polml, conducted this week in senior government classes, showed almost nobody in favor of the proposed May 24 date, disclosed Florence Abraham, dean of the class.

Senior were asked to choose among May 24, May 31, June 7 and June 11 as date for the dance. All fall on Friday except June 11.

Of 367 seniors, 299 voted, Miss Abraham reported. Of these, 166 cast their ballots for June 11 and 123 for June 7. The remaining 10 were divided between the two May dates.

The ball thus will stick to San Rafael High tradition in being held during the final week of school. Tuesday was chosen instead of a proposed Wednesday date, said Miss Abraham, because the school calendar calls for Thursday, June 13, to be the last day of school, and the seniors are given the day off after the ball.

The dance will be held in Marin County for the first time, probably at Peacock Gap Country Club. In past years, it has been held in San Francisco.

Terra Linda High School's first graduating class will have its senior ball in San Francisco, on June 1.

Dropouts Not Working

Greenbrae Man Announces New Sausalito Men's Store

Gene Hiller Exclusive Men's Wear will open at 690 Bridgeway, Sausalito, next Wednesday.

The shop, owned by Gene Hiller, 136 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, is in part of the old Sausalito Hotel building. It was designed in Spanish architecture by Richard J. Hiatt of Mill Valley. The Spanish motif, carried out in both exterior and interior design, features wrought iron railings, a curved eight-foot oak door and an aged brass lantern weighing a half ton suspended from the ceiling.

Hiller, who has maintained a men's store at 463 Geary Street, San Francisco, for the past eight years, said he will spend most of his time in Sausalito.

A large custom tailoring department will be maintained, he said, featuring Louis Roth clothes, for which he holds an exclusive dealership in Marin County. Other lines to be carried include John Christian Dior, Adrian, Bronzini, Schiaparelli, Bernhard Altmann, and leisure clothes by Oleg Cassini and Gino Paoli.

Lecture On Russia

A second public lecture by Dr. Duval B. Jaros of Kentfield on "Facts and Observations on Russia" will be given at 3 p.m. Sunday at Olney Hall, College of Marin, Kentfield, under auspices of the Henry George School of Social Science. This has been arranged because of overflow attendance at an earlier similar lecture.

Another Ex-Nazi May Be Arrested For War Crimes

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The arrest of a higher ex-Nazi on war crimes charges may follow the detention here of a former Nazi colonel accused of ordering the gassing of 90,000 Jews in World War II.

Patrick Weichman, head of the international police organization Interpol in Chile, said last night "an even higher Nazi war criminal" was believed to be in this country and his arrest may follow soon.

He made the statement after former Col. Walter Herman Julius Rauff appeared before the Supreme Court and declared his innocence of the war crimes for which West Germany is seeking his extradition.

Weichman refused to name the second man whose arrest is expected.

Last March, Martin Bormann, Adolf Hitler's deputy party chief, was reported located in Chile, but the suspect turned out to be another man. Bormann was reported to have met death in attempting to escape from Berlin in 1948 and was declared legally dead eight years ago by a West German court. But rumors that he is alive keep cropping up.

Rauff was an office colleague of Adolf Eichmann, who was executed in Israel last May 31 for complicity in the death of six million Jews. Rauff was arrested in Punta Arenas, Chile's southernmost city, on Tuesday.

Another Ex-Nazi May Be Arrested For War Crimes

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The arrest of a higher ex-Nazi on war crimes charges may follow the detention here of a former Nazi colonel accused of ordering the gassing of 90,000 Jews in World War II.

Patrick Weichman, head of the international police organization Interpol in Chile, said last night "an even higher Nazi war criminal" was believed to be in this country and his arrest may follow soon.

He made the statement after former Col. Walter Herman Julius Rauff appeared before the Supreme Court and declared his innocence of the war crimes for which West Germany is seeking his extradition.

Weichman refused to name the second man whose arrest is expected.

Last March, Martin Bormann, Adolf Hitler's deputy party chief, was reported located in Chile, but the suspect turned out to be another man. Bormann was reported to have met death in attempting to escape from Berlin in 1948 and was declared legally dead eight years ago by a West German court. But rumors that he is alive keep cropping up.

Rauff was an office colleague of Adolf Eichmann, who was executed in Israel last May 31 for complicity in the death of six million Jews. Rauff was arrested in Punta Arenas, Chile's southernmost city, on Tuesday.

Madrigal Singers To Debut Saturday

College of Marin's newest musical ensemble, the Madrigal Singers, will make its first public appearance Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in Olney Hall of the college at Kentfield.

Presented with the singers as piano soloist will be Judy Paplow, College of Marin student, who will play piano works by Schubert and Chopin and join faculty member Larry Snyder in playing "Sonata in G Major for Two Pianos" by J. S. Bach.

The Madrigal Singers, including both students and faculty members at the college, will sing two groups of madrigals from the 16th and 17th century by such composers as Purcell, Morley, Donato, Byrd, and Benet.

Dr. S. Drummong Wolff, who directs the Madrigal Singers, will join Snyder in playing a group of selections for two pianos by Handel and J. S. Bach.

There will be no admittance charge for the program.

Drunken Driver Given $110 Fine

Richard Holcomb, 18, of 555 Canal Street, San Rafael, drew $110 fine and six months probation yesterday for drunken driving.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Holcomb for driving while intoxicated along North San Pedro Road on Nov. 18. For the next three months, he may drive only for work.

On Tuesday, Robert Wilbur Bilderback, 47, of 8 Greenwood Avenue, San Rafael, paid $220 fine for drunken driving. For three months, he may drive only for work, and he is on probation for six months.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas sentenced Bilderback for drunken driving along Redhill Avenue in San Anselmo last July 28.

A one-degree drop in temperature may increase natural gas consumption in California by 50 million cubic feet a day.

Alto School Pupils In Yule Program

Pupils of the Alto School in Mill Valley will be included among the 600 young singers from nine Bay Area schools to be heard and seen Dec. 23 on a special Christmas season program over KGO-TV.

Mrs. Ethelee Reed will direct 35 fourth graders from Alto School in singing "Posada," "The First Noel" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The program of carols and hymns, entitled "Young Voice of Christmas," will be seen at 5:30 p.m.

San Rafael Might Lease Legion Building For Recreation Center

The San Rafael Recreation Commission last night decided to investigate leasing the American Legion Building at 317 Fourth Street as the city's first recreation center.

The Marin County Superintendent of School Office moved out of the building today to the Civic Center. Louis Milani, commander of Wilkins Post 37, said the legion was interested in leasing the building.

The commission and the legions's building committee will meet next thursday night to discuss leasing arrangements, according to recreation director Joseph Rodota.

Lions Talk Tonight

Gil Woodworth, district governor of Lions Clubs, will address Corte Madera Lions at 7:30 p.m. today in the Corte Madera Recreation Center regarding the 1962 Lions International Convention held in Nice, France, first vice president Ed Sabo announced.

Rodota said availability of the building would make possible recreation programs on the pre-school, teen-age and senior citizens levels. The building has an 80 by 60 foot room, meeting rooms, kitchen facilities, a stage and ample parking, he said.

Rodota said if next Thursday's meeting is "productive" the commission could have something to propose to the city council on Dec. 17.

Woman Is Injured; Falls Out Of Auto

Alice Snyder, 60, of 2 West End Avenue, San Rafael, was treated for a cut over left eye and scratches on her hand and knees at San Rafael General Hospital after she fell out of a car in San Rafael yesterday.

Mrs. Snyder was a passenger in a car driven by Harold Dean Stiltman, 18, of 168 Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo. She fell out of the car while it was making a left turn from Fourth to C Street shortly after noon, according to San Rafael police.

Strep Infections High In Marin

Streptococcic infections were prevalent in Marin last week, according to the Marin County Health Department.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said 23 strep cases were reported to her department during the week. San Rafael, with 10, had the highest number.

Ten new cases of mumps were reported, of which eight were in San Rafael. There were also nine cases of gonorrhea, three of measles, two of tuberculosis, and one of syphilis.

A case of mumps meningoencephalitis was reported in San Rafael.

'Better Way' To Beat 'Em

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers conceded today that he had figured out a way to beat the Green Bay Packers on Sunday.

"All we have to do is block and tackle better than they do," says Red. "And pass better and catch better and run better."

Even Hickey isn't too confident his club can do this, however. The 49ers are resting on a cozy little win streak of three games in a row—their finest of the season. They have a 6-6 record.

GOOD BALL

"We feel real good about those three wins we got on the road," says Hickey. "Of course, we weren't playing the Packers. But we played good ball.

"But to stop the Packers, we've got to stop Jim Taylor. He's the big one. But just one of them. They take you on man for man. And they are mighty strong. Even when they fail to block, that Taylor still goes. He runs over a lot of people. And he's a 'daylight hunter'—great looking for holes to run through."

Hickey could offer no explanation for the way Detroit manhandled the Packers other than to say "They just got run over."

He isn't about to make any prediction about what his club will do against the Packers—he only hopes for the best. In their last outing against Green Bay it was 31-13 for the Packers. And there was a wee bit of yelping for the coach's scalp among the 49er "cable car alumni."

The heat's off there right now—especially with the three wins in a row.

BAD SHAPE

But the 49ers are not in good shape for the Packers.

Their hopes nosedived last night when halfback Billy Kilmer suffered a broken right leg in an auto crash which finished him for the season.

Other prospectors expected to sit out the Packer contest include defensive end Clark Miller, sidelined by a bruised leg; defensive back Jim Ridlon, recovering from two cracked vertebrae; and tackle Bob St. Clair, who has never come back after injuring his Achilles tendon in mid-season.

Kilmer Out For Season

Halfback Billy Kilmer of the San Francisco 49ers was in good condition today at St. Mary's Hospital after sustaining a badly fractured right leg in an auto accident.

The 23-year-old Kilmer, whose consistent ground-gaining has brightened an otherwise so-so season for 49er fans, was hurt last night when his car went out of control on the Bayshore Freeway near Belmont. The California Highway Patrol said the vehicle left the road, went 435 feet through a field and overturned into a ditch filled with water.

The CHP said the accident occurred after Kilmer had passed another car and lost control of his vehicle. The doors of his door had to be pried open before the football star could be extricated. He was taken to San Mateo Community Hospital and then transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

The CHP said that no citations had been issued in connection with the mishap.

Forty Niner coach Red Hickey said he had visited the former UCLA star and found him in good spirits. The club's doctor, Lloyd Milburn, listed the injuries as a "serious fracture of the tibia above the right ankle plus cuts on his chin and right eye.

Kilmer, who had already been listed as "doubtful" for Sunday's game against powerful Green Bay, now is out for both remaining National Football League contests.

Bobby Gaiters, obtained from the New York Giants in a trade early this year, was expected to start in Kilmer's place.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

SEATTLE — Eddie Cotton, 174, Seattle, outpointed Von Clay, 181, Philadelphia, 10.

MILAN, Italy — Antonio Satta, 116½, Italy, stopped Jose Nievez Martins, 114, Brazil, 6.

Carlos Ortiz Is 'Fighter Of Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz of New York, who knocked out Teruo Kosaka of Japan Monday in the first defense of his world lightweight title, was named "The Fighter Of The Month" by Ring Magazine.

In the heavyweight division, Cassius Clay of Louisville advanced from seventh to fourth because of his knockout victory over Archie Moore last month. Moore dropped from fifth to seventh.

Floyd Patterson was listed as the logical challenger for Sonny Liston's heavyweight title, followed by Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore. and Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz. Ingemar Johansson of Sweden, who was fourth in the last ratings, dropped down a peg while Billy Daniels of New York, who knocked out Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, replaced his victim in the tenth spot.

5 Marin Stations Named For Bass Fishing Contest

Five Marin weigh stations were named in the Schenley Sportsmen's Club striped bass contest for northern California which started Monday and will run 17 consecutive weeks ending midnight, March 31.

The five Marin stations, included in the 39 official weigh stations, are:

SAN RAFAEL — Western Boat Shop, 101 Third Street; Western Sport Shop, 908 A Street. SAUSALITO—Caruso's Bait and Tackle Shop, Gate 5, Marinship; Sausalito Boat and Tackle Shop, Waldo Point. NOVATO—Shell Service Station, 7473 Redwood Highway.

West Shrine Team Picked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The West team for the annual Shrine East-West grid classic Dec. 29 was announced today with 10 players from the Pacific Coast, six from the Southwest and four each from the Big Eight and Rocky Mountain area.

The quarterbacking spots went to Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian and Jim Johnson of Missouri. The third quarter is Larry Balliett of California, but he'll be used on defense.

The great Hugh Campbell of Washington State was chosen as one of the wings; and two fine Oregon tackles, Steve Barnett and Ron Snidow, made the team. The coaches are Dan Devine of Missouri; Jim Sutherland of Washington State; and John Bridgers, Baylor.

The complete team:

ENDS — Hugh Campbell, Washington State; Gene Raesz, Rice; Marvin Fleming, Utah; Conrad Hitchler, Missouri.

TACKLES — Steve Barnett, Oregon; Ron Snidow, Oregon; Dave Costa, Utah; Lionel Aldridge, Utah State.

GUARDS — Tom Hertz, Missouri; Robert Burk, Baylor; Raymond Schoenke, Southern Methodist.

CENTERS — Ray Mansfield, Washington; Jim Maples, Baylor; J. R. Williams, Fresno State.

QUARTERBACKS — Sonny Gibbs, TCU; Larry Balliett, California; Jim Johnson, Missouri.

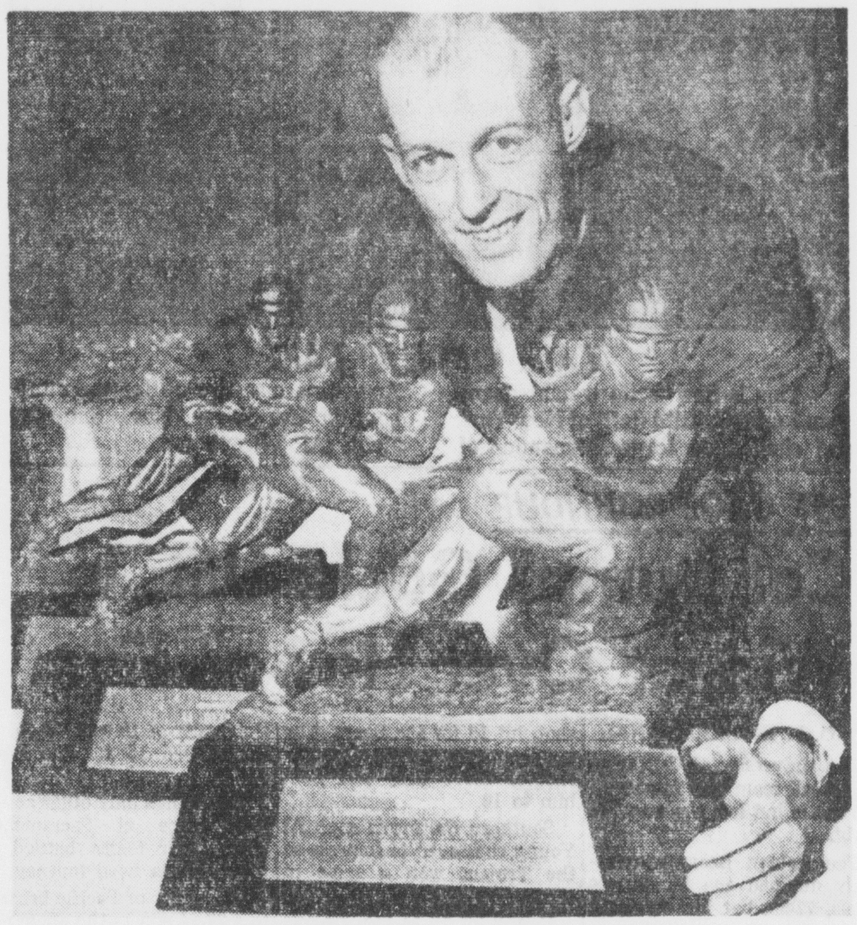
FULLBACKS—George Reed, Washington State; Ed Cummings, Stanford; Bill Thornton, Nebraska.



HEISMAN WINNER—Terry Baker, Oregon State quarterback, is not collecting trophies in bunches but poses in front of his trophy (in front) and two other trophies which were presented to committee members of New York's Downtown Athletic Club. Baker, voted the outstanding collegiate football player for 1962, accepted the Heisman trophy last night in New York. (AP Wirephoto)

Terry Baker Prefers NFL: 'Offers Greater Challenge'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker of Oregon State would prefer to play in the National Football League because it offers the "greater challenge."

The Beavers' triple-threat All-America was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams as the top choice in the NFL and by the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League.

"However, I won't make up my mind until the end of the basketball season and then I'll play for the club that presents the best deal," the southpaw passer said when he accepted the Heisman Trophy at the Downtown Athletic Club last night.

Baker, a 6-3, 195-pound engineering student who was also honored by the National Football Foundation this week as a scholar-athlete, said he expects to play quarterback for the pros. His style would fit the modern brand of signal-calling that asks a player to be equally effective on the pass or rollout.

Baker came to Oregon State on a basketball scholarship, but his preference for football has earned him the everlasting gratitude of coach Tommy Prothro. He gained 2,276 yards during the 1962 season, tops for the country in individual offense. Of this total, 1,738 was accumulated on passing.

Peacock Gap Golf Results

Mrs. Al Quilici of the Meadow Club shot an 88 to take low gross honors at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club Guest Day medal play sweepstakes tourney Tuesday.

Low net was won by Mrs. Toby Perry who fired a 95-27—68. Other results were:

Class A—Mrs. Arthur Schallock, Marin Golf Club, 91-19—72; Mrs. Tyler Seeley, 100-24—76; Mrs. Herman Bergfried, 91-12—79; Mrs. John Woodson, Meadow Club, 100-21—79.

Class B—Mrs. Floyd Spince, Meadow Club, 97-27—70; Mrs. Nathan Pinkus, 100-25—75; Mrs. Lloyd David, 115-28—87.

Class C—Mrs. Donald N. Fox, 118-36—82; Mrs. R. H. DeKay, Indian Valley, 118-36—82; Mrs. Joseph W. Dickover, 121-36—85.

Hole-in-one—Mrs. Arthur Schallock.

Boxing Program Slated Tomorrow

Fred Apostoli of Fairfax, former middleweight champion of the world, will be one of the officials for "Friday Night Fights" scheduled for tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Fort Scott gym at Presidio of San Francisco.

Other noted officials will be Frankie Carter and Jack Downey, referees. The fights, featuring boxers from 10 military installations including Hamilton Air Force Base, will be open to the public without charge.

ALL-STAR PRO BOWL WON'T END IN TIE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 13th All-Star Pro Bowl game, to be played at the Coliseum Jan. 13, won't end in a tie.

Sponsors announced yesterday they will retain the sudden-death overtime rule which is used by the National Football League only in this game and in championship playoffs. If the score is tied after four quarters, an overtime period will begin and the first team to score will win.

Knicks Whip Chicago In NBA Action

DETROIT (AP) — With two teammates traded away, the New York Knicks were all fired up as they snapped a five-game losing streak in spanking the Chicago Zephyrs 133-117 in the opener of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader here last night.

The Knicks, bogged down in the NBA Eastern Division cellar, hope to improve their lot tonight when Tom Gola joins the at Cincinnati.

Gola was obtained by New York Wednesday in a trade with the San Francisco Warriors. The trade sent Kenny Sears and Willie Naulls to San Francisco.

In the second game of the doubleheader, the Detroit Pistons, who have been floundering around in the league's Western Division, had a three-game winning streak broken by the world champion Boston Celtics 106-93.

No other games were scheduled.

Former Hurler Is New Fresno Pilot

FRESNO (UPI) — William G. Werle, former Pacific Coast League and major league pitcher, will manage the Fresno Giants in the California Baseball League next year.

The 41-year-old lefty was selected yesterday by the sponsoring greater Fresno Youth Foundation after conferring with officials of the parent San Francisco Giants' farm system. Werle will succeed Sal Taormina who served two seasons as manager.

Old Giants-Indians Exhibition Game Rivalry Renewed For '63

HANLEY

Baseball's oldest spring partnership will put its show on the road again in 1963—a barnstorming tour of the Giants and Cleveland Indians. The partnership has been in business since 1934. Scheduling difficulties in 1961 and 1962 limited Giant-Indian road appearances to a couple of games in Salt Lake City after spring camp in Arizona.

Garry Schumacher, announcing the road revival, declared "it truly was a labor of love to nail down nine playing dates that will carry both teams up to their 1963 season opener, April 9." Why should Schumacher, publicity chief of the Giants, consider a lot of paper work "a labor of love?"

"WELL, SOME of my warmest baseball memories are linked with the Giant-Indian barnstorming trips that began in 1934," said Schumacher. "It was on the inaugural trip through the Mississippi Valley that we first saw a rookie named Bob Feller. It was in Vicksburg and we knew the rookie was going to be a good one because he struck out seven in three innings.

"Since that first trip, the spring tours of the Giants and Indians read like a road map of America. You name the town and we were there in our eight car special train—in and out like a traveling circus without baths or sleep.

"SOMETIMES the lack of sleep took its toll. There was a day in Decatur, Ala., when a fellow named Connolly was on the mound warming up and Russ Peters was in the on-deck circle. Connolly was a wild one but Peters, catching a cat nap, thought he was safely out of Connolly's range. Connolly really put Peters to sleep—bounced his first pitch off Peters' noggin."

There's little likelihood of anything happening like that today if Joe Shipley (also a wild one) still were pitching. Alvin Dark doesn't tolerate any sleepy-eyed ball players in the on-deck circle or for that matter on the playing field. He makes certain they observe curfew by running periodic bed checks.

BUT TRAVELING in this jet age is far different from the old days of the barnstorming "eight car specials." Now, every ball player sleeps in a hotel room with bath at every stop. It's an improvement over the unwashed days but there's less time on the swift jet trips for camraderie.

Giant Spring Schedule Is Announced

The San Francisco Giants announced today a 30-game spring exhibition schedule, with 13 of the tilts against the traditional spring rival, the Cleveland Indians.

The exhibition schedule:

'Better Way' To Beat 'Em

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers conceded today that he had figured out a way to beat the Green Bay Packers on Sunday.

"All we have to do is block and tackle better than they do," says Red. "And pass better and catch better and run better."

Even Hickey isn't too confident his club can do this, however. The 49ers are resting on a cozy little win streak of three games in a row—their finest of the season. They have a 6-6 record.

GOOD BALL

"We feel real good about those three wins we got on the road," says Hickey. "Of course, we weren't playing the Packers. But we played good ball.

"But to stop the Packers, we've got to stop Jim Taylor. He's the big one. But just one of them. They take you on man for man. And they are mighty strong. Even when they fail to block, that Taylor still goes. He runs over a lot of people. And he's a 'daylight hunter'—great looking for holes to run through."

Hickey could offer no explanation for the way Detroit manhandled the Packers other than to say "They just got run over."

He isn't about to make any prediction about what his club will do against the Packers—he only hopes for the best. In their last outing against Green Bay it was 31-13 for the Packers. And there was a wee bit of yelping for the coach's scalp among the 49er "cable car alumni."

The heat's off there right now—especially with the three wins in a row.

BAD SHAPE

But the 49ers are not in good shape for the Packers.

Their hopes nosedived last night when halfback Billy Kilmer suffered a broken right leg in an auto crash which finished him for the season.

Other prospectors expected to sit out the Packer contest include defensive end Clark Miller, sidelined by a bruised leg; defensive back Jim Ridlon, recovering from two cracked vertebrae; and tackle Bob St. Clair, who has never come back after injuring his Achilles tendon in mid-season.

Kilmer Out For Season

Halfback Billy Kilmer of the San Francisco 49ers was in good condition today at St. Mary's Hospital after sustaining a badly fractured right leg in an auto accident.

The 23-year-old Kilmer, whose consistent ground-gaining has brightened an otherwise so-so season for 49er fans, was hurt last night when his car went out of control on the Bayshore Freeway near Belmont. The California Highway Patrol said the vehicle left the road, went 435 feet through a field and overturned into a ditch filled with water.

The CHP said the accident occurred after Kilmer had passed another car and lost control of his vehicle. The doors of his door had to be pried open before the football star could be extricated. He was taken to San Mateo Community Hospital and then transferred to St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco.

The CHP said that no citations had been issued in connection with the mishap.

Forty Niner coach Red Hickey said he had visited the former UCLA star and found him in good spirits. The club's doctor, Lloyd Milburn, listed the injuries as a "serious fracture of the tibia above the right ankle plus cuts on his chin and right eye.

Kilmer, who had already been listed as "doubtful" for Sunday's game against powerful Green Bay, now is out for both remaining National Football League contests.

Bobby Gaiters, obtained from the New York Giants in a trade early this year, was expected to start in Kilmer's place.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

SEATTLE — Eddie Cotton, 174, Seattle, outpointed Von Clay, 181, Philadelphia, 10.

MILAN, Italy — Antonio Satta, 116½, Italy, stopped Jose Nievez Martins, 114, Brazil, 6.

Carlos Ortiz Is 'Fighter Of Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz of New York, who knocked out Teruo Kosaka of Japan Monday in the first defense of his world lightweight title, was named "The Fighter Of The Month" by Ring Magazine.

In the heavyweight division, Cassius Clay of Louisville advanced from seventh to fourth because of his knockout victory over Archie Moore last month. Moore dropped from fifth to seventh.

Floyd Patterson was listed as the logical challenger for Sonny Liston's heavyweight title, followed by Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore. and Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz. Ingemar Johansson of Sweden, who was fourth in the last ratings, dropped down a peg while Billy Daniels of New York, who knocked out Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, replaced his victim in the tenth spot.

5 Marin Stations Named For Bass Fishing Contest

Five Marin weigh stations were named in the Schenley Sportsmen's Club striped bass contest for northern California which started Monday and will run 17 consecutive weeks ending midnight, March 31.

The five Marin stations, included in the 39 official weigh stations, are:

SAN RAFAEL — Western Boat Shop, 101 Third Street; Western Sport Shop, 908 A Street. SAUSALITO—Caruso's Bait and Tackle Shop, Gate 5, Marinship; Sausalito Boat and Tackle Shop, Waldo Point. NOVATO—Shell Service Station, 7473 Redwood Highway.

West Shrine Team Picked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The West team for the annual Shrine East-West grid classic Dec. 29 was announced today with 10 players from the Pacific Coast, six from the Southwest and four each from the Big Eight and Rocky Mountain area.

The quarterbacking spots went to Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian and Jim Johnson of Missouri. The third quarter is Larry Balliett of California, but he'll be used on defense.

The great Hugh Campbell of Washington State was chosen as one of the wings; and two fine Oregon tackles, Steve Barnett and Ron Snidow, made the team. The coaches are Dan Devine of Missouri; Jim Sutherland of Washington State; and John Bridgers, Baylor.

The complete team:

ENDS — Hugh Campbell, Washington State; Gene Raesz, Rice; Marvin Fleming, Utah; Conrad Hitchler, Missouri.

TACKLES — Steve Barnett, Oregon; Ron Snidow, Oregon; Dave Costa, Utah; Lionel Aldridge, Utah State.

GUARDS — Tom Hertz, Missouri; Robert Burk, Baylor; Raymond Schoenke, Southern Methodist.

CENTERS — Ray Mansfield, Washington; Jim Maples, Baylor; J. R. Williams, Fresno State.

QUARTERBACKS — Sonny Gibbs, TCU; Larry Balliett, California; Jim Johnson, Missouri.

FULLBACKS—George Reed, Washington State; Ed Cummings, Stanford; Bill Thornton, Nebraska.

Terry Baker Prefers NFL: 'Offers Greater Challenge'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker of Oregon State would prefer to play in the National Football League because it offers the "greater challenge."

The Beavers' triple-threat All-America was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams as the top choice in the NFL and by the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League.

"However, I won't make up my mind until the end of the basketball season and then I'll play for the club that presents the best deal," the southpaw passer said when he accepted the Heisman Trophy at the Downtown Athletic Club last night.

Baker, a 6-3, 195-pound engineering student who was also honored by the National Football Foundation this week as a scholar-athlete, said he expects to play quarterback for the pros. His style would fit the modern brand of signal-calling that asks a player to be equally effective on the pass or rollout.

Baker came to Oregon State on a basketball scholarship, but his preference for football has earned him the everlasting gratitude of coach Tommy Prothro. He gained 2,276 yards during the 1962 season, tops for the country in individual offense. Of this total, 1,738 was accumulated on passing.

Peacock Gap Golf Results

Mrs. Al Quilici of the Meadow Club shot an 88 to take low gross honors at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club Guest Day medal play sweepstakes tourney Tuesday.

Low net was won by Mrs. Toby Perry who fired a 95-27—68. Other results were:

Class A—Mrs. Arthur Schallock, Marin Golf Club, 91-19—72; Mrs. Tyler Seeley, 100-24—76; Mrs. Herman Bergfried, 91-12—79; Mrs. John Woodson, Meadow Club, 100-21—79.

Class B—Mrs. Floyd Spince, Meadow Club, 97-27—70; Mrs. Nathan Pinkus, 100-25—75; Mrs. Lloyd David, 115-28—87.

Class C—Mrs. Donald N. Fox, 118-36—82; Mrs. R. H. DeKay, Indian Valley, 118-36—82; Mrs. Joseph W. Dickover, 121-36—85.

Hole-in-one—Mrs. Arthur Schallock.

Boxing Program Slated Tomorrow

Fred Apostoli of Fairfax, former middleweight champion of the world, will be one of the officials for "Friday Night Fights" scheduled for tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Fort Scott gym at Presidio of San Francisco.

Other noted officials will be Frankie Carter and Jack Downey, referees. The fights, featuring boxers from 10 military installations including Hamilton Air Force Base, will be open to the public without charge.

ALL-STAR PRO BOWL WON'T END IN TIE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 13th All-Star Pro Bowl game, to be played at the Coliseum Jan. 13, won't end in a tie.

Sponsors announced yesterday they will retain the sudden-death overtime rule which is used by the National Football League only in this game and in championship playoffs. If the score is tied after four quarters, an overtime period will begin and the first team to score will win.

Knicks Whip Chicago In NBA Action

DETROIT (AP) — With two teammates traded away, the New York Knicks were all fired up as they snapped a five-game losing streak in spanking the Chicago Zephyrs 133-117 in the opener of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader here last night.

The Knicks, bogged down in the NBA Eastern Division cellar, hope to improve their lot tonight when Tom Gola joins the at Cincinnati.

Gola was obtained by New York Wednesday in a trade with the San Francisco Warriors. The trade sent Kenny Sears and Willie Naulls to San Francisco.

In the second game of the doubleheader, the Detroit Pistons, who have been floundering around in the league's Western Division, had a three-game winning streak broken by the world champion Boston Celtics 106-93.

No other games were scheduled.

Former Hurler Is New Fresno Pilot

FRESNO (UPI) — William G. Werle, former Pacific Coast League and major league pitcher, will manage the Fresno Giants in the California Baseball League next year.

The 41-year-old lefty was selected yesterday by the sponsoring greater Fresno Youth Foundation after conferring with officials of the parent San Francisco Giants' farm system. Werle will succeed Sal Taormina who served two seasons as manager.

Boating Is One Of The Safest Family Sports Available Today

It will never be this column's intention to create an unsafe picture of boating. Statistically, it is one of the safest all-around family sports available today. And the ratio of accidents in proportion to the number of boats sold is small indeed. Moreover, risks — caluculated or otherwise—are infinitely less than a Sunday drive on any Freeway. Yet landlubbers often ask, "How about the boating accidents we keep reading about?"

We read too, and know that many times a rescue is effected. But far too often there are tragic overtones. And although you may not have considered this, implicit in the news item is usually the reason for the disaster.

Human error isn't always involved. Sometimes the terribly unexpected occurs . . . unprecedented weather . . . metal fatigue, etc. Fortunately these happenings are rare. What should be reviewed particularly are accidents that SHOULD NEVER HAVE HAPPENED if simple boating-safety rules had been observed. Or, more regrettably, if the "yard stick" of good common sense was applied.

ERRORS CONTRIBUTING most often to these mishaps were found to be:

1—Overloading the boat with people and gear, thereby settling the craft below standard freeboard safety. 2—Taking a boat into an area of water too dangerous potentially for the size, construction and performance. 3—Neglecting to carry all endorsed life saving and fire-fighting equipment. 4—Ignoring laws and recommendations for skiing and swimming security.

Out for skiing fun, a northern California boy lost his life this summer. There was no observer in the boat. When his companion attempted to pull him up he misjudged the boat's drift in the fast current. It's hard to realize how lethal a whirling propeller can be.

ACCORDING to Marin boat dealers, almost every new boat owner has immense respect for the dignity of his new hobby and sport. He realizes there is no such thing as over-caution, and tries hard to quickly learn the facts of safe boating operation. Yet there's always that one "delinquent apple in the barrel." Right? Right.

That jug-head who buys his first boat and when offered instruction, steps into his craft, saying flippantly, "Man, it's got a wheel. It's got a motor. It's got me. So who needs advice!"

Classes on "Understanding Your Outboard" at Western Boat Shop are attracting a sharply interested crowd of outboard owners. Bill Haskell's first class penetrated the mysteries of remote controls. "Probably 75 per cent of boats have something wrong with these units," he said. "In most cases trouble comes from faulty installation. And because some boaters have never experienced perfectly performing controls, they don't realize what's wrong."

HOLDING UP the complete assembly, Haskell explained the function of each part, and how it worked in conjunction with all the others. "Actually, it's engineered to install very simply—if directions are followed."

Next came gears. Presenting a stripped-down outboard, he pointed out the theory of ratio, and how and why gears engage. While on this subject, he remarked that his personal observation had convinced him that far too many boaters came into dock incorrectly. He had watched as they approached in forward gear. Then without pausing in neutral, they snapped the gear into reverse. This type flub can do much prop or gear damage.

HE REFLECTED that without a doubt some of the very finest automobile drivers never exactly get the "hang" of proper outboard shifting. Just remember to shift FAST, and at low speed. Don't ease into gear no matter what your h.p. range is. Snap into forward—or snap it out or into any gear, always pausing in neutral until you slow the rpms. This interim of pause is a fleeting thing because your rate of deceleration is amazingly fast.

The outboard owner should soon find that smooth shifting will finally become an effortless reflex.

Cincinnati Picked Top Cage Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It took two long years and a couple of national titles to do it, but the Cincinnati Bearcats finally reached the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press regular season weekly basketball poll.

The veteran bearcats were an overwhelming choice for the top spot in the first weekly poll yesterday, gaining 38 first place votes on the 44 ballots cast and outdistancing the second team by more than 100 points.

Strangely, it was the first time in three years Cincinnati had topped the poll, though the school won the NCAA title the last two seasons. Ohio State led each week for the last two seasons, only to fall before the Bearcats twice in the NCAA finals.

DUKE SECOND

Only three other teams received first place votes. Duke got three, West Virginia two and Texas one. The Duke Blue Devils edged West Virginia for second place, 307 points to 281.

High-scoring Loyola of Chicago, which scored more than 100 points in each of its first two triumphs, took fourth, followed by Mississippi State, Wisconsin, Oregon State, Indiana, Kentucky and Whichita, in that order.

Kentucky, ranked third in the pre-season poll behind Cincinnati and Duke fell to ninth after suffering a upset at the hands of ambitious Virginia Tech, 80 - 77 in its opening game.

The Kentucky loss was only one of a string of upsets handed the ranked teams in the opening weekend of play. St. Bonaventure, however, was the only team in the pre-season poll to fall from the top ten, losing to Southern Illinois in its opener.

WEST CAGE ROUNDUP

Cal Dumps Gaels; USC Is Winner Over Hawaii Five

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The University of California basketball team may have won the battle but lost the war last night.

The Golden Bears convincingly dumped the St. Mary's Gaels, 77-63, but lost 6-foot-10 Camden Wall in the process.

Wall hit 14 points in the first half but fell down and twisted his ankle early in the second half. Doctors were to determine the extent of his injuries today.

California needs the mammoth pivot man in there if it is to battle Big Six foes like Stanford, UCLA and USC this year.

Fortunately for the Bears, the loss of Wall did not hurt their cause much last night since the Gaels do not have a big man on their side either.

Dick Smith, a dandy outside shot, hit 19 for the Bears, who kept pressure on Gael sharpshooter Steve Gray and held him to 16.

Southern California soph Al Young continued to impress as the Trojans won a game in Honolulu.

Young hit 19 as the Trojans won a defensive battle over University of Hawaii, 59-46. Al Birtles had 15 for the Rainbows.

The night's only other action took place at Sacramento, where four teams battled in the Camellia Bowl tourney.

University of Pacific breezed to a 77-64 win in the opener as Bill Wilson hit 20 points and coach Van Sweet shuffled in his reserves through much of the contest.

Then Cal Poly of Pomona upset the host Sacramento State club, 54-53. Dennis Dull had 15 for the winners and Bill Baker 14 for the losers.

The Hornets purposely fouled Jerry Bunch with 11 seconds to go and the Broncs leading 52-51.

Bunch turned the Hornets' gamble into disaster by hitting both his free throws and icing the contest.

Ken Hubbs Is N.L. Rookie-Of-Year

BOSTON (AP) — Ken Hubbs, the rangy Chicago Cubs second baseman who excited the baseball world this past season by flashing to two fielding records, is the National League Rookie-of-the-Year for 1962 in a landslide.

The quick, sure-handed Californian, still 17 days short of his 21st birthday, was named on all but one of the 20 votes cast by a panel of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America, which announced the results yesterday. Donn Clendenon, the Pittsburgh Pirates fine hitting young first baseman, received the other vote.

Hubbs broke two major league records for second baseman set by Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox in 1948. The marks were 78 consecutive games without an error and 418 successive chances without an error. Doerr had strings of 72 games and 414 chances.

Hubbs batted .260, with five homers, 49 runs batted in and 90 scored for the Cubs.

The 6-foot-2, 180-pounder joined the Cubs' farm system in 1959 after graduating from Colton High School, where he was an outstanding all-around athlete.

The youngster is the second straight Cub to take the rookie award. It went to outfielder Billy Williams in 1961.

Human error isn't always involved. Sometimes the terribly unexpected occurs . . . unprecedented weather . . . metal fatigue, etc. Fortunately these happenings are rare. What should be reviewed particularly are accidents that SHOULD NEVER HAVE HAPPENED if simple boating-safety rules had been observed. Or, more regrettably, if the "yard stick" of good common sense was applied.

ERRORS CONTRIBUTING most often to these mishaps were found to be:

1 — Overloading the boat with people and gear, thereby settling the craft below standard freeboard safety. 2—Taking a boat into an area of water too dangerous potentially for the size, construction and performance. 3—Neglecting to carry all endorsed life saving and fire-fighting equipment. 4—Ignoring laws and recommendations for skiing and swimming security.

Out for skiing fun, a northern California boy lost his life this summer. There was no observer in the boat. When his companion attempted to pull him up he misjudged the boat's drift in the fast current. It's hard to realize how lethal a whirling propeller can be.

ACCORDING to Marin boat dealers, almost every new boat owner has immense respect for the dignity of his new hobby and sport. He realizes there is no such thing as over-caution, and tries hard to quickly learn the facts of safe boating operation. Yet there's always that one "delinquent apple in the barrel." Right? Right.

That jug-head who buys his first boat and when offered instruction, steps into his craft, saying flippantly, "Man, it's got a wheel. It's got a motor. It's got me. So who needs advice!"

Classes on "Understanding Your Outboard" at Western Boat Shop are attracting a sharply interested crowd of outboard owners. Bill Haskell's first class penetrated the mysteries of remote controls. "Probably 75 per cent of boats have something wrong with these units," he said. "In most cases trouble comes from faulty installation. And because some boaters have never experienced perfectly performing controls, they don't realize what's wrong."

HOLDING UP the complete assembly, Haskell explained the function of each part. and how it worked in conjunction with all the others. "Actually, it's engineered to install very simply—if directions are followed."

Next came gears. Presenting a stripped-down outboard, he pointed out the theory of ratio, and how and why gears engage. While on this subject, he remarked that his personal observation had convinced him that far too many boaters came into dock incorrectly. He had watched as they approached in forward gear. Then without pausing in neutral, they snapped the gear into reverse. This type flub can do much prop or gear damage.

HE REFLECTED that without a doubt some of the very finest automobile drivers never exactly get the "hang" of proper outboard shifting. Just remember to shift FAST, and at low speed. Don't ease into gear no matter what your h.p. range is. Snap into forward—or snap it out or into any gear, always pausing in neutral until you slow the rpms. This interim of pause is a fleeting thing because your rate of deceleration is amazingly fast.

The outboard owner should soon find that smooth shifting will finally become an effortless reflex.

Cincinnati Picked Top Cage Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It took two long years and a couple of national titles to do it, but the Cincinnati Bearcats finally reached the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press regular season weekly basketball poll.

The veteran bearcats were an overwhelming choice for the top spot in the first weekly poll yesterday, gaining 38 first place votes on the 44 ballots cast and outdistancing the second team by more than 100 points.

Strangely, it was the first time in three years Cincinnati had topped the poll, though the school won the NCAA title the last two seasons. Ohio State led each week for the last two seasons, only to fall before the Bearcats twice in the NCAA finals.

DUKE SECOND

Only three other teams received first place votes. Duke got three, West Virginia two and Texas one. The Duke Blue Devils edged West Virginia for second place, 307 points to 281.

High-scoring Loyola of Chicago, which scored more than 100 points in each of its first two triumphs, took fourth, followed by Mississippi State, Wisconsin, Oregon State, Indiana, Kentucky and Whichita, in that order.

Kentucky, ranked third in the pre-season poll behind Cincinnati and Duke fell to ninth after suffering a upset at the hands of ambitious Virginia Tech, 80 - 77 in its opening game.

The Kentucky loss was only one of a string of upsets handed the ranked teams in the opening weekend of play. St. Bonaventure, however, was the only team in the pre-season poll to fall from the top ten, losing to Southern Illinois in its opener.

WEST CAGE ROUNDUP

Cal Dumps Gaels; USC Is Winner Over Hawaii Five

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The University of California basketball team may have won the battle but lost the war last night.

The Golden Bears convincingly dumped the St. Mary's Gaels, 77-63, but lost 6-foot-10 Camden Wall in the process.

Wall hit 14 points in the first half but fell down and twisted his ankle early in the second half. Doctors were to determine the extent of his injuries today.

California needs the mammoth pivot man in there if it is to battle Big Six foes like Stanford, UCLA and USC this year.

Fortunately for the Bears, the loss of Wall did not hurt their cause much last night since the Gaels do not have a big man on their side either.

Dick Smith, a dandy outside shot, hit 19 for the Bears, who kept pressure on Gael sharpshooter Steve Gray and held him to 16.

Southern California soph Al Young continued to impress as the Trojans won a game in Honolulu.

Young hit 19 as the Trojans won a defensive battle over University of Hawaii, 59-46. Al Birtles had 15 for the Rainbows.

The night's only other action took place at Sacramento, where four teams battled in the Camellia Bowl tourney.

University of Pacific breezed to a 77-64 win in the opener as Bill Wilson hit 20 points and coach Van Sweet shuffled in his reserves through much of the contest.

Then Cal Poly of Pomona upset the host Sacramento State club, 54-53. Dennis Dull had 15 for the winners and Bill Baker 14 for the losers.

The Hornets purposely fouled Jerry Bunch with 11 seconds to go and the Broncs leading 52-51.

Bunch turned the Hornets' gamble into disaster by hitting both his free throws and icing the contest.

Ken Hubbs Is N.L. Rookie-Of-Year

BOSTON (AP) — Ken Hubbs, the rangy Chicago Cubs second baseman who excited the baseball world this past season by flashing to two fielding records, is the National League Rookie-of-the-Year for 1962 in a landslide.

The quick, sure-handed Californian, still 17 days short of his 21st birthday, was named on all but one of the 20 votes cast by a panel of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America, which announced the results yesterday. Donn Clendenon, the Pittsburgh Pirates fine hitting young first baseman, received the other vote.

Hubbs broke two major league records for second basemen set by Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox in 1948. The marks were 78 consecutive games without an error and 418 successive chances without an error. Doerr had strings of 72 games and 414 chances.

Hubbs batted .260, with five homers, 49 runs batted in and 90 scored for the Cubs.

The 6-foot-2, 180-pounder joined the Cubs' farm system in 1959 after graduating from Colton High School, where he was an outstanding all-around athlete.

The youngster is the second straight Cub to take the rookie award. It went to outfielder Billy Williams in 1961.

Second Half Of Duck Season Starts Saturday At Noon

STEVENS

The second half of the waterfowl season opens at noon on Saturday so it behooves this writer to say a few words anent same.

Unofficially, the consensus among the regulars is that this second half should be more productive than was the first half when the average per gun fell to about 1.5 birds (lower than 1961). The alibi artists blame the fair weather for the rather poor returns during the first half of the season and, because the birds should be moving into the wintering areas now, hunting should be better. Here's hoping, eh?

DON'T FORGET that shooting begins at noon the first day, and thereafter from a half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Unless you have already received a permit to hunt on one of the seven federal waterfowl management areas you can forget such areas. All public waterfowl management areas managed by the DFG are "sold out" by advance reservations for Saturday and Sunday. (Applications to shoot on one of the management areas must be received by the DFG office, 1325-A "K" Street, Sacramento, at least 10 days prior to the shooting date requested—pick up a booklet on the subject from your license agent for details.)

OKAY, WHAT are prospects in the local regions? I would say not better than fair. Some cans have come into the upper San Pablo Bay area, the Napa Marshes and the Suisun Bay sector, but we can't take canvasbacks this year. Comparatively small flocks of bluies have rafted in the San Pablo area, but hardly anything to compare with what we will expect a bit later in the season. From the Suisun region the word is about the same, and up Gustine way, most of the private club members are optimistic. One local observer stated that the Northern Bluies have started coming in, but I discount that. Too early for the big, greater scaup.

So much for ducks. What's with fishing? It continues on a par with the past two weeks, fish fairly plentiful but somewhat smaller in size. Trolling the Red Rock area has been very good. The boat, "RSP," landed seven limits to 10 pounds on Monday; the Troller docked with seven limits to 17 pounds, also from the Red Rock sector.

ED LUCIA of the Bayfair Bait shop reported a group aboard the "Jerry 9" out of S. F., all using the new Spoofer Lure, took limits of bass with Joyce Perkins also landing a 45-pound sturgeon.

The sturgeon seem to have fallen to the female of the species. Mrs. William Dahl of Marin took one that weighed over 75 pounds and measured six feet, eight inches; Mrs. Grif Murray landed one that weighed in at 33 pounds and measured 52 inches. This report furnished by Joe Nerviani of Santa Venetia, "Joe's Launching."

From the Stagnaros at Santa Cruz comes an unusual report: "The opener of Steelhead fishing saw good numbers taken from the San Lorenzo on Saturday, but not so hot on Sunday. Most fish taken from Half Moon Bridge to the Riverside Avenue Bridge."

Receives Letter

David Fletcher, son of Mrs. Harold A. Fletcher of 41 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, received his letter for varsity soccer at St. Lawrence University in Canton, N. Y., university officials announced today.

Bright Outlook For Fisheries Program

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A touring house subcommittee was optimistic today about the chances of winning congressional approval for a program to bolster dwindling salmon and steelhead fisheries.

But Rep. John Dingell (D-Mich.) said the program will be nationwide in scope instead of limited to California as proposed last year by the late Rep. Clem Miller, (D-Corte Madera).

And Rep. George A. Goodling, (R-Pa.) said the proposed plan to preserve and enhance ocean-going fish resources probably will be based on a sharing principle with states instead of financed completely by the federal government.

Dingell, chairman of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries subcommittee touring the Pacific Coast, said, "Clem's bill simply got caught in the log-jam at the end of the last session."

"This time we'll get an earlier start."

Rep. Harlan Hagen, (D-Calif.) said he will sponsor the bill at the next Congress.

As initially proposed by Miller, the bill would have provided $11.5 million over five years to develop California's anadramous fish resources — including stream clearance, pollution control and installation of such facilities as hatcheries.

The measure was amended in committee to include the entire nation.

Dingell said Miller's efforts last year, including his obtaining approval of the Federal Budget Bureau, gave backers a head start for passage this year.

The touring congressman said in effect that the bill is a means of preserving fisheries in the face of water development and rising population without sacrificing either.

"You can have your cake and eat it too if progress is properly planned," said Goodling. "But unfortunately it hasn't been properly planned in the past."

The congressman left by plane with State Fish and Game Department officials to tour major salmon and steelhead waters in Northern California, and then were to go on to Oregon and Washington.

Indian Valley Golf Results

Mrs. Lynn Sumpter shot a 43-8—35 to win Class A honors in the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's nine-hole tournament Tuesday in which the members were allowed to use only three different clubs.

Results were:

Class A—Mrs. Sumpter, 43-8—35; Mrs. William Sparrow, 49-10—39.

Class B—Mrs. E. N. Dawson, 53-11½—41½; Mrs. Frank Duddy, 53-11—42.

Hole-In-One—Mrs. B. R. Wilkie; Mrs. Joel Hamby.

Gooneys Are Driving Navy Goofy

ON NAVY'S NECK — A Midway islander holds wings of a gooney bird on the Navy's Midway Island base in the Pacific. For 40 years the Navy has been trying to get rid of the birds. (AP Wirephoto)

By ROBERT MYERS

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—To the U.S. Navy the gooney birds of Midway Island are slightly less welcome than a common cold and a lot harder to get rid of.

The outcome of the Navy's long and costly war with the gawky gooneys—their scientific name is laysan albatross—is still in doubt but the brass continues to claim eventual victory. The Navy has been making that prediction for 40 years.

The gooneys don't claim anything. They just keep coming back to the Pacific atoll in seemingly ever-increasing numbers each November to re-establish their squatters' rights.

Both sides are convinced Midway is an ideal landing spot. The Navy uses it as a base for radar picket flights in the North Pacific; The gooneys consider it a perfect nesting ground.

The Navy has called in experts from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the University of Hawaii, and its own research department. Once it hinted wholesale killing of the birds might be necessary.

This brought the Audubon Society into the act—on the side of the gooneys. The Navy made a hasty retreat.

Collisions between the goose-sized albatrosses and naval planes cost the bird population—now estimated at 150,000—about 500 gooneys annually. The cost to the Navy is some $150,000 a year in damaged aircraft parts.

"Nearly every plane that takes off or lands on Midway is struck by a gooney," a veteran of island service estimated. Most of the hits are minor but occasionally a tail section is ripped loose or a wingtip chopped off.

Recently, the radar dome on the top of a picket plane was sheared in a gooney collision. The aircraft dipped and shuddered but turned around and landed safely. The gooney wasn't so lucky. He didn't make it back.

There have been no Navy casualties in this strange war but fliers live in constant dread of what could happen if a gooney hit a vital part during critical takeoff and landing periods.

The blundering, strutting birds cause other problems. They walk under the wheels of cars and trucks, overturn bicycles, smash into each other in flights and fall in squawking heaps on runways. Once several birds disrupted a training exercise by pecking at sailors taking cover in the brush.

The problem of the gooneys is a simple one—the birds nest in the same spot they were born. They refuse to move or be moved. Midway sailors say some even settle on asphalt covering their birthplaces.

Midway and an unknown island in the Aleutians where the gooneys spend the summer are the only places in the world where the birds gather in huge numbers. The gooneys fly away from Midway in June but always return by the end of November.

Attempts to lure the big creatures to other nesting places have failed. The Navy fixed up Green Island, 50 miles from Midway, with 19 runways to accommodate the gooneys. The brass figured such a layout would be just what they would want if they were gooney birds. It didn't work. The albatrosses took a look at their new home and flew right back to Midway.

Once the Navy tried sprinkling mothballs along runways. The birds mistook them for gooney eggs and sat on them. Another time, tires and sulphur were burned to smoke them out. Bazookas and mortars were fired to scare them. The gooneys seemed to enjoy the show.

Sand dunes have been levelled and cemented over to cut down the gentle updrafts the gooneys like so much. It cost the Navy $125,000. The result—negligible.

The Wildlife Service suggested paving a triangle formed by runways. That work will be done this winter but no one, including the Navy, is overly optimistic.

The gooney is a strange-looking bird with a seven-foot wingspread and webbed feet. He waddles, duck fashion, and his long beak seems to hang against itself in a clacking noise. Around his eyes are dark markings which resemble a heavy coating of mascara.

His legs are for landing at sea. When he comes down on land, he sticks out his feet like brakes, hits the ground and goes sliding into the dirt feet first.

The official Navy dislikes the gooney for the problem he creates. But sailors on the island love him.

"These birds are a source of never-ending pleasure and have proved to military—made bachelors a bigger morale booster than anyone not confined to our dubious 'paradise' could begin to realize," wrote one sailor from lonely womenless Midway.

"Let's hope," he added, "that a 'cure' for this problem is never found."

S. Viet Nam's New Palace To Cost $1 Million, Have Big Bomb Shelter

SAIGON (UPI)—A new presidential palace, complete with underground bomb shelters, is under construction in the center of this Communist-threatened capital of South Viet Nam.

The old independence palace, now torn down except for a section of the central facade, was severely damaged last February in an assassination attempt against President Ngo Dinh Diem and his family.

Both left and right wings of the palace were damaged when two disgruntled Vietnamese pilots hurled bombs, rockets and napalm at them.

Cost of the new palace is reliably estimated at more than one million dollars.

President Diem is said to be working out the design details for the interior, but they have been kept secret.

Well-informed government sources say the building will be a replica of the pale yellow pseudo-classical structure constructed for the then French governor-general of Indo-China in 1868.

The sources said the palace will be air-conditioned and will have wide flowing stairways and private elevators.

In the cellars, there will be concrete and steel bomb shelters and a radio communications center capable of contacting key centers in the country.

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—To the U.S. Navy the gooney birds of Midway Island are slightly less welcome than a common cold and a lot harder to get rid of.

The outcome of the Navy's long and costly war with the gawky gooneys—their scientific name is laysan albatross—is still in doubt but the brass continues to claim eventual victory. The Navy has been making that prediction for 40 years.

The gooneys don't claim anything. They just keep coming back to the Pacific atoll in seemingly ever-increasing numbers each November to re-establish their squatters' rights.

Both sides are convinced Midway is an ideal landing spot. The Navy uses it as a base for radar picket flights in the North Pacific; The gooneys consider it a perfect nesting ground.

The Navy has called in experts from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the University of Hawaii, and its own research department. Once it hinted wholesale killing of the birds might be necessary.

This brought the Audubon Society into the act—on the side of the gooneys. The Navy made a hasty retreat.

Collisions between the goose-sized albatrosses and naval planes cost the bird population—now estimated at 150,000—about 500 gooneys annually. The cost to the Navy is some $150,000 a year in damaged aircraft parts.

"Nearly every plane that takes off or lands on Midway is struck by a gooney," a veteran of island service estimated. Most of the hits are minor but occasionally a tail section is ripped loose or a wingtip chopped off.

Recently, the radar dome on the top of a picket plane was sheared in a gooney collision. The aircraft dipped and shuddered but turned around and landed safely. The gooney wasn't so lucky. He didn't make it back.

There have been no Navy casualties in this strange war but fliers live in constant dread of what could happen if a gooney hit a vital part during critical takeoff and landing periods.

The blundering, strutting birds cause other problems. They walk under the wheels of cars and trucks, overturn bicycles, smash into each other in flights and fall in squawking heaps on runways. Once several birds disrupted a training exercise by pecking at sailors taking cover in the brush.

The problem of the gooneys is a simple one—the birds nest in the same spot they were born. They refuse to move or be moved. Midway sailors say some even settle on asphalt covering their birthplaces.

Midway and an unknown island in the Aleutians where the gooneys spend the summer are the only places in the world where the birds gather in huge numbers. The gooneys fly away from Midway in June but always return by the end of November.

Attempts to lure the big creatures to other nesting places have failed. The Navy fixed up Green Island, 50 miles from Midway, with 19 runways to accommodate the gooneys. The brass figured such a layout would be just what they would want if they were gooney birds. It didn't work. The albatrosses took a look at their new home and flew right back to Midway.

Once the Navy tried sprinkling mothballs along runways. The birds mistook them for gooney eggs and sat on them. Another time, tires and sulphur were burned to smoke them out. Bazookas and mortars were fired to scare them. The gooneys seemed to enjoy the show.

Sand dunes have been levelled and cemented over to cut down the gentle updrafts the gooneys like so much. It cost the Navy $125,000. The result—negligible.

The Wildlife Service suggested paving a triangle formed by runways. That work will be done this winter but no one, including the Navy, is overly optimistic.

The gooney is a strange-looking bird with a seven-foot wingspread and webbed feet. He waddles, duck fashion, and his long beak seems to hang against itself in a clacking noise. Around his eyes are dark markings which resemble a heavy coating of mascara.

His legs are for landing at sea. When he comes down on land, he sticks out his feet like brakes, hits the ground and goes sliding into the dirt feet first.

The official Navy dislikes the gooney for the problem he creates. But sailors on the island love him.

"These birds are a source of never-ending pleasure and have proved to military—made bachelors a bigger morale booster than anyone not confined to our dubious 'paradise' could begin to realize," wrote one sailor from lonely womenless Midway.

"Let's hope," he added, "that a 'cure' for this problem is never found."

S. Viet Nam's New Palace To Cost $1 Million, Have Big Bomb Shelter

SAIGON (UPI)—A new presidential palace, complete with underground bomb shelters, is under construction in the center of this Communist-threatened capital of South Viet Nam.

The old independence palace, now torn down except for a section of the central facade, was severely damaged last February in an assassination attempt against President Ngo Dinh Diem and his family.

Both left and right wings of the palace were damaged when two disgruntled Vietnamese pilots hurled bombs, rockets and napalm at them.

Cost of the new palace is reliably estimated at more than one million dollars.

President Diem is said to be working out the design details for the interior, but they have been kept secret.

Well-informed government sources say the building will be a replica of the pale yellow pseudo-classical structure constructed for the then French governor-general of Indo-China in 1868.

The sources said the palace will be air-conditioned and will have wide flowing stairways and private elevators.

In the cellars, there will be concrete and steel bomb shelters and a radio communications center capable of contacting key centers in the country.

Break Habit Of Giving Children Breakable Toys

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—Break the habit of giving youngsters easily breakable toys, cautions the executive director of the Child Study Assn. of America.

Alfred D. Buchmueller says the parent who purposely gives a child easily breakable toys and approves of their destruction as a so-called "healthy outlet for hostilities" is making a grave mistake.

"Such an attitude is appropriate only in the case of seriously disturbed children who are being clinically treated by professionals," he said.

"It has no place in the home where normal children can and should be taught self-control."

BUCHMUELLER maintains it's time parents return to the belief in healthy self-restraint if children are to grow up to be normal, well-adjusted adults.

To help thwart misdirected destructive tendencies in youngsters, Buchmueller recommends toys of sturdy, substantial materials — metal, wood or materials reinforced with metal.

"A PARENT must distinguish between normal destructiveness as opposed to chronic or repetitive destructiveness," the mental health educator noted.

"Destructive impulses must be understood as well as curbed. But you don't curb a child the way you rein a horse. The parent must use his best judgement as to whether disciplining the child will help or hinder his growth."

He noted that the parent who allows destructiveness to build up, believing this is a healthy outlet in play, will see the child becoming more and more destructive since destructiveness feeds upon itself and becomes a habit.

"A child knows a flimsy toy and instinctively resents it," Buchmueller said. "He is less likely to take care of it and indeed may willfully destroy it, thereby sowing the seeds of hostility and destructiveness."

Sturdy, well-made toys are much more satisfying to a child because they are heavier, more substantial and more realistic, according to Buchmueller.

He said youngsters find such toys more satisfying and are more easily persuaded to take care of them and learn the value of such care.

William Snow Will Claim Bride In June Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gertmenian of Pasadena have announced the engagement of their daughter, Susan, to William R. Snow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Snow of San Anselmo.

Miss Gertmenian was graduated from Radcliffe, and will receive an M.A. degree in English literature from the University of California in January.

Bill was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School, and is an alumnus of Willamette University. He is also doing graduate work in Russian History and Political Institutions at the University of California.

The wedding will take place in Pasadena in June.

Senior Holiday Party On Dec. 14

The Marin Senior Assn. will have its Christmas party at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 14 at Redwood Presbyterian Church in Larkspur, when members will provide the program.

The party, which will include special holiday refreshments, will replace the monthly meeting.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Kent Woodlands Couple To Give Annual Yuletide Party

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Traditional is the Christmas dinner party Dr. and Mrs. Sherman Beers give each year. They've set the date for the 1962 gathering at their Kent Woodlands home for December 15. Guests will be served cocktails in the garden room which overlooks the floodlighted grounds. Then the party will go upstairs for the dinner. Covers will be laid at the table for 26 guests. After the dinner it will be back to the garden room for dancing.

THE ANNUAL CHRISTMAS party of the Loma Verde Homeowners Association will be held at the Marin Golf and Country Club tomorrow night.

James Swenson, social chairman for the association, is general chairman of the party.

The semi-formal dinner dance will be preceded by cocktails at 7 p.m.

Assisting Mr. Swenson will be Mrs. Norman Roderick, ticket chairman, and Mrs. George Lambrix and Mrs. Leland Beringer who are in charge of decorations and awards. Two fir trees will be given away during the evening.

MR. AND MRS. ASHOB SIMONIAN of Eagle Rock, Tiburon, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Joyce Ashley Simonian of Tiburon, and Charles Robin Dornbach of Belvedere. The young couple was married in Santa Rosa Nov. 27.

The bride is the sister of Rodney Simonian of Tiburon, a student at Tamalpais High School. The new Mrs. Dornbach is a graduate of San Francisco State College. She will teach school in Santa Rosa.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dornbach Jr. of Belvedere. He has a brother, Peter Dornbach of Belvedere. His paternal grandmother is Mrs. Charles Dornbach of San Francisco. The bridegroom is attending Santa Rosa College, which he left in 1959 to join the Air Force. He recently returned from two years with the Air Force in Greece.

DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM J. FERGUSON, who have a home on the Belvedere Lagoon, are giving a cocktail party Sunday for two couples who recently moved to Belvedere. Honored will be Dr. and Mrs. Rafael Bricca, formerly of San Francisco, and Dr. and Mrs. David Jesburg who moved to Marin from Southern California.

NEW RESIDENTS of Tiburon are Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Botsford, formerly of San Francisco, who have taken an apartment in Mariner Oaks.

VISITORS FROM TAHITI were guests of Mimi and George Berticivich of Tiburon. They were Madame Ladis Malinowski, Mimi's aunt, and Monsieur Christian Malinowski, an uncle. The visitors had come to the States to attend the wedding in Inglewood of Madame Malinowski's daughter, Maguy, and Pierre Van Hoefen Wysard of the Netherlands. The bridegroom is associated with Air France and the bride is a stewardess on TAI, the Tahitian branch of Air France.

During the Tahitian visitors stay Mimi and George entertained in their honor at a dinner. Other guests were Madame Marthe Grand who is visiting from Papeete, Mrs. Robert Burrell and Louis Drollet.

CORINTHIAN YACHT Club members will be entertained this evening at the annual egg-nog party given by the board of directors of the Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. Boyd Thompson is auxiliary president. Mrs. Allan Axford, hospitality chairman, is assisting her with the arrangements.

COUNCIL PREVIEW TUESDAY

Marin Motion Picture and Television Council has scheduled a film preview and "grab lunch and gabfest" Tuesday as a get-acquainted event, announced Mrs. David Lawrence, council president.

The preview will begin at 9:45 a.m. at the Fairfax Theater, after which the group will gather at the home of Mrs. Lawrence, 8 Alexander St., San Rafael for luncheon and discussion.

A YELPING SUCCESS

Admiring these little puppies at yesterday's holiday fashion show presented by the four member organizations of the Village Salvage Shop in Whitaker Hall of St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere are, from left, Mesdames David W. Allen, Frank Card and Fred Bullock. Modeling a dress for evening wear is Mrs. Eugene S. Kilgore.

NAN AND ANDREW Susac imitate pigeons—which are among the birds they will depict in pantomime at their children's mime show planned as a holiday season event in Mill Valley. Mime Planned For The Hot Cocoa Set

Marin Couple To Present Show 'Junior Cabaret Style'

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Penguins — ostriches — pigeons — a shark—the tortoise and the hare— and Punch and Judy. These are some of the creatures that will come to life for youngsters at the children's mime show Nan and Andrew Susac plan as a feature of the holiday season in Mill Valley.

Performances will be at 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 15 and 16 and 22 and 23 at the Gallery in Mill Valley. It will be set up cabaret style so that the children can sip hot chocolate and munch cookies while parents or other adults who are asked to accompany the younger ones drink coffee.

THOUGH THE HOUR SHOW is primarily for the kids, adults should find the performance of interest at a different level, for Nan and her husband bring a high level of talent, training and experience to their shows.

Nan might have been one of the noted actresses of today if it hadn't been—paradoxically — for a personal philosophy she developed about being an actress. For Dr. Roland Talcott, retired dean of art at Ithaca College, with whom she studied and appeared in public performances, felt she was destined to become one of the leading names on the stage. And he was responsible for her getting a variety of offers in New York.

"But I felt cultivation of all the mental and physical talents was necessary to become an actress, and finally that it was more important to be a whole woman than a great actress," Nan said.

To say that she cultivated all the mental and physical talents is putting it mildly.

Born in Buffalo, New York, at 16 she entered the University of Buffalo as a pre-medical student, found she wasn't suited to this field, and some years later was graduated with a degree in accounting. This strange situation had to do with conforming to her father's wishes.

BUT THROUGHOUT school the really important activities to her were acting in and directing plays, singing with a dance band and also studying opera and being on the girls' fencing and basketball teams.

She worked, acted and studied in theaters around Buffalo for three years, and it was while she was acting in a play directed by Dr. Talcott that she met her husband, a poet, playwright and actor who was teaching English and doing graduate work at Cornell University.

They were married in 1954 and went to New Orleans, where, while Andy was writing his first play, she acted in the Kittinger puppet theater in the French Quarter.

Both of them acted in Le Petite Theatre de Vieux Carre and the Gallery Circle Theater. At this time she starred with the noted television performers George C. Scott (who produced one of Andy's play) and Ed Nelson.

Deciding they wanted to live on the West Coast, they came to San Francisco to study with Walt Baptiste, who had a Yoga and health center there.

"WE LOVE the theater, but it isn't our driving force — that's to be whole people and whole means healthy," Nan explained.

For seven years while Andy, who is now a teacher in San Rafael's 3 R School, taught in private schools, Nan had her own theater school of mime in Baptiste's Academy of Integrated Arts and continued her study of Yoga and dancing.

A year ago in June, the Susacs moved to San Rafael, and their baby, Jenny, was born last January, becoming another experience contributing to her need to be a "whole woman, and affecting her thinking and working," says Nan.

"I believe my work is closer to nature and not so mechanical now, but I have to have more discipline," she said. "It would be so easy to slip into just a housewifely routine."

THIS IS HARDLY likely now that the Susacs have a studio in their home and hope to have their own mime theater. They are appearing in Andy's play, "Buffo and the Angel," Saturday nights at the Gallery through Dec. 22.

As an actress Nan feels she is now primarily a mime artist. This turn in her career was inspired by the great French mime Marcel Marceau. At first she used white face makeup like his "because it is a simple impersonal mask." But now she uses more of a Charlie Chaplin style makeup.

"I felt what I lacked and what the drama often lacked was the ability to meet the supreme test of being on the stage alone creating a whole world of props, scenery, music, or even words," she said.

NAN SUSAC will enact a series of bird pantomimes in the children's mime show to be given Dec. 15, 16, 22 and 23 at the Gallery in Mill Valley. Nan was photographed at the beach as she studied patterns of flight using sea gulls as models.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Parties To Precede Lagunitas Club's Formal Dinner Dance

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

The annual Christmas dance of the Lagunitas Club in Ross Saturday night will be preceded by a number of cocktail parties. Before the black tie affair the Jordan Martinellis Jr. are entertaining in their San Anselmo home. In Kent Woodlands there will be two pre-dinner parties. One will be given by the Philip McCoys and the other by the Frank Newtons.

THE CHRISTMAS Carousel, to be given for the benefit of Florence Crittenton Home, in the Fairmont Hotel tomorrow night will be attended by a number of Marin Florence Crittenton Circle members and their husbands. Mr. and Mrs. David Mushet of Belvedere and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Elbert Jr. of Strawberry will be at a table with Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Manheim of Tiburon and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Ross. They'll be joined by Dr. and Mrs. Craig Hope of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Rae Smith of Ross.

Messrs. and Mesdames Richard Gross Jr., Gilbert Pavlevsky and Allen S. Feder of San Rafael will attend the dinner dance as will Mr. and Mrs. Michael Harrington of Ross.

The carousel is sponsored by the San Francisco Circle of the Crittenton Home. Yesterday 36 members of Marin Circle attended the luncheon given at the Belvedere home of Mrs. MacBoyle Lewis.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Lee Miller (Carol Christ) will entertain at a Christmas Eve party in their new Terra Linda home. The Millers, who have two children, Richard, 6, and Russell, 3, formerly lived in Corte Madera.

MRS. LEWIS A. CLAPP of Greenbrae leaves by train Dec. 12 for the east. She will stop in Chicago, Ill., to visit Mrs. John Keleher, sister of the late Mr. Clapp, and her husband. Mrs. Clapp may go to New York for a week and then she will stay with her daughter, Mrs. Barbara Riegle, and her five children in Atlanta, Ga., during Christmas and New Years. Barbara is with the news department of an Atlanta radio station. En route back to California Kay Clapp will stop over in New Orleans for five or more days.

CAPT. AND MRS. Donald S. Grant of Fairfax are awaiting the arrival of relatives from Illinois. Mrs. Grant's cousin, Mrs. Harry Faust, her husband and their daughter, Marie Lynn, of Glen Ellyn, are arriving Christmas Eve and will remain through the holiday season.

MRS. JUNE SHAW Haseltine of Ross will remain home for the Christmas holidays as her two sons will be with her. Chips is a sophomore at University of Oregon and Arthur a junior at Humboldt Junior College in Arcata, will be home for the holidays. Missed from the family group will be June's daughter, Mrs. Lanser Hutchinson (Juneva Lanser), who is called Taffy, and her four youngsters, who live in Phoenix, Ariz. June was with Taffy and the children for Thanksgiving but as the children are so small, Taffy decided to remain home with them. Arthur was to have been an usher at the Marin Ball for the debutantes Dec. 20 but he has some mighty important finals at college so he had to decline the honor.

Marin Women

FASHIONS FEATURED

Bringing Figure Back Into Balance Helps Appearance

By PATRICIA RUSAK

TORONTO (AP)—"Why don't my clothes ever look like those I see in the fashion magazines?"

Many women, both those who spend a great deal of time designing and sewing their own clothes and those who spend hours shopping for them, have asked themselves this question.

And the answer is simple. Perhaps they have never taken the time to analyse their figure (its good points and its defects), their skin color and their personality.

A woman must consider all these factors in order to choose styles that are becoming to her, says Mrs. Loraine Scott, an instructor in the fashion department at the Ryerson Institute of Technology.

"The ideal figure is balanced in all directions and you should choose your clothes with the aim of bringing your figure back to the ideal." For example, if you are bottom heavy, you should choose clothes that will make you look broader in the shoulders to detract from the heaviness.

THE STRUCTURAL lines of any garment are most effective for bringing the figure back into balance. "With lines, you can lead the eye up and down or across the figure to any point you may wish to emphasize."

Long straight vertical lines and panels and the softer more feminine S-lines extending from neckline to hem lengthen the figure. The woman with the short figure should look for these lines in styling, while the tall woman should look for horizontal and oblique lines which make the figure shorter.

STRUCTURAL lines should be designed within the silhouette that best suits your figure. The tubular silhouette, such as that given by the straight sheath dress, looks best on the average balanced figure, while the bell silhouette, which widens at the bottom, looks best on the figure that is heavy through the hips.

A woman must be careful not to choose a fabric that will counteract the effects of the line and silhouette she has chosen.

A PLUMP or overweight person should stick to smooth-surfaced fabrics. Piles, shaggy materials and heavy tweeds, plaids and prints all add weight to the figure. Sheen surfaces such as satins, which catch the light and reflect it, also add weight to the figure and point up those features which are already prominent.

"Any fabric designs, plaids, stripes or prints, should be in proportion to your figure size." For example, a tall, rangy figure looks smart in a large plaid while a petite figure, in the same plaid, would look out of balance.

PLANNING HOLIDAY MEETING

Decorations in the Christmas theme will prevail on Thursday when the Marin Toastmistress Club holds its dinner meeting and Christmas party at Nave Lanes, Novato. Working on the party are, from left, Mrs. Travis Devin, club president; Carol Hagel, club representative and Mabelle Culpepper, charter president. Christmas will be the topic for the evening which begins at 7 p.m.

Chi O Alumnae Luncheon Set In Kentfield

Marin County Alumnae of Chi Omega will meet on Monday at the Kent Woodlands home of Mrs. Duffy Henderson. The business meeting at 10:30 a.m. will be followed by luncheon.

First on the agenda will be plans for Marin Chi Omega's annual fund raising event. The Marin chapter annually has provided camperships for blind youngsters to Enchanted Hills, and has helped an eligible student with expenses to enable him to become an American Field Service exchange student. This year's event will take place late in January.

The other topic of discussion will be the annual Chi Omega Christmas Party. Members and their husbands will gather to herald the holiday season on Dec. 14 at the Kent Woodlands home of the president and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Les Vogel Jr. Cocktails will be served at 7 p.m., followed by dinner. The party chairman, Mrs. Eugene Cates will be assisted by Mrs. R. D. Marshall.

Blue Birds Plan Events For Holidays

The annual Blue Bird Ball will initiate holiday activities for the Marin groups on Dec. 11 at the San Rafael High School cafeteria.

Mrs. Edward D. Noble, program chairman for District Four, has invited the pupils of the Leona Norman School to perform a sequence from their forthcoming production of the Nutcracker Ballet. The event will be held from 4 to 5 p.m. Mesdames A. J. Brinkerhoff and Warren Tracy are planning refreshments for the evening. The second and third grade girls will bring gifts and tree decorations which will be distributed to children living with foster parents by the Marin Welfare Dept.

Mrs. Jane Pike has arranged a Blue Bird party for District Two on Dec. 19 at 3 p.m. at the Greenbrae School. The girls will bring canned foods for the Salvation Army. George McKenna will lead the girls in Christmas caroling.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counselor

Severe Accidents To Child Can Be Caused By A Parent

Have you ever injured a child? I hope not. But thousands of parents do injure their children each year. I want you to meet "Betty" and "Jack."

Betty is five years old. She is in a cast from her neck to her knees and cannot move. Betty will be this way for a long time. She is a sweet little girl who tries to smile when you visit her. But she lives in pain. Tears break through, and she whimpers, "It hurts so much; it hurts so much." A stricken man, Betty's daddy stands long hours at the foot of her bed. He was swinging Betty around in a circle, holding to her forearms. His grip slipped. Betty crashed against a cement wall. Her back and pelvis were broken.

At 15, Jack has great bandages on his head. He lies without seeing anything or hearing anything. Now and then he moves a little. His lips quiver, his eyelids flutter. But Jack stays in his coma. Three weeks ago he was a big strong boy. During an argument with his father, his dad lost his temper. Jack didn't try to defend himself from his father's blows. Finally, his dad knocked him off from the porch. Jack landed on his head. There was a severe fracture, with extensive brain damage. Jack may die. If he survives he probably will be severely mentally retarded. When he found what he had done to his son, Jack's father tried to kill himself.

Betty and Jack are only two. As I say, each year thousands of children are injured by their parents. Most of them are hurt acidentally. A few are injured deliberately, by parents with diseased minds.

I have two requests. First, don't take chances with your children. Don't throw your little ones around, as Betty's daddy did. Second, if you ever see anyone abusing a child, call the police immediately. Thank you, friends.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "I think parents who abuse their children should be horsewhipped. Do you agree? —Mrs. L.R.

(A) No, because it would not help. Parents who abuse their children are neurotic or psychotic misfits. They need psychiatric study and treatment. Whipping them would only increase the hazard to their children.

Advice On Styles For Pearl Gifts

Planning to give pearls for Christmas?

Here's some advice on the best styles for specific ages:

TEEN-AGER: The short necklace, called the debutante style, of small graduated cultured pearls is the best way to introduce a young girl to her first piece of real jewelry. And this is a style that can be worn by her in later years as a bib with pearls and other necklaces. The circle pin of cultured pearls is another delicate, sedate design, flattering to a young girl.

WOMEN OF ALL AGES: The double strand choker is a prize gift. If she already has one, have a special clasp made, or select from among many on the market which combine delicate pearls with other gems. If the budgeting is really tight, a single lustrous drop pearl on a chain makes a delicate pendant; simple ring with a solitaire pearl, or a single pearl bracelet are appropriate at good prices.

MEN: Tasteful, cultured pearl tie-tacks, stickpins, cufflinks and formal shirt studs.

Substitute Cream

Calorie-conscious coffee drinkers can easily make a cream substitute by mixing equal parts of instant nonfat dry milk and ice water.

Husband, Wife Are Named To Eastern Star Offices

Elizabeth and Tracy L. Mills of Corte Madera have been installed recently as worthy matron and worthy patron of the Mill Valley Chapter 219, Order of the Eastern Star.

Rebecca Robbins and Chester Dudley were hostess and host, and Lillian Silveira was chairman for the installation ceremonies and reception held at the Mill Valley Masonic Hall.

The installing officers group was headed by retiring worthy matron Lillian Feder and retiring worthy patron Elmer H. Julian.

Other 1963 officers installed were Edith Hess, associate matron; William Niehoff, associate patron; Susan L. Grube, secretary; Connie Burt, treasurer; Hazel Robinson, conductress; Berenice Niehoff, associate conductress; Edward Robbins, chaplain; Lillian Feder, marshal; Laura McCourtney, organist; Ruth Dudley, warden; and Wesley V. Smith, sentinel.

New star points taking over their duties were Grace Wallis, Adah; Helen Gelardi, Ruth; Louise Briston, Esther; Olive Hantzsche, Martha; and Vie Irwin, Electa.

Vocal soloist during the ceremonies was Carroll Solo.

Assisting Mrs. Silveira with the reception were Marlene Mills, Erma Julian and Connie Burt.

Conflicting Sets of Motives Cause Teen-Agers To Worry

"My teen-age sons worry a lot about sex," a father writes. "They confide in me. They're even more preoccupied with forbidden subjects than I was. Are all boys this way nowadays. What advice can you give them?"

Your sons are not unusual. Nearly all boys worry about sex, so do many girls. Your sons have two conflicting sets of motives within them. Their bodies are ready for reproductive activities. Their instincts impel them toward promiscuity. They are stimulated by advertisements, movies, books, magazines. If they do what comes naturally they'll be young wolves, always on the make.

But they also have consciences and know what is right and what is wrong. They have feelings for God and for the religious standards we've taught them. They realize that decent boys aren't on the make. Knowing that it will be years until they can marry and have a legitimate outlet to their sex drives, they're frustrated and worried. It is not easy for modern teen-agers to live up to their ideals. I have three suggestions for all well-raised teen-age males.

1. Try not to dwell upon sex. Try not to daydream. Divert your attention to school work or athletics or social activities. Preoccupation with sex exaggerates your problems.

2. Find your friends and your social life among decent kids. Avoid the ones who drink or pet, or go the limit. Church groups are the best groups of all.

3. Avoid situations in which your instincts will betray you. Don't go out with girls who have bad reputations. Don't park. Don't neck. Don't pet. Your reactions come like lightning. When you are aroused your judgment is weak. So play safe, always.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it more difficult for American teen-agers to stay decent nowadays than it was when their parents were in their teens?"—Mrs. J. N.

(A) I believe that it is. Today's teen-agers have to cope with an endless barrage of sexually stimulating pictures, movies, magazines, books. We were spared most of that.

Children's Theater Season Announced

Five professional plays for children will again be sponsored by Junior Theatre of Marin, with the season opening Jan. 5.

Mrs. Wallace Painter, county chairman, said that season tickets, at a substantial saving, are on sale in time for Christmas giving.

THE FIRST PLAY opens Jan. 5 with "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz," by the San Francisco Players Guild. On Jan. 12, "Jack and the Beanstalk" will be performed by the Lessalli Marionettes.

"The Magic Butterfly" will be performed on Feb. 9 by the Actors Workshop of San Francisco.

On April 6, "The Story Book Circus" will be presented by The Children's Theatre of the West.

The winter season closes with "Better Than A Boy," performed by The Masque Unit, the adult workshop of Junior Theatre.

ALL PERFORMANCES will be given at the San Rafael High School auditorium. There will be two showings each Saturday scheduled, at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Holders of season tickets will avoid standing in line. Single tickets, when available, can be purchased at the door.

For season tickets, area chairmen are:

Mrs. Irving Lipschultz, Belvedere-Tiburon; Mrs. C. C. van Vliet, Fairfax; Mrs. Lowden Jessup, Greenbrae-Wolfe Grade; Mrs. J. H. Marshall, Kentfield-Ross; Mrs. Wallace Painter, San Anselmo; Mrs. Charles D. McPherson, San Rafael; Mrs. Sherman Little, St. Anselm's School; Mrs. Allan Champie, St. Rita's School.

Mrs. Frederick Mehrten, Terra Linda; Mrs. Stanley Jacobs, Lucas Valley-Marinwood.

Mrs. van Vliet is ticket chairman, and Mrs. Lipschultz is program chairman.

Oehler Paintings On Display

While Mill Valley's noted artist Helen Gapen Oehler was on her trip to the south seas—from which she just returned last week—her work was being shown in three widely different places in this country.

Locally her oil "Fun" was one of the large canvases reproduced in the catalogue and displayed in the annual show of the Society of Western Artists at the De Young Museum in San Francisco. In New York City another oil, "The Pond," was being shown in the Allied Artists of America exhibit at the National Academy.

And one of her paintings of a scene she had done in Provincetown, Mass., has been added to the permanent collection there of Walter J. Chrysler Jr. It is in the museum he established to preserve records and documentary art of the art colony in Provincetown.

THE TRADITIONAL WREATH made by members of the Decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center for the 16th annual Greens Sale to be held Dec. 14, 15, 16 frames the face of volunteer worker, Mrs. James B. McKenney. Wreaths of dried natural materials and of fragrant fresh greens will be on sale at the event which benefits the Center.

PIXIE PARENTS' PARTICIPATION at the Greens Sale is in lining up and selling homemade pastries and candies in the Christmas Cupboard feature of the annual event. Red and white aprons and caps to be worn by the volunteers are tried on by, left to right, Mesdames Joseph F. Edelstein, Dan B. Williams, Robert H. Nourse and Robert C. Taylor.

Carolers To Open Greens Sale

The 16th annual holiday Greens Sale, sponsored by the Decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center will be held Dec. 14, 15, 16 on the center grounds in Ross.

The event will open at 6 p.m., Dec. 14 and remain open until 10 p.m. Hours on the weekend will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Northgate building and the Guild's own building as well as the Northgate outdoor area will be used for display and sale.

CONTRIBUTING TO the opening will be 30 voices of the Winifred Baker Chorale. The strolling carolers will perform from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

Mrs. J. Harrell Canon of Marinwood, president of the Decorators Guild said today that more than 200 women, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arvi E. Backman of Sausalito, have been working some time preparing for the sale. Many have been trained in the Guild's workshop in the art and technique of creating the dried materials and fresh greens decorations.

SINCE MIDSUMMER, volunteers have been gathering the dry pods, cones, driftwood, bark, thistles and teasels to be made by other workers into plaques, wreathes, small trees, door hangings and table arrangements.

Decorations of fresh greens will be made up just before the sale by 20 skilled artisans. This week other volunteers will collect the evergreens, including spruce, hemlock, pine, holly, mistletoe, magnolia, Juniper, and the tangy-smelling eucalyptus.

THIS YEAR'S SALE differs from those of previous years in that Friday night will be a sales night, not merely a preview party.

Assisting the Decorations Guild in making the sale a success and of greater interest to the visitor will be Pixie Parents, Inc., the Northgate Group, Ross Valley Players, the Marin Society of Artists and the Antique, all Center groups or affiliate organizations.

Pixie Parents members will staff the Christmas Cupboard sale of homemade pastries and candies contributed by Center members.

The Ross Valley Players have rounded up members to act as Santa Claus at the gift-laden Sugar Plum Tree in the Caroline S. Livermore room.

The Northgate Group volunteers will sell coffee and the Northgate Antique Shop will be open for buyers seeking unusual gifts.

THE MARIN SOCIETY of Artists "Gala Holiday Exhibit and Sale" will be open in the Frances Young gallery during the Greens Sale.

The dried arrangements and decorations will be on sale from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Decorations Guild workshop from today until the Greens Sale, and orders for fresh greens items will be taken, Mrs. Canon said.

Mrs. Backman's committee includes Mrs. H. Gordon Beesley, coordinator of the event; Mrs. R. L. Hibbett, in charge of decorating the Center trees and grounds for the sale; Mrs. S. LeRoy Winters, staffing; Mrs. Clyde B. Goerke, fresh greens gathering; Mrs. Fred H. Sloat, decorative eucalyptus-bark Yule logs.

OTHER CHAIRMEN include Mesdames Floyd Van Ogle, greens preparation; Victor Guilder, in charge of volunteers working with fresh greens; Francis L. Burt, C. R. Yopes, in charge of volunteers working with dry materials; and Mrs. Terry Van Gorder, publicity.

Profits from the Greens Sale and other fund-raising events sponsored by the Decorations Guild go towards maintenance of the Marin Art and Garden Center.

Santa's Dolls Range From Gurglers To Sophisticates

By GERALD S. SNYDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The most startling development in toyland these days is a new high in loquaciousness.

The newest dolls' voices have the pitch of a child of the age they represent, said Mel Freud. president of the Toy Guidance Council.

The baby doll gurgles, chuckles and responds in real "baby talk," he said. And the most talented talking doll of all sings and tells stories at length (the secret of her repertoire is a phonograph but she is not connected visually to the record player in any way).

Besides their vocal talents, dolls in toyland 1962 have achieved new standards of muscular flexibility, Freud said. They do ballet routines. They can crawl and wiggle. They even kiss with realistic effect.

The new born baby doll is red-faced and the six months old doll moves on all fours. Toddler dolls walk right along with their owners.

The biggest seller in dolls seems to be the counterpart of the baby. These darlings come in all sizes from as small as a thumb to as big as a real baby.

Care of doll bottles and wardrobes gives doll mothers a complete course in baby care training — handy when they grow into babysitters.

"Contributing to the interest of older girls in dolls is the development of the sophisticated or fashion model doll counterpart," Freud said. "These elegant creatures are outfitted with high style wardrobes amid accessories that in themselves provide a course in fashion coordination."

Doll hair, now made of a synthetic variety that can be rooted in the scalp so that it survives shampoos, has added still another area of fascination for older owners.

"Experimenting with doll hairdos," Freud said, "is a prime enthusiasm of millions of girls and the skill they develop unquestionably helps them handle their own coiffures with greater finesse."

Turkey Whist Party

Lusa American Fraternal Federation, Novato Lodge, will have its turkey whist party at 1:30 p.m., Sunday at Holy Ghost Hall, Petaluma. Joseph Secco is the secretary.

View Show To Salute Air Force

"'Tis the Season to Be Jet Propelled" will be the theme for Thursday's Fashions with a Viewpoint at the Ondine in Sausalito, with Mrs. C. F. Necrason, wife of Major General Necrason, Commander 28th Air Division, Hamilton Air Force Base, as special guest.

Models for the 12:30 o'clock luncheon salute to the U.S. Air Force will be Mesdames Roger Gibson, John Taylor, Charles Hauser and Oscar Unser, whose husbands serve with the Hamilton Fighter Squadrons.

Legion Auxiliary To Have Exchange At Holiday Party

A Christmas party and gift exchange will be held Wednesday by San Anselmo American Legion Auxiliary 179 at the Legion Log Cabin in San Anselmo.

The party will follow an 8:15 p.m. business meeting. Mesdames Walter Johnson and Lester Wolf are decorations chairmen. An original skit by Mrs. E. C. Greenwood will be presented. Mrs. Ernest Johnston and Dorothy Sollar are refreshments chairmen.

Senior Girl Scouts To Attend Conclave

Thirty-one Senior Girl Scouts will represent the Marin Girl Scout Council at the Bay Area Senior Girl Scout Conference at Asilomar tomorrow and Sunday.

Planned for the two-day conference are discussion groups on "Counselor-in-training," "Leader-in-training," "Aide programs," "Present, Past and Future in Scouting," "Public Relations," and "Scouting Abroad." Workshops in first aid, folkdancing, back packing, song exchange, compass-knot-lashing, and mariner skills will be offered. Each girl will have the opportunity to participate in two discussion groups and two workshops.

The Marin group is in charge of the evening program, as well as the "Scouting Abroad" discussion group. Representatives to the Bay Area Planning Board from Marin Council are Susan West and Jill Nelson.

Serving as chaperons for the Marin Scouts are Barbara Mugg, Sandra Morgenstern and Mrs. Per Rundberg, who will be a discussion group speaker.

Pamela Ann Miller To Become Bride Of Martin Hessel

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert E. Miller of Sausalito announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Anne Miller, to Martin Philip Hessel.

Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hessel, who are living in the Philippine Islands.

Pamela was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is in her junior year at the University of California, and her fiance expects to be graduated there in June.

The bride-elect has a twin brother, Bart Miller of Sausalito, and Martin's brother is Eugene Hessel of Seattle.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Legion Post, Unit Plan Holiday Party

American Legion Post 37 and Unit have planned a joint Christmas Party Dec. 18 at the Veterans Hall in Santa Venetia at 7 p.m. Santa Claus and a variety of entertainment is scheduled. William Wider and Mrs. Richard Harder are reservations chairmen.

NORTHGATE GROUP member Mrs. Dion Ramsey-Raisan will be one of many Northgate women who will offer coffee to Greens Sale customers at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, December 14, 15, 16. Mrs. Ramsey-Raisan, also member of the Decorations Guild which sponsors the sale, is joined by the president of the guild, Mrs. J. Harrell Canon, in the guild's showroom. You Can Use Empty Threat To Keep Defender In Line

Certain combinations of cards look very threatening. You can often rely on such a threat in the dummy to keep the opponents from leading a suit too early.

Take a look at dummy's hearts. No opponent can be enthusiastic about tackling the hearts.

FALSE THREAT

Use this false threat to develop your tricks.

When this hand was played in the national tournament in Minneapolis last summer, Lew Mathe, of Los Angeles, used the enemy's fear to make his game contract. Mathe began by letting East hold the first trick with the king of diamonds.

East switched to a club, realizing that it was futile to lead another diamond and not daring to lead hearts up to dummy's strong holding.

STILL TIME

South put up the ace of clubs and led the king of spades to force out East's ace.

There was still time for East to lead hearts, but he was still afraid. East led another club, and Mathe won with the king.

Now declarer could draw trumps and give up the jack of clubs to West's queen.

GOOD CLUB

This set up dummy's 10 of clubs, and the ace of hearts was still in dummy to let Mathe get there for the good club.

The crucial play in the defense came at the second trick, when East led the eight of clubs. West thought it was important to signal encouragement by playing the nine of clubs.

He should have played his lowest club to discourage a further club lead—and thus encourage a switch to hearts.

The principle of the scarecrow works at the bridge table as well as in the cornfield.

Today is Friday, Dec. 7, the 341st day of 1962 with 24 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Venus and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1808, James Madison won the presidential election, receiving 122 electoral votes to 47 received by Charles Pickney.

In 1931, President Herbert Hoover refused to see a group of so-called "hunger marchers" at the White House.

A thought for the day—Franklin D. Roosevelt said: "Never before have we had so little time in which to do so much."

Sonia, a Redwood High School graduate, is employed in Thousand Oaks. David is a junior at California State Polytechnic College. A June wedding is planned.

Jolly Rogers Plan Yule Party Saturday

Members of the Jolly Rogers Chapter of the Children's Home Society will hold their Christmas party on Saturday evening at the Olympic Club at Lakeside in San Francisco.

Mrs. Jack S. Countryman of Ignacio is party chairman. Arrangements have been made for dinner to be followed by dancing. Mrs. Countryman has been assisted by Mrs. Joseph W. Huffaker of Novato, immediate past-president of the chapter, and Mrs. Gordon Ness of San Rafael.

Chapter president is Mrs. Noel F. McCarthy of Northbridge. The Jolly Rogers sponsor many events throughout the year to aid the Children's Home Society, a state-wide adoption agency.

Marinites planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. George A. Barnwell, Dr. and Mrs. Dan J. Aughney, Messers and Mesdames Robert E. Kitchak, Walter W. Derr Jr., Joseph J. D'Andre, D. L. Ranis, all of Northbridge.

Also, from San Rafael, Messrs and Mesdames Robert Casassa, James L. Thompson, John Colombo, Jim Kean, Douglas R. Tangen, D. R. Ascher, and Paul G. Bates of Woodacre.

Day Of Prayer Is Set By Baptists

A world day of prayer will be held by the Baptist Women of Bethel Baptist Church of Novato at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Clark A. Wyly, wife of the interim pastor at Bethel Baptist Church will be the speaker for the morning program. Special prayers will be given for the mission field, Cuban refugees in the United States and the Chinese refugees in Hong Kong.

Jeanette Louise De Luca To Wed In May Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Lucian De Luca of Fairfax are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Jeannette Louise, to Stanley Robert Landucci of San Francisco.

The bride-elect was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and is employed with Crocker Anglo Bank in San Anselmo. David, Dianne and Linda De Luca of Fairfax are her brother and sisters and she is the granddaughter of Mrs. John De Luca of San Francisco and the late Mr. De Luca and Mrs. Alfred Bortoli of San Francisco and the late Mr. Bortoli.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Landucci of San Francisco, was graduated from Lincoln High School and is employed at the Paladini Fish Co. in San Francisco. Mrs. Henry Crossfield of San Francisco is his sister and he is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Landucci and the late Mr. and Mrs. William Byrne.

The wedding will be an event of May 11 at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax.

News Of Grandchild

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones of Mill Valley received news that they are the grandparents of a baby boy born Sunday to their daughter, Marjorie and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Crawford of Reno, Nev. The baby, who is the Crawfords' first child and the Joneses' ninth grandchild, has been named David. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford of Tiburon. The Crawfords formerly lived in Novato.

CCPT Board Gives Okay For Music Scholarships

The board of managers of California Congress of Parents and Teachers, meeting in Los Angeles, approved granting of four music scholarships for 1963-64. This is the first time music scholarships have been given under the honorary life membership projects, and they will be given to qualifying students who plan to teach music in the California public schools.

Mrs. George Alpers of San Rafael, special education chairman, reported that 38,700 students in the 188 school districts that chose to participate, were involved in the first year of the program for mentally gifted minors.

The program was authorized by the 1961 legislature following a three-year study by a state advisory committee to the superintendent of public instruction. Mrs. Alpers is a member of the committee as the representative of the CCPT.

The six types of program carried on were: 1. Enrichment in regular classes (extra work, depth, research projects), 2. Mail courses or special tutoring, 3. Acceleration, 4. Part time college classes in special courses (specifically for high school pupils), 5. Special counseling or instruction outside of classes, and 6. special classes organized for gifted pupils (part of the day).

Delladee Graves Engaged To Rollen Dale Brejcha

Announcement of the engagement of Delladee Elita Graves to Rollen Dale Brejcha has been made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Graves of Sleepy Hollow.

The bride-elect is a stewardess for Northwest Orient Airlines based in Minneapolis. She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the University of Arizona, where she was a member of Chi Omega sorority. She has one brother, Douglas Graves. Mrs. Olive E. George of Martinez and the late Rev. John R. George are her grandparents.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Brejcha of Western, Neb., attended the University of Nebraska and Los Angeles City College.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Children To Sing

First, second and third grade students will entertain members of the Del Mar Unit of the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club Dec. 20 at 2 p.m. at the school. Mrs. Harry Winblad, president, said that a short business meeting will also be on the agenda.

Exchange Students Added To The Cast For Show Tomorrow

Four Redwood High School students have been added to the cast of entertainment for the American Field Service family at 8 p.m. tomorrow, Mrs. George Banning of Belvedere, president of the school's chapter, announced today.

Exchange students from throughout the world will be introduced to the Marin public at the event in Redwood High School library. Entertainers added to the program are Nancy Breeding and Tina Schultz, who will sing international folk songs and play guitars; and Jeff Garrison and Twinka Thiebaud, who will present excerpts from Redwood High's musical, "Taming of the Shrew."

Adolescence To Be Topic Of Kent P-TA

The first in a series of discussions on understanding and guidance of the early adolescent youngster will be given at 7:45 tonight for parents of sixth, seventh and eighth grade children at Kent School.

The discussion, sponsored by the Kent School Parent-Teacher Assn., at the school, will feature Jack Williams, Kentfield School District guidance consultant, and Dr. C. Ray Leininger, pediatrician, who will speak on the psychological, social and physical characteristics of the young adolescent.

Another meeting in the series will be given in January.

SPORTSMAN IN WHEEL CHAIR

Dystrophy Victim At College

Although he goes to college in a wheel chair, baseball fan Stephen Ross is captain of a team that, for skill and devotion, rivals any baseball club in the land.

Steve's team, larger than the Giants, includes a bleacherful of College of Marin classmates, teachers, parents, neighbors, his therapist at Marindale School, and the Muscular Dystrophy Assn.

"Without the help of his friends, Steve simply couldn't go to college," said his mother, Mrs. H. J. Ross of Kentfield. "The other students are always there to give him a boost up the stairs and see that he gets to his classes on time even if it makes them late to theirs. The teachers are very understanding.

Stephen, 20, has had muscular dystrophy since he was 3, and has been confined to a wheelchair for 12 years. (The Muscular Dystrophy Assn. provides the chairs and other essential equipment.)

But Steve is a sportsman despite his handicap. He and his wheelchair have gone camping in virgin forests, fly-fishing in sky-high Soda Creek above Feather River, salmon-fishing in foul weather off the Oregon coast. At home and in season he rarely misses a baseball game, swims with his friends in his own back yard, plays chess, dominos, bridge, and the piano.

He's an enterprising merchant, too, with a thriving Christmas card business. Even five years ago, business was so good that Steve bought his half of a boat he and his father have used for lake fishing.

"He's busy every minute," says his mother, who finds "keeping up with Steve" a challenging and fulltime job.

When he was 8, Steve wanted to be a cowboy. His greatest triumph was a horseback ride with five other boys. Steve was strapped to the saddle, but he felt like a "working cowboy."

Now, a serious college student, Stephen Ross wants to be an architect, and works toward this end by studying hard, reading, and drawing everything in sight.

For Stephen and his hopes, and for those of the 200,000 other victims of this crippling disease, the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. maintains research centers and clinics.

The Marin Chapter of MDAA, headed by Paul J. Patocchi of San Rafael, will close its current drive for funds Friday with a sale at Village Fair in Sausalito.

Tiburon Peninsula Chamber to Install

Officers for 1963 will be installed tomorrow at the noon meeting at the Dock Restaurant of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, according to Stuart D. Burt, manager.

Reports by the harbor committee on highway expansion, Angel Island State Park expansion and the plans of the Tiburon Tidelands Co., will be presented.

Contributing Charge Against Man, 28

Alvin Lee Billbe, 28, of 128 Harbor Drive in Black Point, was jailed Tuesday night by Noxato Police Sgt. Robert Di Grazia on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old boy.

Billbe was freed on $525 bail and is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court Friday afternoon.

POPULATION FETE

County Is Mixed On Brown Holiday

Gov. Edmund G. Brown has proclaimed Dec. 31 a holiday for state employees, in recognition of California's passing New York to become the most populous of the 50 United States, but his proposal that cities and counties do likewise got a mixed reception today in Marin.

"Is population something to celebrate or deplore?" San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis asked. "I don't know."

However, McInnis said he would have the matter put on the council's agenda for consideration at its next meeting, Dec. 17.

Walter R. Castro, chairman of the county board of supervisors, also said the governor's suggestion would be discussed.

Supervisors will talk about it Tuesday, he said.

Governor Brown's claim that California has exceeded New York in population has been thought premature by many. Brown made the claim Nov. 17, but the federal census bureau has not yet confirmed it.

Most city officials reached today said the councils would probably consider the proposed holiday at their next meetings.

Mayor W. E. Radtke of Fairfax said he thought it would be only fair for city employees to get a holiday if state workers were having one.

"After all, it's not as if the city will stop running," Radtke said.

Contractor Director Installation Tomorrow

John O'Connell of Kent Woodlands will be installed tomorrow as a director of the Associated General Contractors of America, to the board of which he was recently elected.

O'Connell is a vice president of the Bechtel Corp. and a former president of the Marin County Hospital District board.

Expense Account Living Proving To Be Pretty Lively Corpse In U.S.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Expense account living is proving to be a very lively corpse.

It was pronounced dead when the Internal Revenue Service announced tight new rules for deducting a lot of such items from income tax returns.

The business lunch and the night out at the girlie shows were called doomed. But like a lot of other aspects of the American way of life that have been counted down and out, this form of free enterprise seems likely to be around for awhile. A bit tamer, maybe, but as a way of doing business still right in there.

The IRS crackdown, along lines decreed by Congress, brought more cries of pain and alarm than even the much lamented profit squeeze. Both get business right where it hurts.

And now the IRS is relaxing some of its rules and assuring businessmen they still can eat while talking business, even can take likely customers to a show, providing all concerned realize that it is financial type business that is the order of the evening.

The business lunch is subject for debate in corporate as well as tax collecting circles. Some company treasurers think executives eat awfully well while mulling over problems with their colleagues, competitors, customers, supplies, or branch office counterparts.

But the business lunch apologists have some answers ready. For one thing, the phone doesn't ring while they're talking—unless they're impressing their guest by having a phone brought to the table at a swanky beanery.

And a tough customer gets more genial after a cocktail or two and a gourmet lunch. Also, say the business lunch enthusiasts, often that's the only time they can talk to their man, protected as he is the rest of the day by secretaries, colleagues sticking their heads in the door, and by a waiting room full of potential competitors.

Finally there's the matter of good will. This is the hardest to explain to the tax collector. But if the business lunch guest goes home filled with kind thoughts for his host as well as with good food, days or weeks or even months later he may come forth with a highly desired order. Or he may give his erstwhile host a tip that can be translated into dollars and cents.

Right or wrong, taxable or not, it's a way of doing business. And large segments of American business—from a small town store's dress buyer to the president of a billion-dollar corporation—use it.

Free Movies Due Tiburon Children

A free motion picture will be sponsored by the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce on Dec. 15 at 1:30 p.m. at the Tiburon Playhouse as a Christmas present for children of the peninsula.

"Francis the Mule Joins the Wacs" is the picture which has been chosen. Members of the chamber will present the children with candy canes.

She Goes To Jail For Food

OROVILLE (AP)—Mrs. Esther Jenkins, 40, formerly of Chicago, threw a rock through a big glass window Tuesday night so she and her two daughters would be fed.

She was sentenced yesterday to 30 days in the Butte County jail after pleading guilty to malicious mischief.

In the same jail was her husband, Donald W. Jenkins, 46, serving a sentence for drunken driving.

ROOF, FOOD

"It was the only solution," the tiny, rust-haired Mrs. Jenkins told a newsman. "It is better than starving. At least I and my two daughters have a decent roof over our heads, and food."

The daughters, Penny, 17, and Pamela, 16, were taken to juvenile hall.

Mrs. Jenkins said Penny had undergone open heart surgery and doctors advised a milder climate, so the family came to California.

PICKING OLIVES

They found work picking olives and lived in a farm labor camp at Gridley.

Mrs. Jenkins said family funds ran out after her husband was sent to jail. She received $32.63 in county assistance, but no more because the family had not lived in the county long enough.

Mrs. Jenkins stood in front of a downtown hardware store Tuesday night with a one-pound rock in her hand.

Three men watched as she hurled the rock four times On the fifth attempt the rock smashed the $135 window.

Mrs. Jenkins turned to the men. "Any law abiding citizen would call the police," she said. "Why don't you? I want to go to jail."

One man sauntered to a telephone. Mrs. Jenkins waited until officers arrived.

Dog Bites Hand . . .

Yes, There Is A Real St. Nicholas, And His Goodness Is Well Known

By LOUIS CASSELS
U.P. International

Yes, Virginia, there is a real St. Nicholas. And today is his feast day on the church calendar.

St. Nicholas lived a long time ago, and the historical facts of his life have been heavily interwoven with legend. But we do know that he was elected bishop of Myra, a city in Asia Minor, in the year 325 A.D. And he was one of the church fathers who took part in the first Ecumenical Council in history, held at Nicaea in the same year that he became a bishop.

Legend holds that he came from a wealthy family and that his parents died when he was young. He inherited a large fortune, and decided to spend it unselfishly in making other people happy.

Many stories have been handed down about his kind deeds, which were always done as secretly as possible.

Once he learned that a poor man had three beautiful daughters who could not find husbands because they had no dowries. Under cover of darkness, Nicholas stole up to the man's house and tossed a bag of gold through the window. Their dowries provided by their unknown benefactor, all three girls were soon married.

Although it is impossible after 16 centuries to separate fact from fiction in the tales about St. Nicholas, it is obvious that he must indeed have been a person of rare kindness and generosity. Legends do not grow up around a man unless he's pretty extraordinary.

The good bishop of Myra was so revered by the people of his time and place that he was proclaimed a saint soon after his death. His fame evidently reached far beyond Myra, because a basilica was built in his honor at Constantinople.

The stories of his generosity were widely circulated over the early Christian world, and gave rise to a custom of giving anonymous gifts to children and the poor. On Dec. 6, the day which the church set aside to honor the memory of St. Nicholas, whom they called "Sint Klaes."

On American tongues, "Sint Klaes" gradually became "Santa Claus."

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

After 30 Years At Same Location, Hoy's Making Way For Progress

After 30 years at 912 A Street, San Rafael, Hoy's TV Service has had to make way for progress—construction of Wells Fargo Bank's new building.

Lee and Don Hoy have moved to 1113 Second Street and will have their official opening tomorrow night and all day Saturday. Open house and prizes.

In addition to servicing radios, phonographs, hi-fi, stereos, recorders and television sets they will now offer for the first time many of these things for sale. New home has off-street parking; front part will be used for a salesroom.

The business was started by their father Ralph D. Hoy (now owner of Hoy's TV and Music Stores) in the days when service work was still included repair of the old wind-up phonographs. Lee and Don took it over about 1945.

ANOTHER OPEN HOUSE tomorrow afternoon will be at the new district office of the Farmers Insurance Group, at 4240 Redwood Highway, just south of the Fairchild Semiconductor plant. Agents Kelly Simpson, Dick Lee, Don Shank and Nick Lopina will be on hand to greet visitors.

DICK SALTZMAN who's known to some as a musician and to others as a furniture man and interior decorator, and manages to occupy long hours in both capacities, will open as Saltzman of Marin at 1011 Magnolia Street, Larkspur, on Jan. 5. This is the former location of Inter City Furniture.

Dick has been with his father and uncle at Saltzman Brothers, San Francisco, for the past 15 years and during that time has acquired extensive experience with all types of furnishings. Saltzman Brothers is now in the process of closing and selling out its stocks.

Saltzman of Marin, an entirely new operation, will handle lines of quality furniture and carpets, feature complete room displays and a mobil decorating service. Balcony will be devoted to some unusual displays, one of which will be a replica of Dick's own home in Villa Real.

Store is presently open, but stocks and decorating are not yet complete. John Wasserman of Mill Valley is in attendance, sometimes Mrs. Saltzman. Until the 15th, Dick is spending most of his time in San Francisco.

MOTORCRAFT—Studebaker has introduced a new Lark Standard series oriented toward the fleet buyer. Models include basic features of the Lark line but will not have all the trim detailing. Available in sixes and eights. . . . American Motors reached a record high output of Ramblers last week, using a partial third shift. This week the assembly line goes on a full three-shift, six-day basis to match demand for 1963 models. . . . Generally, the auto boom has cut inventories of many dealers, with customers waiting three weeks or longer for delivery of some models.

BIG BUSINESS — There are more than three times as many beauty shops in Marin County as men's barbershops, and almost as many as there are practicing attorneys — about 100. All of them added together just about equal the number of Marin County real estate offices.

Chamber' Aide 'On TV

Jess J. France Jr., president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, will discuss a 10-point San Rafael program on "The Way to Progress In the Sixties" on the Community Circle program of KRON-TV, Channel 4, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Time Extension Asked On Small Boat Harbor

An extension of time within which to complete a previously authorized small boat harbor in Corte Madera Creek has been asked of the Army Engineers by Albert von der Werth Sr. of 105 East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae.

The project is near the bay about half a mile downstream from the bridge carrying Highway 101 over the creek. Revision of plans is the reason given for the desired time extension on construction of a bulkhead, installation of mooring facilities and dredging about 60,000 cubic yards of material to be deposited shoreward of the bulkhead and behind levees on the opposite side of the creek.

Any objections to time extension may be stated, on navigational ground only, in triplicate to the engineers at 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco, by next Jan. 4.

Banana Chips Popular

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Banana chips are a popular substitute for potato chips in banana-growing Ecuador. They are made the same way—the cook simply substitutes sliced bananas for sliced potatoes.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Ingredient Missing From Brown's Schools Chief Plan

In the wake of the bitterly fought state superintendent of public instruction election, Gov. Edmund G. Brown has announced himself as again favoring an appointive schools chief.

This isn't the first time the governor has favored making this job appointive. Formerly he felt the governor should appoint him, but now Brown says the superintendent should be appointed by the State Board of Education.

Appointment of the state superintendent makes sense, for he is primarily an administrative officer. And the appointment certainly should be by the board whose policies he is supposed to administer, the state education board. But one ingredient is left out of the governor's plan—the public.

At the present time, the only control the public has over their state school policies is by election of the state superintendent. They certainly took advantage of that power on Nov. 6 and declared in no uncertain terms the type of education they wanted their children to have.

Under the governor's plan, no member of the state officials directly guiding school affairs would be elective. The only influence the public could exert on schools policy would be through the governor. This would mean that school matters would become politically partisan, one of the things that most everyone wants to avoid.

There is a solution and it is this, rather than merely making the superintendent appointive, that we think the legislature should consider.

This isn't new, it's merely that the State Board of Education be made elective and the state superintendent appointive.

This would do several things. First, it would keep the voters in control of their educational system. Second, it would make the superintendent directly responsible to the elected board. Third, if the board were selected by some regional method, such is as used by the State Board of Equalization, no candidate would have to make the tortuous, state-wide campaign which so discourages state superintendent candidates now. Fourth, by electing board members, the public would be much closer to their school planning and the members would be much more responsive to public concern.

It is our contention that schools should not be moved too far away from the public. Governor Brown's plan, which includes lengthening the terms of the members so that no governor could appoint a majority, moves it even farther away from those most concerned, the fathers and mothers.

We oppose making the state superintendent appointive unless and until the state board of education is elected.

Christmas Cards And Status Seekers

Who among us has such limpid blood that he has not looked at his healthy collection of Christmas cards and thought, what a fine fellow am I to have so many friends?

It is like benzidrine to the ego. One of the many blessings of the holiday season.

We would like to be above such shallow thoughts, but must admit to a certain warmth of feeling at each card. We are remembered and we feel good.

Perhaps it is status seeking. Or maybe it's just human nature.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Will Less Than Half The Votes Select Our Next Congressman?

By CHAPIN A. DAY

One of the fascinations of politics is pre-election figuring, trying to decide how many people will go to the polls and who they might be. This is especially true in a special election like that facing Marin and other First Congressional District voters on Jan. 22.

'CHIP' DAY

The statistic is being tossed around that in a special congressional election like this, no more than 49 per cent of the voters have ever turned out in California. I have no proof of that figure, but I know of no instance where it has been exceeded.

Does that mean that less than half of the voters will decide our next congressman?

There are always mitigating factors. One, in this case, is the possibility that voters may still turn out "to pay tribute" to the late Clem Miller.

Another is that the battle may become so rugged and on such a high professional plane that an unusual interest will be created or that "professional" precinct workers will be paid by the parties to get out the vote, as was done in Southern California Nov. 6.

Then too, at least in Sonoma County something else will be on the ballot. Sausalito is considering using the election date too.

SONOMANS WILL be asked for the fifth time to vote on bonds to construct a new courthouse and jail. It will be a $4,390,000 bond issue, a duplicate of the one defeated last month by a 30,349 to 19,166 vote, just under 3,000 votes short of the needed two-third majority.

But will this hashed and rehashed bond issue draw out more voters? Nearly 10,000 fewer voters in Sonoma voted on the last bond issue than voted in the county's State Senate election. That doesn't show a fever pitch of interest.

HOW MANY VOTES will be needed to elect a congressman?

Let's see, there were approximately 200,000 cast in the general election, with Miller getting just over 100,000 and Don Clausen getting just under 100,000.

I'd make an estimate 60,000 votes would elect on Jan. 22. I'd wager that the winning candidate doesn't get that many X's and that if the two principal candidates get substantially the same number of votes, each will get well under that figure.

There's my limb and I'm out on it.

I DON'T KNOW whether you caught this political maneuver down in New Mexico.

The Republican governor was defeated for re-election. The Republican lieutenant governor didn't seek another term. But a Democratic senator had died, leaving a vacancy.

So the governor resigned just 32 days before the end of his term. The lieutenant governor became governor for the 32 days and as such appointed the ex-governor to the late senator's seat, which has two years to run.

And everybody was happy —except the Democrats who gnashed their teeth.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I was delighted with Mabelle Speckmann's report of my talk on Project Hope (I-J, Nov. 30), because the Hope deserves and needs all the publicity and support it can get.

It is important, however, that one possible misconception be corrected. Project Hope is a non-sectarian, charitable organization, and on the ship medical personnel of many faiths and of no faith worked side by side with equal commitment.

It is perhaps understandable that I, speaking in a Christian church, would stress the opportunities for Christian service, but the Hope is an operation that all people can and do support, making, whether they know it or not, a splendid witness to belief in the brotherhood of all mankind.

In Defense Of John Kaufman

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In defense of John Kaufman and in opposition to Mr. Ryan's letter of castigation, I submit the following:

I believe that the concept of God and his person (undefined in Mr. Ryan's letter) as interpreted and exposed by the world's major religions and denominations therein have done more harm and inflicted more injustices upon the human race than a legion of John Kaufmans.

Only when the wisdom and philosophy of deism as expounded by Rousseau and Jefferson is accepted and practiced by beings the world over will this earth and its inhabitants truly experience and enjoy more peace of mind . . .

More Worried By Over-Population

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On Nov. 29 you printed two letters bringing up that old dead horse fluoridation. I believe the issue is microscopic compared to a far more urgent and serious threat to us all—over-population.

I was and am against putting unnecessary poisons in our public water supply but I could be talked into placing just a little enovid in said public waters.

With or without cavities, it is the increasing number of people that I worry about.

The Scotch chemistry professor was demonstrating the properties of various acids. "Watch carefully," he instructed. "I am going to drop this two-shilling piece into this glass of acid. Will it dissolve?"

"Not a chance," spoke up one student promptly.

"Correct," nodded the demonstrator. "And perhaps you will explain it to the class exactly why it won't dissolve."

"Because," came the answer, "if it would, you wouldn't drop it in."

"Thank you for the pie, lady," murmured a Chesterfieldian hobo. "It was mathematically perfect." "Meaning what?" said the suspicious samaritan. "Meaning," said the hobo, "that if it was any better, you never would have given it to me, and if it was any worse, I never could have eaten it."

Sam Levenson reports that he received two alarming postcards from his boy in camp last summer. The first one read, "They say the flood probably won't reach our tent." The second said, "We have been taking some pretty long hikes. Please send my other sneaker."

Cost Increase For Hospital Stay Follows Salary Boost For Workers

As announced by surprise Nov. 28, it will cost $2 a day more to be sick in Marin General Hospital after Jan. 1.

I say by surprise because though I'd heard pay raises were in the works I had gathered they wouldn't be announced until February—and room rent hikes were not forecast.

The local hikes followed raises negotiated by union leaders for the already higher-paid workers in San Francisco hospitals, which upped rent rates so they're still higher than in Marin.

MARIN GENERAL'S pay hikes will total $60,036 a year —twice the total of the largest earlier boost I could find. Asst. Administrator Tom Broderick says this hike, effective in July, 1960, was a blanket 3 per cent raise following a job analysis and reclassification. He says these rates totaled $39,000 a year and room rents then were hiked $1 a day.

The current salary hike, effective last Monday, is an adjustment raise (Broderick corrected hospital language of last week which termed it a "cost of living" hike) of about 5 per cent (but ranging to 10 per cent in some lower categories) to keep the hospital "competitive" with other hospitals in pay.

A VETERAN observer said hospital officials had the hikes in mind for some time but didn't announce them before the general election of Nov. 6 for fear "they wouldn't get their people (incumbent directors Marion C. Ibach and Dr. Wilson P. Goddard) re-elected." He added: "They all do that — hospital boards, school boards. Plan things—then tell the newspapermen when they think it's safe."

When I asked Broderick why the boosts were announced when I didn't know they were scheduled, he said, "We didn't know they'd be pushed forward this fast." He said the operations committee completed its study of the San Francisco raises earlier than expected.

Administrator Bill Turner had reminded me several times in recent weeks that the raises were under study. The study presumably was still uncompleted when the directors met last week.

In the background of the pay and rent raises is the problem of keeping a staff. One gathers from a report last week by personnel director Robert Mathews that workers check in and out of hospitals as though they were motels.

"Listed below," says Mathews' report to Turner, "is an analysis of turnover statistics which you recently requested. As you recall, the year 1959 was selected to compare with the current year because in that year an outside management consultant firm stated that turnover (54.9 per cent!) was comparable to the hospital industry."

MATHEWS THEN gave figures showing that turnover in 1962 fell to 42.6 per cent, a 12.3 per cent drop, which would tend to reflect favorably on Turner's administration. Turner took office in January, 1961; Broderick the following April.

Mathews suggested "dramatic improvement" in worker morale could be effected by spending money to start a recreation committee for employees. Directors said they'd study this.

CORTE MADERA Note: In approving final parking plans for the controversial Madera Village Motel, the Corte Madera Town Council found itself voting against the position of Town Mgr.-Engr. Arthur H. Brandow.

He opposed the plans because by the time space was found for 128 legal-sized parking spaces, two areas on the southern driveway were made into loading areas. Brandow regards these as traffic hazards.

He didn't volunteer his position or argue with the council as local motel investors stood by demanding action. He just said, "No," then gave a brief explanation when asked whether he liked the parking plans.

20 YEARS AGO

Partial returns of a civilian defense census indicated a Marin County population of 65,000, which is 13,000 more than the 1940 federal census showed.

White House Now Controlling News Of Government To Great Degree

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shades are down, and have been for quite a while, on information the government is willing to make public. At this time they're not all the way down. They go down sharply in times of overseas crisis.

They did in both world wars, in the Korean War, when the American U2 plane was shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, at the time of the disastrous Cuban invasion of 1961, and more recently in the Cuban tension of 1962.

The Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have all been involved—when there was crisis and when there wasn't any.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S administration got sharp news media criticism for its handling of information during the October-November Cuban affair. It began easing up on those particular restrictions when the heat died down.

Then late last week Rep. John E. Moss of California, a member of Kennedy's own Democratic party and chairman of the House subcommittee on information, hit at the President and his advisers for management of the news.

He cited examples of news restrictions not connected with Cuba or crises at all:

Restrictions on covering underground nuclear tests in Nevada, secrecy about all military space activities, a recent blackout on information about Russian satellite efforts although the Russians know all about their own satellites.

"TO A REMARKABLE degree," Moss said, "the White House itself is retaining direct control over the handling of government information. Important news-making events, ranging from a backstage greeting by Kennedy to members of Russia's Bolshoi Ballet to the bomb tests in Pacific are under firm presidential control.

"This is not all bad, nor is it all to the good. When we realize what sort of news management is going on in Washington today, we'd better start considering what—if anything —we're going to do about it."

Almost exactly a month before Moss, on Nov. 1, criticized the Defense Department for an order requiring all its officials to report promptly to the Pentagon's public relations office the substance of all interviews with newsmen.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense in charge of public affairs, had put out the order Oct. 27. Moss didn't budge him.

When the National Editorial Association on Nov. 17 passed a resolution protesting Pentagon news policies, Sylvester 10 days later replied there had been a "great deal of twaddle" about his order.

But the whole reason for news restrictions—or lack of reason—lies between war and twaddle, between necessity and nonsense. It takes these main forms:

Withholding news which truly might endanger national security. No one quarrels in such a case, when it's real. Sometimes it isn't.

Because it is arbitrary to call some information secret when it isn't necessary, there is an unrelenting need for public vigilance. This is the root of the endless dispute with government.

THEN THERE is the Sylvester system of compelling officials to report on their conversations with newsmen. This may help keep top Pentagon officials informed on what their subordinates are saying.

But it cannot help but discourage those subordinates from talking to newsmen altogether. Having to report on what was said means extra work and could cause them difficulty if the boss-man thinks they talked too much.

Withholding information is also one of the neatest ways to cover mistakes. Kennedy said his administration would not conceal its mistakes. He himself frankly took the blame for the Cuban invasion fiasco.

Yet, by his doing so, the public was deprived of knowing who among his aides goofed.

The House Government Operations Committee, parent group of Moss' subcommittee, said in 1960 secrecy is "the first refuge of incompetents."

THE VERY TIMES in which we live complicate and torture the problem of withholding news. It is understandable in wartime. It is not at all understandable in peacetime. But we are in a period that is neither war nor peace.

In short, this is a moment in history when the government can release more news than it could during war but less than it could in peace.

Presidents Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy have all had to order some restraints in this cold war period, but ever since Truman began it, the government has been criticized for pulling the shades down too far for the national good.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Players Are Creatures Of Habit, Expect Losers Ruffed In Dummy

Bridge players are creatures of habit. They expect you to ruff your losers in the dummy.

If you don't ruff, you cannot have any losers.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

West opened the queen of hearts, holding the trick. South ruffed the next heart and looked around for a way to develop 12 tricks.

IF HE RUFFED

If he ruffed his losing diamond in dummy, he would wind up with a losing club in each hand.

There was no chance of deceiving the enemy if he kept the king of hearts in dummy.

The opponent with the ace of hearts would see clearly that he had to hold on to that card for dear life, and he would allow his partner to stop the clubs.

LOWLY DEUCE

The lowly deuce of diamonds was not as good a threat as the king of hearts, but it enjoyed the advantage of being concealed instead of staring the opponents in the face.

After ruffing the second heart South got to dummy with a spade and ruffed the king of hearts.

Then he ran four more rounds of trumps without bothering to ruff a diamond in dummy.

DUMMY LEAD

Actually, dummy had one more trump than declarer after South had ruffed two hearts.

When dummy led the last trump, South could discard a club from his hand.

The defenders assumed that South had no diamonds to ruff in dummy and that it was safe to throw away their diamonds and save their clubs.

This established South's deuce of diamonds as his 12th trick.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Dec. 6, the 340th day of 1962 with 25 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Venus and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1847, Abraham Lincoln took his seat in the House of Representatives as a congressman from Illinois.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt sent a personel note to Emperor Hirohito of Japan on the eve of Pearl Harbor, asking him to give thought of the threat of war.

A thought for the day—Joseph Conrad said: "No woman is ever completely deceived."

NOTICE TO PAY ASSESSMENTS VENETIA HARBOR SEWERAGE PROJECT

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all owners of real property liable to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the acquisitions and improvements described in Resolution of Intention No. 7365-B adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin on October 16, 1962, are hereby notified that on Nov. 26, 1962, the assessment and diagram to pay the costs and expenses of said acquisitions and improvements was recorded in my office.

Said assessments are due and payable immediately at the office of the County Treasurer and Tax Collector, Court House, San Rafael, California, and must be paid within the period expiring Dec. 26, 1962.

In the event of the failure to pay before the expiration of said period, serial bonds to represent the unpaid assessments and bearing interest at the rate of not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum will be issued pursuant to the Improvement Act of 1911, and the last installment of such bonds shall mature not to exceed fourteen (14) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next September 1st following their date. Said bonds shall be made payable to bearer and provide a premium of 5% of the unpaid principal thereof on call.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE OF SCHOOL DISTRICT BONDS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, at the office of the County Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of said Board of Supervisors in the Court House, City of San Rafael, in said County, California, on Tuesday, the 8th day of January, 1963, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock P.M. for the purchase of bonds of REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT OF MARIN COUNTY, State of California, more particularly described below:

ISSUE: $76,000.00, 1960 School Bonds, Series B, consisting of 76 bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, numbered B-1 to B-76, inclusive, all dated January 15, 1963. Said bonds are part of an authorized issue in the aggregate principal amount of $525,000.00, of which $449,000.00, designated Series A have heretofore been issued and $429,000.00 are now outstanding.

INTEREST RATE: Maximum five (5) percent per annum, payable annually for the first year on January 15, 1964, and semi-annually thereafter on January 15th and July 15th in each year. Bidders must specify the rate of interest which the bonds hereby offered for sale shall bear. Bidders will be permitted to bid different rates of interest and to split rates irrespective of the maturities of said bonds. The interest rate stated in the bid must be in a multiple of one-eighth or one-twentieth of one percent per annum, payable as aforesaid.

MATURITIES: Said bonds mature serially in consecutive numerical order from lower to higher (without option of prior redemption) as follows:

Principal Amount	1960 Series B Bond Numbers	Maturity Dates (Jan. 15)
$ 5,000.00	1-30	1964-1969
10,000.00	31-70	1970-1973
6,000.00	71-76	1974

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States at the San Francisco Main Office of Bank of America, National Trust and Savings Association in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, or at the option of the holder at the respective offices of the paying agents of said County in the City of New York, State of New York, or in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois.

REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said School District. Such bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said District on September 27, 1960 and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general obligations of said School District, and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said School District, subject to taxation by said School District (except certain intangible personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds, and in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the following firm, approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge: Orrick, Dahlquist, Herrington and Sutcliffe of San Francisco, California. A copy of the legal opinion certified by the official in whose office the original is filed will be printed on each bond at the expense of the successful bidder if requested in his bid.

TERMS OF SALE
HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals; provided that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given the Board of Supervisors notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared, which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event, the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County, and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of Reed Union School District of Marin County."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $2,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said school district from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the district on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the district. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said district or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Dated: November 20, 1962.

MARIN FILM FARE

'War Lover' Due At Rafael Theater

By LES DARD

Here's a rundown on what is playing at Marin theaters this weekend:

RAFAEL THEATER

An exceptional double bill of war pictures opens Sunday at the Rafael.

"War Lovers" is the new film version of John Hersey's novel about Buzz Rickson, pilot of "The Body," a B-17 flying bombing runs from England during World War II. Rickson, played by Steve McQueen, "walks that tight line which divides the psychopath from the war hero." He loves war so much he would be a lost man without it.

Robert Wagner plays McQueen's co-pilot and buddy. They share a romantic interest in Shirley Anne Field.

Co-featured is "From Here to Eternity," with Burt Lancaster, Deborah Kerr, Frank Sinatra and Montgomery Clift.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Advise and Consent," is now showing.

Franchot Tone plays a dictatorial, dying president; Walter Pidgeon is a sophisticated Senate majority leader, Charles Laughton a string-tie Southern senator.

Henry Fonda plays a rising young statesman whose loyalty is questioned, Don Murray an idealistic senator haunted by a youthful mistake.

MOTOR MOVIES

"The World of Suzie Wong," now showing, tells about a young artist who meets and falls in love with an Oriental floozy possessed of a heart of gold.

William Holden stars as the artist who winds up in the arms of the sullied Hong Kong beauty, Nancy Kwan.

For adults.

NOVATO THEATER

"Rome Adventure," which opens Sunday, is lifted above the average by (1) superlative photography in Rome and Northern Italy and (2) the emergence of Suzanne Pleshette, a radiant new star.

She plays an American tourist in Rome. Bored, she looks for culture and freedom—and instead finds romance. Masculine attention comes from Troy Donahue and man-about-Rome Rossano Brazzi.

LARK THEATER

Delightfully amusing is "The Best of Enemies," a tongue-in-cheeker about the British-Italian campaign in Abyssinia during World War II. There's not much funny about war, but wait till you see this one. It's in its third week.

David Niven stars as a British major and Italian comic Alerberto Sordi as a reluctant Italian warrior. When their forces tangle, a see-saw battle ensues in which the audience is never quite sure who's winning.

All this is resolved when the Abyssinians decide to move in, and British and Italians join forces against a common enemy.

101 DRIVE-IN

Two action-packed Italian pictures are showing through Saturday night.

"Son of Samson" stars Mark Forest as the son of the legendary strong man. He comes to Egypt as if in answer to the prayers of the Egyptians, who have been made slaves by the Persians ruled by Chelo Alonso, their queen.

Forest is saved from a lion's jaws by the queen's step-son, and the two swear a pact of eternal friendship. Forest returns the favor in the film's climax, when he overthrows the Persians.

Co-featured is "Last of the Vikings," with Cameron Mitchell and Edmond Purdom.

Three Marin theaters are closed for the Christmas shopping season. The Tamalpais reopens on Christmas eve, the Sequoia on Christmas day and the Fairfax on Dec. 26.

Science Fair Set

The tenth annual Bay Area Science Fair will be held March 30 and April 3 at the California Academy of Science in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. The fair will include exhibits from high school students in Marin County.

Marin MAGAZINE
Bright reading for the whole week
Featured this Saturday:
Russian-born Serge Trubach of Sausalito is an artist whose work sells. He is also a man who takes an active interest in community affairs, and who does not hesitate to speak his mind on either civic or artistic subjects. Independent-Journal reporter Phil Fradkin has written a "profile" of this colorful Marinite for tomorrow's I-J Magazine.
The Greens Sales conducted annually at the Marin Art and Garden Center by the Decorations Guild has become a Marin tradition. Mrs. Norman Livermore is one of the many Marin women who wisely rely upon the event for their holiday home decorations. Tomorrow's Marin Magazine takes you inside the handsome Livermore home for a look at its 1962 holiday decor.
And if you still haven't solved all your Christmas gift shopping problems, you will want to take advantage of the help available in the magazine's gift Christmas feature, with both guide pages. It's regularly pre-news stories and advertisements that provide you with a wealth of ideas on gift buys. It could save you a lot of worry—and steps.
Marin's own magazine . . . picturing and reporting life in Marin today . . . personalities, recreation, coming events, book reviews, gardening, music, home improvement, weekly TV log. A week of good reading. Look for it, Saturdays.

Young Taft Takes Seat In Congress

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Back in 1876 Alphonso Taft was appointed to the Cabinet of President U. S. Grant. Since then, except for a few years, a Taft has been a prominent figure in the federal government—executive, judicial or legislative.

Next January, another Taft will appear on the national scene. He is Robert Taft Jr., elected in November as congressman-at-large from Ohio.

"Young Bob" is the son of the late U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, three times an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for president but who became known as "Mr. Republican."

He is the grandson of William Howard Taft who served one term as president, was a U. S. circuit judge, civil governor of the Philippines, and chief justice of the United States.

He is the great-grandson of Alphonso Taft, who served as an ambassador in addition to having been a member of Grant's Cabinet.

"Young Bob," 45, served four two-year terms in the Ohio House of Representatives.

He is more congenial among those not his close friends and seems to enjoy small talk much more than did his father. Yet there still is some of the Taft aloofness in casual conversation.

His thinking on many political issues such as spending, taxation and foreign policy is close to that of his father.

"I have never tried to pattern myself after my father," he said. "After all, 10 years have passed and we have to think of the particular time."

Taft, who made his first political race eight years ago, was asked if he had long considered seeking elective office.

"I was brought up in politics," he said, "but I believe a man should have another way of life and I don't mean just in a financial sense. I like the practice of law and I like to know I have that.

"Without such a way of life there is the psychological feeling that you can't afford to lose and the pressure to follow the easy way is too severe."

There has been talk that Taft might seek in 1964 the U. S. senatorial seat now held by Stephen Young, a Democrat.

"It's too early to plan for 1964," Taft said. "Who knows, I might just get tired and decide to come home."

He says he is a firm believer that federal expenditures should be reduced except in the fields of defense and space age development. He does not favor tax cuts without a reduction in expenses. He urges an across-the-board reduction in government personnel.

As for the United Nations, he says: "I mistrust the U.N. as a major determining factor in our foreign policy, although I believe we should work through the U.N. to maintain contact with other nations. I mistrust the present administration's disarmament policy."

He does not believe the Republican party is as badly split between liberals and conservatives as are the Democrats.

"I don't see the Republican party veering to the right," he said. "I believe it will stay just about on the course it now follows and I believe the 1960 platform still is about the present policy of the party."

In the Ohio Legislature Taft was at his best in working with subcommitteees to iron out difficulties in controversial legislation.

When the new congressman goes to Washington he will join his brother, William H. Taft III; a former ambassador to Ireland, who is now assigned to the U. S. Information Agency's selection agency to screen personnel for promotion.

"Young Bob" and Mrs. Taft, a former New Yorker, have four children. Robert II is a senior at Yale; Sarah Butler, 19, is a sophomore at Radcliffe; Deborah, 16, is a junior at Concord Academy in Concord, Mass. The youngest child, Jonathan, 8, will accompany his parents to Washington.

NEXT 20 YEARS CALLED BAY AREA'S GOLDEN ERA

The next 20 years will be a "new golden era" for the San Francisco Bay Area, Stanley E. McCaffrey, president of the San Francisco Bay Area Council, told the Sausalito Rotary Club luncheon at the Alta Mira Hotel yesterday.

McCaffrey said he believed there will be more change during the next decade than has been experienced in the past 100 years.

He estimated Bay Area population at four million people now, and said this should double by 1980.

Hope that Marin County will finally be included in a rapid transit system of the future was voiced by McCaffrey, who said that approval of the system by voters of Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco counties is "one of the greatest actions ever taken" in this area.

As result of this approval, the speaker said, many industrial firms in various parts of the United States have inquired about locations here.

Getting People Off Relief, On Pay Roles

CHICAGO (AP)—Clarence Wallace took a wrong turn in the road of life when he was in the primer stage in school.

Wallace, who was born on a farm in the hill country of Tennessee, never got back to school. In time he became a common laborer. A heart condition ultimately ended his ability to lift and tote. Seven months ago he went on relief in Chicago.

Now this ruddy, beefy man of 53 is back in school. He and his classmates study at the level of the first three elementary grades. Two evenings a week they sit in straight-back wooden chairs in Room 124 in Lake View High School. They look at the teacher and, beyond, to a blackboard bearing such chalked sentences as: "The little dog will jump."

"I know figures," Wallace said, "but I can't read and write. You can't get a job if you can't even write your name."

Wallace, a bachelor, dreams of learning the first two R's and then finding a job in a plant where machines provide the muscle.

Wallace is one of 282,000 persons receiving some form of public assistance in Cook County (Chicago) — a number equal to the population of Dayton, Ohio, or Tampa, Fla.

A sampling of able-bodied reliefers indicated this fall that 50,000 are functionally illiterate. They read and write so poorly, if at all, that they have little chance of getting past the application blank desk of an employment office.

Raymond M. Hilliard, director of the Cook County Department of Public Aid, found the statistics appalling.

"If the staggering burden of relief is to be reduced," he said, "it is essential that the educational level of these people be up-graded."

So the department teamed with the board of education in a program they call unique—evening classes in public schools, ranging through the elementary grades into high school, to get people off relief rolls and on payrolls.

So far, 6,000 reliefers have enrolled and the number is growing toward the immediate goal of 10,000 and an eventual 50,000.

The staff uncovered one woman with an I.Q. of 128. Her long-range aim is a high school diploma and then college. Juan Mendez has set his sights much lower.

"I want some kind of job in a factory," he said, holding up his hands as if reaching for levers. "But I don't know how work machines. I get job when I learn English better."

Mendez, 43 and small, wore a neat gray suit with the large, pointed lapels that were in vogue 10 years back. He came from Puerto Rico nine years ago and drifted to Chicago. He lost his most recent job as a steam table attendant at a Gold Coast hotel. He and his wife, he said, have "11 children and one more coming."

He and his Spanish-speaking classmates sit in an English class in Room 326. The teacher holds up cards marked with letters of the alphabet, and the pupils repeat each of them after her.

"Buenos noches," she says.

"Good evening," a student translates.

"Como se llama usted?"

"What is your name?" another converts the question into English.

It's Now Possible To Remove Most Of Milk's Radioactive Strontium

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—Now it is possible to remove 99.7 per cent of radioactive strontium from milk. This will become important should atmospheric testing of atomic bombs continue indefinitely.

Strontium is a mineral which body chemistry deposits in bone and tissue just as though it were calcium, potassium and magnesium for which it has affinity. If strontium is radioactive accumulating deposits become a threat to health and even to life.

Radioactive strontium hardly exists in nature. It is "made" in atomic bomb explosions and comes down to earth in fallout. There it is taken up by grasses. Cows eat the grasses and radioactive strontium appears in their milk. It now is present in milk everywhere but at present in much less than "critical" levels.

The 99.7 per cent removal technique was devised by two scientists of the Danish Atomic Energy Commission. The best previous removal technique, which now is in the pilot plant stage, removes about 90 per cent. The Danes believe theirs is simpler as well as more thorough.

They obtained milk with a precisely measured radioactive strontium content by injecting radioactive strontium-85 into a red cow. Her milk was then subjected to three successive stirring processes with resins of atomic particles carrying a positive electric charge.

Each stirring was for 20 minutes. In the first two the the particles had been derived from potassium atoms. After the first the resin was filtered out of the milk and the second was with a fresh potassium resin. This resin was filtered out, too, and the third stirring was with resin of particles of calcium atoms.

Dr. A. Aarkrog and H. C. Rosenbaum reported to the technical journal, "Nature," that the thrice-stirred and thriced-filtered milk tasted so much like milk straight from the cow "a taste panel of 20 persons failed as a whole to distinguish any significant difference."

They said a question remained of whether their process removes some of the nutritional value of milk as well as 99.7 per cent of its radioactive strontium content. There also is a question about the chemical composition of this treated milk. Is it the same as unfiltered milk?

The answers to these questions are now being sought by the food and nutrition division of the Danish National Health Service, they said. An initial chemical analysis indicates the treated milk is deficient in some of the milk vitamins. If that is the only deficiency, the vitamins could be replaced.

Other nutritional factors will be tested by "pair-feeding" of rats, that is, one rat of each of a number of pairs will be maintained on treated milk and the other on untreated milk. At the end of a few months, scientists will be able to measure if the rats have been equally nourished.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Girl Upbraided For Hairdo

HURON, S.D. (AP) — Juareen Thompson, 17, has a conflict between school and career—it's her hairdo.

The Huron High senior was sent home last week by Principal Glen E. Peterson, who objected to her platinum mink-colored, upswept hairdo. Peterson said her hair stylist's creations "are too sophisticated for high school girls."

Miss Thompson models for the stylist, Kenneth Welker. He says she needs the hairdo for a contest this week. He suggested the principal start his criticism with women teachers who tint their hair "the worst shades of blue and purple I've ever seen."

White House Dog May Be Expecting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pushinka, the fluffy white dog that came to the White House as a gift from Soviet Premier Nikita Khurshchev, may be expecting.

"We'll know in about 10 days," said White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger.

Pushinka is one of three dogs owned by the president and his family. Khrushchev said that she was a daughter of the Soviet space dog Strelka.

Charlie, Caroline's Welsh Terrier, probably is the father, the White House said.

Collision In Fog

OAKLAND (UPI)—A 350-foot barge owned by Western Pacific railroad was damaged at 3 a.m. today in a collision in fog with the Matson Line's steamer, the Hawaiian, in San Francisco Bay.

The Coast Guard said no injuries were reported from the barge's crew of seven and an estimated 30 aboard the 9,981-ton freighter.

Pope Up And Around

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII left his apartment today for the first time since he became ill 10 days ago and prayed with the Vatican Ecumenical Council in St. Peter's.

Post For Mumford

NEW YORK (AP)—Lewis Mumford, critic and historian of architecture and culture, is the new president of the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

Awarded $130,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Zero Mostel, starring in the Broadway musical, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," has been awarded $130,000 in damages for injuries suffered when struck by a bus.

Back To Guantanamo

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Thirty-one Navy dependents leave here by air today to return to Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba.

They are the first of the dependents evacuated at the onset of the Cuban crisis to return.

Huge Tree Lighted

NEW YORK (AP)—Rockefeller Center has ushered in the Christmas season with the lighting of 7,000 clear bulbs on a 67-foot Maine evergreen in the plaza between 49th and 50th streets.

The tree is further ornamented with 5,000 gold-colored aluminum disks that reflect the light of the bulbs.

Moroccans Voting

RABAT, Morocco (UPI)—Moroccans voted in an atmosphere of tension today on a new constitution which would end the absolute monarchy of King Hassan II and make him a constitutional ruler.

The threat of violence hung over the balloting as opposition demonstrators clashed with police at the culmination of a three-day protest strike last night.

'No Extradition'

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — An attorney for alleged Nazi mass murderer Walter Rauff said last night Chilean law will not permit the extradition of his client.

Rolf Bucher, a German who practices here, said this country's laws require that charges of homicide must be filed within seven years. The wartime killings of which Rauff is suspected occurred more than 17 years ago.

UAR Twist Ban Lifted

CAIRO (AP)—The United Arab Republic has lifted its ban on the twist and twist records.

The government announcement yesterday said "freedom of the arts" is replacing "censorship in the arts."

The government more than a year ago imposed an official ban on the American dance on account of its "demoralizing effect on those who dance it."

Polio Makeup Turnout Small

The large percentage of persons who took Sabin oral vaccine on K. O. Polio Sundays was pegged today as the reason for the small turnout Wednesday on the first day of the makeup clinic at the Marin County Health Department.

Director of Nursing Margaret Hoff said only nine persons showed up to take type II vaccine. This type of vaccine will be offered at 920 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, through Jan. 31.

Type I will be given for those persons who only received type II between Jan. 2 and Jan. 31. Those who took neither type, will be given type I in January.

A HUNTING WE WILL GO . . .

Yugoslav President Tito posed with a rifle yesterday in brush outside a hunting lodge near Moscow. Tito, on a visit to Russia, went to the lodge with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Tito did some shooting but it was not known for sure whether he and Khrushchev went hunting or just went out for target practice. Tass picture was received by radiophoto. (AP Wirephoto)

Killer Smog Loosens Its Grip On London, Leaving 106 Known Dead

LONDON (AP) — The worst smog in a decade loosened its lethal four-day grip on London today, leaving 106 known dead and more than 1,000 in hospitals.

Dense patches persisted in parts of the British capital, but in most places the sun finally seeped wanly through a thin blue haze in mid-morning.

"London is like an oasis, completely ringed by a slowly clearing fog belt," said a spokesman for the British Automobile Assn.

Visability rose to 150 yards at London Airport, and weathermen said it should increase to an operational 2,000 yards later. At midday, not one civil aircraft had been able to get in or out of the airport in 88 hours.

Still fogbound in the Thames Estuary, downriver from London, were more than 170 ships, many carrying Christmas foodstuffs badly needed in the nation's shops.

Commuter trains into London were up to 20 minutes late during the early morning rush hour. Main line trains on longer hauls ran up to three and one-half hours behind schedule.

Hazy sunshine was forecast in most parts of the British Isles until nightfall. The prediction was that frost and fog would return during the night in patches in the southeastern part of the country.

At the height of it all, Sir Winston Churchill went out to dine at the Savoy Hotel with friends of the Other Club, an exclusive dining group he helped found 51 years ago.

Governor Discloses He Once Considered Not Running

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund F. Brown looked back and disclosed he once considered not running for re-election this year.

Then he looked ahead and listed the leading possible Democratic understudies for his job or for other higher office than they hold now.

Brown made it abundantly clear in an interview that he was not designating any heirs-apparent. The fact is, he said, he has given no thought to his own future plans.

What he did say was that Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, State Controller Alan Cranston and Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson were "all ambitious to move ahead."

That's true, too, of Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, he said, but "to a lesser degree." In addition, he characterized Assembly Majority Leader Jerome R. Waldie of Antioch as another Democratic comer.

Unruh, 40-year-old "Big Daddy" of Democratic politics; Cranston, 47, top vote-getter of the 1962 election, and Mosk, 49, have been mentioned as possible candidates for governor in 1966.

But, said Brown:

"There will be no laying of hands by me on these people. They're all my friends. But I can say this: The only way they can win is by doing a good job."

Brown's mood as he talked—with all the confidence of the man who beat Richard Nixon—was in sharp contrast to a black day in late summer of 1961, when, he said, he thought of quitting politics.

He had been shocked by a statewide poll which showed him 16 percentage points behind Nixon. One expert told him he knew of no case where a candidate had ever overcome such an early disadvantage.

Brown said he called his staff together and suggested that perhaps he ought to step aside in favor of another Democratic candidate. He said he suggested either Sen. Clair Engle or Cranston.

"I was really down," he said. "When I mentioned the possibility of not running again, the staff told me, 'Don't ever say that again'," the governor recalled.

It was then, he said, that he decided (1) to take off 18 pounds to get into fighting trim for the campaign, and (2) to take up temporary residence in Southern California in order to concentrate on that center of voting strength.

In the end, Brown defeated Nixon by nearly 300,000 votes. He credited the victory to Democratic unity, coupled with friction among top Republicans; the most intensive campaign in history; the fact that he had a record to offer and Nixon's attacks failed, and a hard-working staff.

Brown singled out his finance director, Hale Champion, a former San Francisco newspaper reporter, as the "master strategist" of the campaign. He had praise for others—particularly his wife, who spoke throughout the state to women's groups on behalf of her husband.

As for the future, the 57-year-old governor said it was far too early even to start thinking about a third term. He expects to back President John F. Kennedy for re-election, but the fact that both are Catholics would rule out any chance for Brown to be on the 1964 national ticket.

Carrie Nation, mother of the Probition movement, was born in Kentucky, the state that produces 80 per cent of the world's bourbon whiskey.

Woman, 24, Treated For Pills

A 24-year-old Florida woman, who said she didn't have enough money to take care of her children, swallowed two bottles of Anacin and Bufferin and was taken to Marin General Hospital yesterday for treatment.

Carol J. Anderson of Miami appeared at the office of the Marin County Welfare Department yesterday noon and asked that her two boys, 4 and 5 year olds, be placed in foster homes.

She was told by Mrs. Geraldine Chestnut of the welfare department she could be helped, but not yesterday, according to police.

GRANDI

Marin County Shrine Club. He was a member of Islam Temple of the Shrine and of Knights Templar, Mount Olivet Commandery 20.

He was chairman of the Marin County Committee for Fair Play in Housing, which recommended a county ordinance against discrimination in sale of real estate. The board of supervisors, which had appointed the committee, did not adopt the ordinance.

His son, Charles Grandi, recently brought his family from Hawaii to settle in San Rafael and become associated with his father's real estate business.

Other survivors include his wife; two sisters, Mrs. William Schultz of San Rafael and Mrs. Leslie Sorenson of San Francisco, and four grandchildren.

The family prefers that tributes be contributions to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in San Francisco.

San Rafael Man Thrown From Car

Frank J. Ward of 818 Rincon Way, San Rafael, was thrown from his small car when it hit a street guard rail on Highway 101 last night, but suffered only minor injuries.

Ward lost control on the California Park downgrade south of San Rafael. His car skidded 20 feet along the street guard rail before overturning and throwing him onto the highway, the California Highway Patrol reported.

He was treated at Marin General Hospital for head and shoulder bruises.

Child Molester Gets Probation

Theodore John Anthony Chisholm, 35, an employment counselor from Sausalito, drew two years' probation yesterday for molesting a 15-year-old boy at San Anselmo bus depot on Sept. 2.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court ordered Chisholm to refrain from excessive drinking and to take treatments for his alcoholic problem as recommended by the probation office.

Chisholm, who lives at 302 Third Street, Sausalito, molested the boy in the men's washroom of the bus depot.

Crab Fisherman Gets $150 Fine

A commercial crab fisherman who jumped the gun on the crab-trapping season was fined $150 in the Northwest Marin Judicial District Court at Point Reyes Station Wednesday.

Judge David R. Baty was told that wardens aboard the fish and game vessel Albacore investigated operations of Augustino Tarantino Jr. of Fort Bragg off Point Reyes Nov. 10, three days before the official opening of the season, and found him setting traps. He pleaded guilty.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY

Quiet Beauty

for families of every faith

Ninety years ago, Marin pioneers set aside this lovely site as a final resting place for all faiths.

Since then, Mount Tamalpais has developed facilities to meet each family's preference. Here are lovely gardens, the Angeles Garden or Memory Chapel mausoleums for above-ground burial, Marin's modern new crematorium, and the Chapel of Light Columbarium.

If you haven't visited Mount Tamalpais, you are invited to see the beauty of its typically Marin setting. Our staff will be glad to answer your questions.

Mount Tamalpais CEMETERY

At the west end of Fifth Avenue, San Rafael...only a short drive from any part of Marin County. Telephone GLenwood 4-3166

OBITUARIES

Charles Harney Succumbs

Charles L. Harney [illegible] the builder of Candlestick Park, died last night at French Hospital in San Francisco. He was 60.

The colorful contractor maintained three homes including a weekend and summer residence at 325 Hillside Drive, San Rafael.

Harney had been in the hospital since last September when he was admitted for treatment of a heart ailment.

A native of San Francisco, Harney was an enormous bankroller and sparkplug for the University of San Francisco, which he had attended.

Harney followed in the footsteps of his father and grandfather, who had been builders before him.

He attended St. Ignatius High School where he played basketball and football, but ended his college career at USF when his father died.

Harney became a multimillionaire builder. Some of his biggest projects, besides the Giants' baseball stadium, were Pine Flat, Holland and Trinity dams; joint ventures in West Pakistan's 354 million-dollar Mangla Dam project; and the 7.5 million-dollar double-deck Embarcadero Freeway in San Francisco.

The funeral cortege will form at 9:15 a.m. Monday at Gantner, Felder and Kenney in San Francisco and proceed to St. Ignatius Church for Requiem High Mass at 10 a.m. Rosary is set for 8 a.m. Sunday at the funeral home. Burial will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

PAUL JONES

Paul M. Jones, 67, a resident of Marin County for 50 years, died yesterday in a Springville hospital after a long illness.

Jones lived in San Rafael and Fairfax. He moved to Springville, Tulare County, two years ago. While living in Marin, he worked as a brakeman for the Northwestern-Pacific Railroad and as a painter. He was a native of Oakland.

Jones is survived by his wife, Lucy, of Springville; a son, Robert Jones of Santa Rosa, and a daughter, Mrs. Pauline Chase of San Rafael.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow in Porterville, Tulare County. Contributions to the Cancer Society are preferred.

T. M. PORTERFIELD

Thomas M. Porterfield, 52 Durham Road, San Anselmo, a 35-year resident of Marin County, died at his home last night after long illness. He was 62.

A native of Palmerston, Ontario, Porterfield moved to San Francisco 42 years ago. He worked for many years for Northwestern Pacific Railroad in San Francisco. Six years ago he began working for Bank of America in San Francisco as head clerk of exporting supplies, the post he held at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, Helen M. Porterfield of San Anselmo; two daughters, Mrs. Bert W. Howell of Mill Valley and Mrs. C. James Kealey of San Anselmo; a son, Thomas G. Porterfield of San Rafael, and eight grandchildren.

Private services will be held tomorrow. Friends may call at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael from 7 to 9 tonight. Contributions to the American Cancer Society are preferred.

RAY PAGE

Private funeral services for Ray Page, father of Mrs. E. D. Hodel of Ross, were held yesterday in Pacific Grove, Monterey County.

Page, former vice president and general manager of Nebraska Power Co., died Wednesday after a long illness. He was 75.

He had resided at Carmel Point since retiring in 1948. He was a native of Cotati and a graduate of University of California.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret; his daughter; a son, Thomas W. Page of Oakland; two sisters, Mrs. Ray Shumaker of Pebble Beach, and Mrs. Loyall McLaren of San Francisco; a brother, George Page of Carmel Point, and four grandchildren.

DE ROMANETTE

Funeral services for Marcel Rene de Romanette, 65, executive, former French army officer, traveler and diplomat, were held this morning in San Rafael.

Although de Romanette was in Mexico City when he died Friday and was never a Marin resident, he had been a frequent visitor to the county and the Bay Area, and it was his wish to be buried in Marin. Services were scheduled at 11 a.m. at the Harry M. Williams mortuary, with burial in Mount Tamalpais cemetery.

De Romanette was born in Bordeaux, France, and educated at the Sorbonne and St. Cyr l'Ecole Military Institute.

He served with the French army in World War I and spent several years in Senegal, Morocco and Algeria as a Foreign Legion junior officer. He moved to Canada in the 1920s and lived for two years in Montreal before moving to Regina, Sask., where he was Rumanian consul for western Canada and dian newspaper.

During World War II, de Romanette was a liaison officer with Gen. Charles de Gaulle in the Free French movement in Britain. He served in both the French and Canadian armies, and at one time was with the French military legation in Bucharest, Rumania.

After World War II, de Romanette came to the United States on a permanent visa sponsored by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) and signed by President Harry S. Truman.

For the past 14 years he had been an automobile executive in Mexico and on the U.S. west coast.

Surviving are two sons, Dr. John de Romanett of Pendleton, Ore., and Raymond P. de Romanett, a San Francisco business consultant.

HARVEY TADLOCK

Funeral services for Harvey Lewis Tadlock, 75, former West Marin building contractor, were held Wednesday in Pomona. Burial was in the Pomona Cemetery.

Tadlock died Monday in Santa Rosa after a long illness. A native of Kelseyville, Tadlock built a number of homes and stores in West Marin. He also worked in Pomona.

He is survived by his wife, Marie, of Cotati; a son and daughter, Lewis Winfred Tadlock of Tustin, and Mrs. George Dawes of Santa Ana; a stepson, Lt. Frederick L. Hollen of the Navy; a brother, John Carl Tadlock of Anaheim, and a sister, Mrs. Winifred Bensen of San Francisco.

21 Years Ago At Pearl Harbor . . .

ARIZONA GUARDED—Two U.S. Marines guard the lonely portals of the Arizona Memorial which stands above the sunken battleship at Pearl Harbor. The shrine stands as a monument to 1,102 men entombed in the ship and to all those who died in the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. (AP Wirephoto)

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP)—The "Day of Infamy" was marked quietly and without ceremony today while the Navy at Pearl Harbor turned its attention to sports.

On Ford Island, less than a mile from the black-scarred coast where the Japanese attack of Dec. 7, 1941, was centered, a nine-hole golf course was dedicated. A boxing program at Bloch Gymnasium, across the water from the sunken hulk of the Arizona, featured five amateur Japanese fighters.

There was no official recognition of the 21st anniversary of the darkest moment in U.S. naval history.

A small boat shuttled between the shore and the memorial, as it has done daily since last Memorial Day when the shrine was completed. A Navy official said larger-than-usual crowds were expected to make the trip. Otherwise activity in the busy harbor was normal.

Veterans groups, other patriotic organizations and individuals planned to take flowers to honor the 1,102 men entombed in the Arizona.

Although it has done so in other years, the Navy scheduled no speeches or ceremonies above the battleship. A new policy of the Navy department specifies that tributes to the dead of battle may be held only on Memorial Day.

The American Flag was raised over the Arizona at dawn—a daily ritual. The Arizona is considered still in commission by the Navy because her craw is aboard. Giant aircraft carriers, nuclear submarines and other modern warships pipe a salute as they move by her "berth."

The carrier Constellation—largest in the Pacific—stood alongside the Arizona yesterday and 4,000 members of her crew lined the deck to pay homage to the fallen warship.

The Arizona Memorial honors all dead of the Japanese attack. A total of 2,403 men perished in the terrible moments of a Sunday morning that marked America's entry into World War II. The Arizona died eight minutes after taking a bomb down her stack.

Four battleships were sunk, one was heavily damaged and three sustained light damage. Six — California, Maryland, Nevada, Tennessee, Pennsylvania and West Virginia—returned to carry the war to Japan. Only the Arizona and the Oklahoma, which sank while being towed to the West Coast, ended their battles at Pearl Harbor.

A former battleship, the target vessel Utah, was sent to the bottom in the attack. The Utah's rusting hulk still rests in the mud, a tomb for 54 men.

One man who "died" in the attack on adjacent Hickam Field recalls it took a few minutes to realize "it was the real thing. Most of us thought the Navly was doing some target practice . . ."

Chief M/Sgt. James I. Wells Jr. was a maintenance man at Hickam. He was listed as killed in action and memorial services were held in his home towns of Browder and Crofton, Ky. Wells, who lists his home as Jeffersonville, Ind., said a body was mistakenly identified as his.

"I get the feeling I'm attending my own funeral every time Dec. 7 rolls around," Wells said.

Adenauer To Retire Next Fall, Aide Says

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will retire from office next fall, the parliamentary floor leader of his Christian Democratic party announced today.

Heinrich von Brentano said the chancellor, who will be 87 in January, made the announcement at a meeting of party executives last night.

Brentano also told a meeting of the party's members in parliament the party executives had rejected a coalition government with the opposition Socialists. A new coalition with the Conservative Free Democrats, who quit the government over the Spiegel affair several weeks ago, was practically assured.

Adenauer's impending retirement did not particularly surprise West German politicians. He has been under pressure for some time from his own party to relinquish the government reins to a younger man. He has been chancellor for 13 years, since the West German Republic was inaugurated.

Completes Course

Pvt. John J. Keating Jr. of the Army National Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Keating of 949 Las Pavadas Avenue, Terra Linda, recently completed the automotive maintenance helper's course at Fort Ord.

HEAVY SNOW FALL—A car crawls through the heavy snow on a main thoroughfare in Akron as the season's first big storm dumped up to seven inches of snow on Northeastern Ohio. Several more inches were predicted for today. (AP Wirephoto)

First Huge U.S. Storm Of Season Continues To Pile Up Heavy Snows

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

The first huge snow storm of the season continued to pile heavy snows from Indiana to New York State today.

The wide band of snow, which stretched from the Great Lakes to the Appalachian Mountains, played a part in at least 22 deaths.

Olean, N.Y., was buried under 14 inches of snow early today. Elkins, W. Va., had 13 inches on the ground and an even foot covered Bradford, Pa., and Chardon, Ohio.

The Saginaw-Bay City, Mich., area had 10 inches of snow, as did the Tennessee Mountains and sections of Virginia.

Schools were closed throughout Northeastern Ohio, and parts of North Carolina and Tennessee.

A count for the entire nation listed 32 persons killed in weather-attributed mishaps.

Four of the deaths occurred in a plane crash in heavy fog at Los Angeles International Airport; the others took place in the storm belt.

Michigan counted six storm deaths, including a couple killed when their car slammed into a snow plow. Pennsylvania had five, Ohio, Tennessee and Illinois three each and Indiana and West Virginia one each. Six deaths were attributed to the weather in the New England states.

The snow and powerful winds—up to 50 miles an hour—blocked roads in the Catskills and Tennessee and Kentucky mountains.

The Atlantic Ocean storm, which finally passed harmlessly out to sea, brought four inches of rain to Tannersville, N.Y. Binghamton, N.Y., had wind gusts up to 63 miles an hour when the storm passed.

Novato Fire Group Agrees On New Truck

Specifications for a new fire truck, estimated to cost $10,000, were approved Wednesday night by the Novato Fire District commissioners in a special meeting at Fire Station No. 1.

The truck will be a brush-grass fire fighting rig. It will have a four-wheel drive, a 300-gallon tank and a high pressure pump system. No definite date was set for receiving sealed bids, but it will probably be in February, Fire Chief George Cavallero said.

NOT ETHNIC ORIGIN

Israeli Court Rules Religion Is Acid Test Of Jewishness

By LOUIS CASSELS

U. P. International

Is Jewishness a matter of birth or religion?

Jews have been arguing that question for several thousand years, and have never arrived at a clear-cut answer.

Yesterday the Supreme Court of Israel settled it—so far as Israeli immigration laws are concerned—by coming down on the side of religion as the acid test of Jewish identity.

But the court ruling (from which one of the five justices vigorously dissented) certainly will not end the controversy. So far as America's five and one-half million Jews are concerned, it is just another opinion in an ancient and perhaps insoluble debate.

The case before the court involved a Roman Catholic monk, Father Daniel, who sought Israeli citizenship under the 1950 "law of return" which granted automatic immigration rights to every Jew.

Father Daniel was born of Jewish parents in Poland 40 years ago. He became a convert to Catholicism in 1942, and entered the Carmelite order as a monk in 1945.

He contended that he is a Jew by "Le' Um," an unutranslatable Hebrew word which conveys the meaning of nationality or ethnic identity. The nearest English equivalent probably is "peoplehood."

The court held, however, that Father Daniel ceased to be a Jew when he embraced another religion.

During the argument of the case, the monk's attorney cited a rabbinical law which declares that any man born of a Jewish mother is a Jew.

But the state's attorney replied that this definition dates back only to the middle ages—not very long ago in the history of this ancient people—and that it was formulated not to give a Jew rights, but to prevent him from divesting himself from the burdens of Jewishness.

The state's attorney also contended that the religion of Judiaism is part of the "cultural heritage" of the Jewish people, and that anyone who repudiates that heritage by embracing a different faith has forfeited the right to be regarded as a Jew.

The court evidently found this argument convincing.

Its ruling will be welcomed by suchc anti-Zionist groups as the American Council on Judaism, which has long insisted Jewishness is purely a matter of religious faith, with no necessary relation to ethnic origin or nationality.

It also will be warmly received by many non-Jews, like historian Arnold Toynbee, who have warned that anti-Semitism feeds on the notion that Jews are a separate "race."

But it is not likely to change the minds of millions of Jews who—in actual practice—regard a person as a Jew if he is born of Jewish parents, even though he may have no detectable interest in or loyalty to the religion of Judaism.

Marin Tip Club Elects Byrer As President

Paul Byrer, a San Anselmo resident and owner of Marin Vend, San Rafael, was elected yesterday to serve as president of the Marin County Tip Club for 1963.

Other officers named for the coming year were Francis Jenkins, vice president, Abe N. Granish as treasurer and Stanley J. Mitchell, reelected as secretary.

The Marin County Tip Club was organized 10 years ago for the purpose of exchanging business leads and information among members in non-competitive fields of service.

The club will hold its final meeting of the year next Thursday night at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax.

Tiburon Tommie's Open House Celebrations Worth Attending

If you have ever been to one of Tiburon Tommie's open house celebrations, you'll remember it was well worth attending.

Tommie Cox has now been in business seven years but the anniversary coming up for observance Dec. 17 is his fourth with Johnnie Won as restaurateurs. Same as last year—time 5 p.m. to midnight. Tiburon Tommie's Pier 41—the Polynesian place on Main Street.

ANOTHER FOURTH anniversary this month is that of Rubini's in Fairfax under Dick Templeton and Gordon Jones. But no special festivities planned.

"Whaddaya mean, celebration?" queried Dick. "Practically every night we observe somebody's birthday here. No time for our own."

Just thought I'd mention it in case you want to give two nice guys your congratulations.

New wall paintings that went up for display this week are those of "Dorothy J." Beats me—she didn't say.

LIKE THE SEA, old ships and charts? Then you may enjoy browsing about Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, with its ship models, antique charts and colorful reproductions of famous ships and sea scenes dating back to the days of Drake and Raleigh—and Dominic himself.

Of particular interest: large oil paintings of sea scenes and personalities in the banquet hall. Paintings are exact reproductions — except for their large scale—of New England miniatures.

EXCEPT FOR Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, the Spinnaker, another nautical place, will be open throughout December. In fact, on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day. Tarantino's in San Francisco is closed the entire months — opens again Jan. 3.

CLAY WRIGHT of the Farmhouse (formerly Sundberg's Inn) in Olema has announced a Christmas Party buffet dinner for Dec. 15.

HABITUES of El Paseo, Mill Valley probably know the menu forward and backward—also that frequently there are specialities as Mary Harkins gets an idea for a new dish. But she doesn't like me to mention them. When I do, it's a sure thing, she says, that someone will ask for them when she's out of the ingredients—so I won't.

Anyway, it's better you were surprised. Fortunately there are enough items with familiar names and others with which to get acquainted that you'll never have to go away hungry or unhappy. It's all in the way Mary cooks them—direct to order. Nice wine list available, too.

AND THE PALATE in Mill Valley has completed its remodeling and will open tomorrow night with the first of its forthcoming Saturday night "Palate Parties." Program involves closing the restaurant at 9 p.m. when live music and entertainment will take over. Tomorrow night features Kenny Elmore and his trio. Entrance fee $1.50 but it includes free coffee. Prizes are awarded.

Remodeling has improved the acoustics, according to Farwell Taylor. There will probably be a special party here New Year's Eve.

ALSO IN MILL VALLEY, last spaghetti feed of the year will be held next Tuesday at the Office, from 6:30 p.m. to midnight. Spaghetti, meat balls, salad and garlic bread for 50 cents. A new pianist, Irene Baker, from San Francisco, will be introduced. Marin Aid to Retarded Children will be the benefitting charity.

Next spaghetti feed on Jan. 8.

PINKY'S PIZZA that recently opened another place in Petaluma is scheduled to open still another in Walnut Creek.

GOLDEN BEAR LODGE near Kenwood that is frequently patronized by Marinites closed its operating season with Thanksgiving. Open again March 1, 1963.

TIPS ON the Buckeye menu —tenderloin tips en brochette —served everyday on the complete dinner. Here's another for Sunday—beef roulade with red cabbage.

Tonight is the last night in Gertrude and Rudy Bush's three-day 25th anniversary celebration. If you decide to go, better phone ahead for reservations. There may be a lot of visitors—judging from Wednesday night's throng.

McKEE'S—a new spot for lunches and dinners in San Rafael's industrial section—at 721 Lincoln Avenue extension. Don Caseldine is the chef.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY — in fact, two of them. Henry's Ol' Place, San Anselmo, will do a little toasting to Henry Howard and bartender Johnny Young next Wednesday. They are celebrating jointly.

And on Dec. 15 Henry's Ol' Place celebrates its first anniversary under Kay Etienne and Howard Henry. Buffet dinner planned 5:30 to 9:30 p.m.—all you can eat for $2. Music and fun.

Beauty Salon Opens In Tamalpais Valley

Bonny Beauty Salon has opened at 381 Shoreline Highway in Tamalpais Valley. It is owned and operated by Mrs. Bonnie Sanders of 759 Marin Drive.

Hours at the salon are daily from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Thursdays. The shop is closed Sundays. Mrs. Sanders formerly worked at Fair Lady Beauty Salon, Fairfax.

Marin Dining And Wining

WINE CORNER

Zinfandel Is Found Only In California

The Zinfandel grape is found only in California, so far as the experts know.

At least it has never been positively identified anywhere else. It may just grow differently here.

This grape is credited to Count Agoston Haraszthy, the Hungarian nobleman called the father of modern viticulture in the U. S. A century ago, under a state commission, he went to Europe and brought back more than 100,000 cuttings of about 300 varieties.

The story is that the label on one of the varieties was badly smudged. As nearly as anyone could make it out it was "Zinfandel."

That is the name the variety has gone by ever since. Some think it was developed in Hungary. But there is no Zinfandel there now.

The grape bears well and makes a fruity red dinner wine that has become a great favorite.

Burma is an agricultural country, depending on one crop, rice.
